UNC students involved in minor plane crash

By LAURIE BRADSHER
Staff Writer

A plane carrying 15 members of the UNC Scuba Club crashed Friday, March 12, before takeoff from Bimini, the Bahamas. No one was injured.
The group was heading for Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. after a five-day diving trip when the 1943 model DC-3 propeller plane left the runway, leaving "one wing dragging in the sand and cutting off the grass," said Paul Tuck, a senior scuba club member from Buies Creek.

Tuck said there were no radio communications between Bimini and Ft. Lauderdale, and no rescue service or runway lights.

"All of a sudden, we looked out the window and saw the runway to our left and a lot of grass and trees. 'I think you missed the runway,' I said kind of loud," Tuck said.

"We walked halfway back to the airport and had to wait for a private plane to get to Ft. Lauderdale and tell them what happened," he said.

Richard Cecelski, a sophomore from Havelock, said

"We went off to the right and I saw just a bunch of grass (while he was) looking down."

"I tried to tell myself it was a side runway."

But the back wheel of the plane had broken and when the pilot put on brakes, one side of the plane locked up. "A lot of people were just freaking out," Cecelski said. "It really was close to being really bad."

Two or three hours later, a similar plane picked up the passengers and headed for Ft. Lauderdale.

"Everybody started cheering and clapping (upon takeoff)," Tuck said.

Zoology/Ecology Grads win grail title

A very wet softball opening highlighted this week's IM week as the transition between basketball and softball and the quest for basketball championships slowly continue.
There were a few championships decided. In the inaugural grail volleyball classic, the Zoology/Ecology Grads "Adaptations" defeated the Morrison C Alumni "NFLO Alumni" for the men's competitive title. Adaptation members are captain Mark Southerland, Bob Gentry, Phil Ganter, Brad Foster, Rich Lenski, John Pye, Doug Raper, Rob Edwards, Jerry Diamond, Ted Stevens and Patsy Goyert.
In the women's grail volleyball championship the Theta "Kites" defeated the "Serious Spikers." Kite members are captain Jane Snead, Sandi Campbell, Teresa Puckett, Jan Bohler, Laura Alexander, Aneli Zeck and Sandy Benson.
It was the "Set Ups," captain John Grisson, Max Spach, Frank Harris, Terry

Jones, Duncan Buoyer, John Crawford, Louis Abrahams and Mike Beck, over the Granville South "Nads" in the men's rec division.
Granville's "Ragin' Heathens" defeated the Craig "Out-to-Lunch Bunch IV" in the co-rec division. Heathen members are captain Don Shaw, Betsy Floyd, Allison Moore, Carolyn Moore, Johnny Chandler and Marty Pomerantz.
Tomorrow is the deadline for invertebrate water basketball and table tennis. The Sig Ep Softball Marathon starts tomorrow on Ehringhaus IM fields. The "Jumprope for Heart," fund-raiser for the American Heart Association will be held Saturday 10 a.m. in Carmichael and the kite flying contest is Sunday 1 p.m. on Carmichael IM fields.
Deadline for the Bahamas Sailing Trip is Wednesday and the IM gymnastics meet is Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., 112 Fetzer.
