

Hinckly indicted by grand jury; arraignment next

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — John W. Hinckley Jr. was indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of shooting President Ronald Reagan, White House press secretary James Brady and two law enforcement officers in a March 30 assassination attempt.

The 11 men and 10 women on the grand jury formally returned the indictment before U.S. magistrate Jean F. Dwyer in a proceeding that took about one minute.

Hinckley, 26, whose father heads the Vanderbilt Energy Corp. in Denver, wrote in an unmailed letter to actress Jody Foster that he wanted to "get Reagan" to prove his love for her. The letter was discovered by investigators after Hinckley's arrest.

Since the shootings, Hinckley has been confined in a single cell in the brig at the Marine base at Quantico, Va., south of Washington, D.C., except for 4½ months of court-ordered psychiatric tests at the federal correctional institution at Butner, N.C. He was returned to Quantico from Butner last Tuesday.

The next legal step will be Hinckley's arraignment before a federal judge, where he will enter a plea of guilty or innocent.

If Hinckley pleads innocent, the court must decide whether he is competent to stand trial — a question that psychiatrists have been trying to answer. A report by court-appointed medical experts already has been submitted to Chief Judge William B. Bryant of U.S. District Court, but was placed under seal by the judge.

Hinckley's lawyers may raise the defense of innocent by reason of insanity in an attempt to have the former drifter committed to a mental institution.

Earlier, it was learned that government prosecutors had rejected a plea bargain offer made by Hinckley's lawyers. Under the bargain, Hinckley would have pleaded guilty to some charge in the attack in return for a government recommendation that he be sentenced under special provisions of the federal juvenile law covering persons up to age 26.

That arrangement could have permitted his release much sooner than normal. Hinckley was 25 at the time of his arrest.

If convicted of the charges against him, Hinckley could be sentenced to life imprisonment.

When Hinckley was arrested, prosecutors charged him with attempting to assassinate the president and with assault on a federal officer, Secret Service agent Timothy J. McCarthy.

At that time, no charges were filed in the shootings of White House press secretary James S. Brady and Washington policeman Thomas Delahanty, but those charges were included in the indictment handed down Monday.

Reagan and McCarthy have recovered from their wounds in the assassination attempt. Brady remains in George Washington University Hospital for treatment of brain damage, and he was listed in good condition after a Thursday operation. Delahanty still suffers numbness in one arm, and remains on sick leave from the District of Columbia police department.

The presidential assassination law, passed in the 1960s to give the FBI jurisdiction in such cases, carries a maximum life prison term as does assault with attempt to kill if a dangerous weapon is used. The assault charge involving McCarthy's shooting carries a maximum punishment of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The four men were shot at 2:25 p.m. March 30, shortly after the president emerged from the Washington Hilton Hotel where he had addressed a convention of building trades unions. It was the ninth attempt to assassinate a U.S. president. Four presidents have died in such attempts.

Since his last court appearance April 2 in Washington, Hinckley has been examined by three separate teams of experts at the 42-acre facility at Butner, described as a cross between a prison and a psychiatric hospital.

Hinckley is represented by lawyers from the firm of famed criminal defense attorney Edward Bennett Williams.

News in Brief

Iranians take Stockholm embassy

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Thirty Iranian students opposed to the Islamic regime in their homeland stormed the Iranian Embassy in Stockholm Monday and seized the ambassador and his wife to protest "fascist executions" in Iran, a spokesman for the students said.

Police said the students stormed the embassy and residence at Lidingo, an island suburb of Stockholm, about 9 a.m. — 2 a.m. EDT — taking Ambassador Abdol Rahim Gavaehi and his wife hostage. Police made no immediate move to expel the students.

The students' spokesman said the group represented Peykar and Fedayeen, two Iranian Marxist-Leninist groups opposed to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Moslem fundamentalist regime.

Carter begins visit in China

PEKING (AP) — Former President Jimmy Carter, who established formal U.S. relations with China, arrived for his first visit here Monday, saying he was glad to repay visits by Chinese leaders.

"I think one of the most exciting visits we had when I was president was the visit of Vice Premier Deng Xiaoping and all of his party," Carter told reporters at Peking airport upon his arrival from Tokyo.

He was met by Vice Premier Zhang Wenjin and was scheduled to meet with Premier Zhao Ziyang today in Zhongnanhai, the walled compound where China's leaders work.

During his 10-day stay, Carter also is expected to see Deng, who is regarded as China's top leader, although his official position is Communist Party vice chairman. Deng visited Carter in January 1979 shortly after relations were normalized. He gave up his vice premier's duties last year.
