

Liaison to aid awareness

Student Government link formed for students

By KEN MINGIS
DTH Staff Writer

In an effort to provide students with more information about Student Government and get feedback from them, a new Executive Branch Liaison Program has been started this year.

"There are almost 200 students in dorms, apartments and fraternities who act as liaisons for the students," said Liaison Program Coordinator Deborah Houston. "They keep the students aware of what Student Government is doing, and bring student concerns back to the Executive Branch."

"We feel like most students don't know what SG is doing," she said. "We want to bring Student Government into the dorms."

Student Body President Scott Norberg said he discovered the need for the program when he ran for office last semester.

"One thing I kept hearing was 'we never hear from you guys,'" he said. "This is an effort to build a link between Student Government and the students."

"This (government) is where it all starts," Norberg said. "We can do all the work in the world, but if students don't know what we're doing it's no good."

"It's a chance to get to students right where they live, and it gives them a chance to plug into Student Government," Norberg said.

But, student response has been light so far. "There hasn't been a heavy response from students yet," said junior Alice Hill, an area coordinator for several North Campus residence halls. "It's still early in the year, though."

"I've been getting information to my residents," said junior Bobby Hobbs, a liaison for 6th floor Granville West. "But, there still seems to be a lack of continuity between government and students. I want to fill in the gap."

"I'm not sure that everyone knows about it," said junior Dan Wiser, a liaison in Everett dorm. "If somebody has a problem, or question, we're here for them to use. Whether they do so or not is up to them."

The liaisons are responsible for posting a Student Government newsletter every two weeks, and for going around to the residents on an individual basis when necessary, Houston said.

The most recent newsletter was distributed Monday. It listed some of the Executive Branch committees and what they were doing.

"Basically, what we're doing is giving students the right to vote all year," Norberg said. "If they don't like something or have any grievances, they can register their opinion with the liaisons."

"That way, we will have some idea of what students are thinking," Norberg said.

Circle K to sell balloons at Festifall for charity

Selling balloons at this Sunday's Festifall to benefit the American Cancer Society is the first of many service projects sponsored by the UNC Circle K.

President Sam Reep said Circle K was "the largest collegiate service organization in the world." Sponsored by Kiwanis International, there are 53 clubs in the Carolinas district which includes North and South Carolina.

At their organizational meeting this week, Reep said Circle K was just going out in the community and seeing smiles on kids' faces, or getting a hug from an old lady in a nursing home. Providing college students the opportunity to get involved in their community, Circle K focuses on helping the elderly, teenagers and physically and mentally handicapped persons.

Projects chairman Pam Frazier directs the balloon sale Sunday, a UNICEF campaign at Halloween and the Spring Special Olympics. She said that during the American Cancer Society's "Great American Smoke-Out" last year, Circle K tried to get as many students at it could to stop smoking for 24 hours. Another project involved encouraging people to donate healthy organs.

"We're open to suggestions for projects both for service and fun," Frazier told the nearly 40 students at the meeting.

A Membership Training Rally is scheduled for Oct. 10-11 in Columbia, S.C. Workshops will be held for Carolinas district club leaders, new and old members.

Circle K meets Monday nights in the Carolina Union.

'4-H Expanding Horizons' — national week begins Sunday

By LAURIE BRADSHAW
DTH Staff Writer

The 4-H is not just for youth ages 9-19. The Collegiate 4-H Club at UNC is both a service and social organization.

"4-H ain't all cows and cooing," either. We want to help the public become more aware," Bill Larsen, the club's past president, said. "Surprisingly, not all 4-H'ers go to State or UNC-G."

"People are still thinking of 4-H as agriculture and home economics, but it also includes leadership and citizenship, among other things," he said.

"4-H Expanding Horizons" is the theme of National 4-H week, which runs Sunday through Oct. 11. "This is mainly a time when 4-H can become more visible to the public," Larsen said.

The Collegiate 4-H Club's motto is "Continuing to Share and Sharing to Continue." The club is a service organization for the University and for local 4-H groups, especially in Orange, Chatham and Durham counties.

The UNC 4-H'ers serve as resource people for the local clubs by participating in local 4-H publicity, giving workshops and helping start new clubs. Leadership and arts and crafts workshops have been held in the past, mainly for the Orange County groups.

"We have also served as judges for fashion reviews, poster contests and things like that," Larsen said.

The "Host Program" is one project the club will sponsor this year. It was developed through national collegiate 4-H.

The "Host Program" weekend is tentatively scheduled for Nov. 13 and 14, and is designed for seniors in 4-H clubs around the state who are interested in attending UNC, President Alice Smith said.

"The UNC collegiate club is the state's oldest," Larsen said. "Other clubs were modeled after this one."

"And 4-H is the only uniquely American club and the largest youth service organization in the world. It's larger than boy and girl scouts together," Larsen said.

Professor named as ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — David B. Funderburk, a history professor at Campbell College in North Carolina, was confirmed by the Senate Thursday to be ambassador to Romania despite a protest over an anti-communist book he wrote.

The Senate voted 75-19 in favor of Funderburk, who is 37.

Sen. Paul Tsongas, D-Mass., questioned the nominee's fitness for the post because of a 67-page book Funderburk wrote entitled "If the Blind Lead the Blind: The Scandal Regarding the Misteaching of Communism in American Universities."

All 19 votes against Funderburk were cast by Democrats. Twenty-five Democrats voted with 50 Republicans in favor of confirmation.

Funderburk succeeds O. Rudolph Aggrey as ambassador.

Elections take place in Iran

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Nearly 1 million Iranians chanting anti-American slogans mourned the victims of a military plane crash at a mass funeral rally in Tehran Thursday. The clergy-led government meanwhile took extra precautions against renewed street violence during today's presidential elections.

The fundamentalist Moslem regime of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini accused government foes of waging a bloody campaign of street violence to scare voters away from the polls during Iran's third presidential election in 19 months.

Hojatoleslam Ali Khamenei, 42, secretary-general of the ruling Islamic Republican Party, was expected to sweep the contest against three token opponents to become the first clergyman head of state. He would succeed President Mohammad Ali Rajai, who was assassinated along with Prime Minister Mohammad Javad Bahonar in an Aug. 30 fire-bombing.

PLO rocked by explosion

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A car-bomb explosion ripped through the nerve center of the Palestine Liberation Organization on Thursday, leaving at least 40 dead and 247 wounded, police said. The PLO said no ranking guerrilla was hurt, but another group said a PLO Central Committee member was killed.

Witnesses said the blast set off fires, reduced 60 cars to scorched metal, splintered telephone poles and hurled bodies through the air as it tore through PLO offices on Bustani Street in Moslem West Beirut. One explosives expert estimated 220 pounds of TNT went off.

'WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?'

Psalm 2:1 and Acts 4:25

"Ye that love the Lord hate evil... Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream!" Psalm 7:10 and Amos 5:23 and 24.

One may love the great hymns and music of the Church, but if one does not "hate evil" it appears God does not appreciate the music, and it is unacceptable!

"The heart in your bosom is a 'muffled drum' beating out a march to the cemetery for you!" When they take you and me to the cemetery for deposit, it is because our spirit has left this "home of clay" and gone to its "long home," and back to God Who gave it. The Bible tells of two different kinds of "long homes." One where "eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath entered the mind of man the things God hath prepared for them that love him." — a man's mind is not capable of thinking of or imagining the great good, joy and blessing of that home. We mouth much about "The love of God" but it would be well if we considered more "our love for God" and how in what manner it is manifested. Jesus Christ said that in order that the world might know that He loved God, He obeyed Him and did as He was commanded: "Arise, and let us go hence!" He arose, and went to meet the mob, the cross, as most of His disciples fled.

The other "long home" is the "lake of fire" prepared for the devil and his angels, for raging and unrepentant men and nations, for "God is angry with the wicked every day" and "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God." Psalm 7:11 and Psalm 9:17.

Should we not pray and Search The Scriptures in order to be fully persuaded in our own minds as to what is evil and offensive to God, and seek the strength of God to "resist the devil" and bear such a witness that men will know where we stand on every moral and spiritual matter regarding "The Law and The Testimony"?
