

Lacrosse stings the Superbees

By GEOFFREY MOCK
Assistant Sports Editor

The North Carolina lacrosse team turned in a performance — one worthy of its No. 2 ranking — that was marred only by a sluggish second period in defeating Baltimore 15-4 Wednesday at Fetzer Field.

The Tar Heels scored five unanswered goals in the first period but relaxed in the second period after Coach Willie Scroggs put in his second line. The Superbees responded by outscoring Carolina 3-1 in the quarter before the first line came back in to spark an impressive second half, in which Carolina outscored Baltimore 9-1. "The second line didn't keep the tempo going in the second quarter," Scroggs said. "They didn't keep the pressure going. Baltimore had nice organization and they nipped and tucked until they had a couple of goals."

The second half revealed that the Tar Heels simply had too much talent for Baltimore. Superbee coach Richie Meade, a 1976 Carolina graduate, said that Carolina's personnel were excellent. "They are well coached and well disciplined," Meade said. "There wasn't a whole lot that they could improve, except that they let us off the hook in the second period. When Carolina plays against better teams they will need to sustain the pressure better."

For its third straight victory, Carolina scored more than 10 goals. The attack was balanced with Monty Hill scoring three goals and Terry Martinello, Peter Voelkel, Doug Hall and Mike Burnett each scoring twice. Brent Voelkel, Ted Millsbaugh, Chris Mueller and Jeff Homire each added a score. Burnett led in assists with three.

Hill said the key to the offense's success was its ability to get the ball downfield quickly. "Goalie Tommy Sears does a good job of getting the ball out of the goal to the middies," Hill said. "We have a lot of speed and we'll beat the defense's slides with our passing and stick it in the cage. The way to beat our offense is with speed and with good defense by the middies and defenders all along the field."

On the other hand, the Tar Heels have had great success thwarting enemy clears and keeping the ball in their offensive territory.

Burnett and Voelkel provided most of the first period scoring. Burnett opened with a goal in the first minute of the game, and Voelkel scored both of his goals in the first quarter. Burnett also had two first period assists.

The only Tar Heels score in the second-period Baltimore comeback came from Hill on an underhand shot in front of the goal for a 6-1 Carolina lead at 7:56. Two Baltimore scores sent the teams into the half at 6-3.

Carolina ran off five unanswered goals early in the third period. Hill, Burnett and Voelkel each scored once and Martinello added two more to put UNC up 11-3 midway through the quarter, putting the game out of reach.

The defense shut down most of the Superbees' scoring opportunities. Sears had 11 saves in three and a half periods.

"Coach Scroggs is one of the best defensive coaches and his team reflects that," Meade said. "We had problems executing on extra man situations, but few teams in his three years at Carolina have scored extra man goals."

IM basketball championships settled

The action on the floor of Woolen Gym was almost as fast and furious as it promises to be in Philadelphia, although the stakes were a bit lower. Sixteen teams battled for T-shirts and bragging rights in the intramural basketball championships.

The finalists in each of the eight divisions were the last survivors in a field that included more than 450 teams at the start of the IM basketball season.

The highest caliber play was in a rough game between the Dental Healers and the Mudsharks. The two teams, representing the Dental School and the Law School battled it out for the Grad-Independent title.

The Healers led from start to finish. They held on to their 37-28 halftime lead to win 70-61.

The Mudsharks' impressive offense could not make up for a shaky defense. Randy Jones scored 19 points, Jim Crawford had 18 and Mark Gray had 16.

Mike Mayhew of the Healers led all scorers with 27 points. Mark Dale, former Wake Forest guard, had 17, Rob Prewitt scored 12 and Jack King added 10.

"We worked together as a team, with a lot of good passes," Mayhew said. "Last year we lost after having won this four years in a row, and since this is my last year, I really wanted this one."

"Next year they should tell everyone to wear pads," Dale said, commenting on the rough game.

The Has Beens, physical education grad students, defeated the Chicas de Balcontesta for the women's competitive crown.

The Chicas stayed close the first half and were only behind 25-23 at intermission. But the Has Beens' experience proved to be the decisive factor in the second half. They led by 20 points with a minute to go. Kim Grace of the Chicas sunk a basket at the buzzer to make the final score 53-39.

"We have a lot of individual talent, but sometimes can't seem to put it all together," said Grace, captain of the Chicas. "Bernadette McGlade (former varsity player) played a great game against us and her rebounding made a big difference."

"The key to our win was our team work," Has Been captain Cheryl Lissey said. "We had a lot of lay-ups and back doors because people were alert with their passes."

In the Residence Hall finals, the Lewis Sleehrats defeated Teflon, representing the sixth floor of Granville West. The Sleehrats were led by Gregg Page's playmaking and the shooting of Frank Hawkins, while Teflon was led by the outside shot of Billy "Magic" Branner.

Page's shot at the buzzer made it 30-18 at the half. Teflon came out strong to start the second half and scored five unanswered baskets to make it 30-28. But the rally fizzled, and Lewis dominated the rest of the game, winning easily 59-44.

"On our team, if one man is cold, another will take up the slack and make the shots," Sleehrat Joe Roseman said.

"We have an evenly balanced team and we wanted this championship more than anybody else," John Swaringen said.

Omega Psi Phi remained undefeated, beating Pi Kappa Alpha 54-49 in a close game to win the fraternity title.

The game was close throughout, with the lead changing hands often. PiKa's Randy Day scored on a lay-up to put PiKa ahead 22-21 at the half, but the Omega men dominated the boards in the second half.

"Tonight we won due to our strong inside play," Omega's Gregory Knight said. "Usually we score 80-90 points with a lot of fast breaks, but they also had a strong inside game that kept us from getting too many fast breaks."

In the other divisions, the winners were: women's rec: Jolly Netters, men's rec: Granville So-Scrubs, co-rec competitive: Motley's Crew and co-rec rec: Good Knights.

Softball gets gift against State

The softball team received a forfeit win Wednesday at Hinton James field when N.C. State fielded an illegal substitute at third base in the bottom of the fifth inning in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Tar Heels lost the first game in a close pitching duel by a score of 1-0. Winning pitcher Sue Williams scored State's run in the top of the first inning. Sharon Speer took the loss for UNC, even though she scattered 11 hits. Shortstop Laurie Bailey went 2-for-3 with a single and a double for the Heels.

The Wolfpack were ahead in the second game 3-0 when the forfeit was called. State got two runs in the top of the third inning on a double by Gwen Moseley that scored Sue Rizzo and Pat Pickard.

In the top of the fourth, State added another run when Brenda Allen doubled Gina Miller home. Allen was thrown out at third to end the inning on a peg by second baseman Janet Braxton to Cathy MacFarlane at first.

Though a win is a win, most of the team was disappointed that the game didn't continue.

"We were only behind 3-0 and I think we could have caught up," Bailey said. "I'd rather have won the game with runs instead of a forfeit, but we'll take it."

The Tar Heels go into the Western Carolina Invitational Tournament in Cullowhee this weekend with a 15-6 record.

"This tournament will be important for us," Coach Susan Clark said. "I'm optimistic about our chances in it and the way the team is playing, even though we would have rather won this game outright."
