

Dance troupe will perform this Saturday

The famed Phyllis Lamhut Dance Company will be in residence this week preceding their performance at 8 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Hall and there is a scheduled lecture demonstration at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Hall. Also there will be an open master class Thursday; those interested may sign up at the Union Information Desk beginning today. A dancer since the age of 14, Phyllis Lamhut founded her own company in 1969 after studying with Merce

Cunningham and Alwin Nikolais and performing as lead dancer with the Murray Louis Dance Company. Lamhut has a versatile creative approach with a range that extends from pure movement pieces into the humorous and the dramatic. A self-proclaimed choreographic witch, Lamhut is always unpredictable in her choreography, verbal articulation, sounds and singing. — JED LELAND

Lab Theater play trilogy

By MARC ROUTH
Staff Writer

The UNC Department of Dramatic Art's Laboratory Theater presents three original one-act plays — Alligator Fever, Easy Come, Easy Go and A Big Ugly Kid in a Crowd — as the first production of the current semester. Performances are at 4 and 8 p.m. today and Tuesday in the Laboratory Theater, 06 Graham Memorial.

The works are the results of the play-writing class taught by Mark Sumner, director of the Institute of Outdoor Drama. Sumner revived the class because of the demand by both dramatic art and writing students. The reinstatement of the class brings the University theater department back to the days of Paul Green and Thomas Wolfe when the Carolina Playmakers produced original works written by students.

The story of a priest who sets out to smash mob control over the New York waterfront... and of an inarticulate longshoreman who slowly becomes aware of what he could amount to in the world. Jam-packed with realistic and emotional appeal seldom achieved in a motion picture, it shows the longshoreman shift from an "I'm looking out for me" attitude to a willingness to risk his life for what he believes is right.
