

CGC kept steady summer pace

By ANN PETERS
DTH Staff Writer

Summer is a time when people tend to relax and take a break from the hustle and bustle of the fall. But the summer Campus Governing Council worked at a steady pace throughout the summer. A number of Executive Branch proposals and other Student Government activities were approved by the Council.

The CGC approved the appointments of summer Honor Court members and a summer treasurer. The Council also allocated $250 to send Tom Lathrop, town relations chairman, and Al Perry, national affairs chairman, to the American Student Association's National Convention held in Washington, D.C., July 24-28.

Another $100 was allocated for a two-year membership in the organization of more than 500 college and university student associations. The convention offered workshops on student aid and loans, race relations, handicapped students' rights and other topics.

The CGC allocated $440 for Dorothy Bernholz, director of the Student Legal Services, to attend the National Legal Aid and Defenders Association's Conference in July.

Four noise meters were purchased with the Council's allocation of $174. The meters are necessary to monitor decibel levels so that students will be able to comply with the Chapel Hill noise ordinance. The ordinance established varying noise levels for different times of the day.

Addition to the Carolina Union yields more space for campus organizations

By MARK SCHOEN
DTH Staff Writer

Several campus organizations have changed their addresses by moving into the new addition to the Carolina Union building, which was ready for full occupancy during the spring and summer.

The addition, which cost an estimated $1,750,000, will go a long way toward alleviating space problems that have plagued the campus in the past, said Howard Henry, director of the Carolina Union.

"Student organizations will find every available space and we're in pretty good shape with the organizations," he said recently. "Getting the spaces relieved a lot of crowding."

Campus media organizations occupy the majority of space allocated to student groups. The Daily Tar Heel (which in March became the first to make the move), the Yackety Yack, and WXYC are among the organizations which were awarded specially planned spaces.

Among the organizations which were awarded spaces by Student Body President Scott Norberg are the Phoenix, the Alchemist, Black Ink, SHE magazine, the UNC Marching Band, the Honor Court, the Panhellenic Council, the Interfraternity Council and the Student Legal Services.

Although the relocation process is likely to cause some confusion at first, the addition will be officially considered a part of the original building and will not be designated as an "annex," said Henry.

"Sometimes words like new or annex get rooted even though they are not valid descriptions," he said. "As the students start using the addition it won't make any difference.

"It's confusing but in the long run people will get used to it," he said.

In addition to space for campus organizations, the addition includes meeting rooms and a 400-seat multipurpose auditorium (where, among other things, the 1981-1982 Union Free Flicks will be presented), said Henry.

The opening has prompted some shuffling of organizations within the original Union building, he said. Alpha Phi Omega has been assigned the space vacated by WXYC. The Black Student Movement has been moved from Suite B to the Suite A office vacated by the Student Legal Services. And the Residence Hall Association office has been moved from Suite A to Suite B.

Smoothing out the process with the CGC will also be discussed, Wright said. Last year, complaints were made that CGC approval slowed the committee's work.

Wright said he felt band selection should be left up to the Concert Advisory Committee, Norberg and himself since too many people slowed the decision-making process. He also said he would like to involve individual CGC members in the work instead of having every step subject to the council's approval.

The newly-approved noise ordinance, which restricts sound levels above a certain decibel level, will not apply to the concert because of an exception made by the Town Council, Wright said.

Boulton to decide on Chapel Thrill

By ELAINE McCLOATCHY
DTH Staff Writer

In an effort to avoid the problems which kept last year's Chapel Thrill concert from taking place, Chapel Thrill Committee chairman Wes Wright spent the summer setting up tentative plans for the spring concert.

Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Donald A. Boulton is expected to decide this week whether to attempt the concert.

Last year the annual event, which features top name bands in Kenan Stadium, had to be cancelled due to a lack of bands in the area. The controversy arose over whether money in the Campus Governing Council general surplus fund should be invested in such a risky investment.

Wright said he, Student Body President Scott Norberg, last year's Chapel Thrill committee chairman Bert Johnson and Boulton had met during the summer to discuss the project.

Johnson has prepared a tentative budget for Boulton to examine, Wright said. The budget sets aside $50,000 for promotions, production costs, rentals, concessions and use of the physical plant. The cost for the concert was not increased much since last year and Wright said he had already talked to some organizations for donations. If Boulton approves Chapel Thrill, Wright will go before the CGC to get permission to invest the general surplus funds in the concert.

When the fund is invested in the concert, it is expected that most of the money will go back into the general fund through ticket sales, T-shirt sales and other concessions.

Wright said the committee was starting early to avoid some of last year's problems. In the past, Chapel Thrill has been an addition to bands' regularly scheduled tours, he said, adding that this year he hopes to get Chapel Thrill scheduled early. The early start should give the committee a broader selection of bands, Wright said. The committee is working through Beach Club Promotions again this year.

Smoothing out the process with the CGC will also be discussed, Wright said. Last year, complaints were made that CGC approval slowed the committee's work.

Wright said he felt band selection should be left up to the Concert Advisory Committee, Norberg and himself since too many people slowed the decision-making process. He also said he would like to involve individual CGC members in the work instead of having every step subject to the council's approval.

The newly-approved noise ordinance, which restricts sound levels above a certain decibel level, will not apply to the concert because of an exception made by the Town Council, Wright said.

Are you a prep(ette)?

See Section C

$16.50

A Distinctive Writing Pleasure
CROSS®
SINCE 1848
soft tip pens

The pen that is the master of distinctive penmanship.

The Cross soft tip in select and precious metals.

THERE'S MORE AT YOUR STUDENT STORE

DO YOU HAVE A VISUAL PROBLEM, OR PERHAPS WANT TO BE FITTED FOR CONTACT LENSES BUT CAN'T FIND THE TIME?

Drs. Connally and Adler can give you an appointment that fits easily into your busy schedule.

We are the only optometrists offering you evening and Saturday hours. Open Monday-Friday 8:30 am-9:00 pm, Saturdays 9:00 am-3:00 pm. You don't have to allow extra time to find a parking space. Plenty of free parking. You can find us quickly and easily. We are across from University Mall - next to NCNB. You're not far from our office. We're right here in Chapel Hill and on bus routes G, L and F.

Call us with your questions. 929-7111
We specialize in contact lenses.

Barry Adler, O.D.
Specializing in Contact Lens

David Lane
Licensed Optician

861 Willow Dr., Chapel Hill
Across from University Mall

Robert Connally, O.D.
Family Vision Care

Mary Garriss
Contact Lens Technician

Vice chancellors' positions among University administration changes

By ANN MURPHY
DTH Staff Writer

chancellor of university affairs earlier this year.

"At the Campus Y, I was part of student affairs," Elliot said, "but as vice chancellor I will be more involved in many areas that touch students' lives. I am looking forward to helping Dean Boulton and Student Affairs to meet the needs of students."

J. Lee Greene, who came to the University in 1975 as an associate professor of English, has been appointed assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Greene took a leave of absence in the fall of 1980 to work on a book about the black American novel.

On Sept. 1, Bennie D. Barker, a 1958 graduate of the UNC dental school, will replace Dr. Raymond P. White Jr. as dean of the School of Dentistry. Barker is presently the program director at the W.K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, Michigan. He served on the UNC faculty from 1958 until 1975.

Both of the University's military-related departments will receive new chairmen this fall. Colonel Paul Grimmig, U.S. Air Force, will join the aerospace studies department as chairman and professor. Grimmig, a Tennessee native, had served as executive to the Commander-in-Chief, Pacific Air Forces, at Hickman Air Force Base in Hawaii since 1979.

Alfred M. Koster IV joins the naval science department as a chairman and a professor. A member of the U.S. Naval Institute, Koster's intermittent sea duty totals nine years. He served as Commander-in-Chief of the U.S. Navy, Europe, from 1978 until 1981.

Newly appointed Chairman of the English department, Joseph M. Flora, came to the University in 1962. He has taught as the universities of Michigan and New Mexico, and has written several books on 20th century American and British literature.

In his fifth year as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Samuel R. Williamson has been reappointed for another five-year term. Williamson joined the UNC faculty as a professor of history in 1972. He is a former director of curriculum in peace, war and defense.

After 32 years with the University, Morehead Planetarium Director Anthony F. Jenzano Sr. will retire Oct. 1. In 1960 he initiated and directed the astronomical training program used for the astronauts of five missions between 1960 and 1975.

Shoes, Shirts, Shorts for Sports

SECOND SOLE

UNIVERSITY SQUARE

133 W. Franklin St. (Next to Granville Towers)

Back To School Special

FREE
T-SHIRT

This coupon is worth a FREE T-SHIRT when you buy any regularly priced athletic shoes (canvas shoes excluded).
expiration date (9/15/81)

Support March of Dimes

COPYIRON

Xerox 9500
Better Than The Best.
Period.

Opens September 2

Xerox Copies • Bindings • Passport Photos
Self-Service Copier - Needs No Coins

7 DAYS A WEEK

Call: 933-COPY

105 No. Columbia
Corner Columbia & Franklin