Terrorists release fourth hostage

BERN, Switzerland — Terrorists threatening to blow up the Polish Embassy, eight hostages and themselves have extended by 48 hours their deadline for Poland to end martial-law rule and free all political prisoners, the government reported Tuesday night.

The gunmen occupying the embassy released a fourth hostage late Tuesday. He was identified as a 20-year-old Polish student who was in the building when it was taken over by the raiders Monday. Three women were freed earlier.

A government communique said the deadline extension and the student's release were obtained after "intensive negotiations."

Playing a key role in the talks is an 80-year-old Polish-born theologian, Professor Joseph M. Bochenski, a resident of Switzerland. He spent an hour in the embassy Tuesday in the first face-to-face negotiations with the gunmen.

The government spokesmen refused to reveal details of the meeting.

The terrorists, who still hold at least eight hostages, originally issued an ultimatum saying they would blow up the building at 10 a.m. Wednesday - 4 a.m. EDT - if Poland's communist government did not meet their demands.

In Warsaw, the Foreign Ministry gave its formal permission for Swiss police to move into the embassy, which has extraterritorial status. It also asked Switzerland to permit Poland to send a "special group" here to help end the siege. It is believed the group would include members of an anti-terrorist commando squad.

Ulrich Hubacher, spokesman for Swiss federal police, has refused to rule out a police assault on the embassy, but another police official gave only a curt "no comment."

Hubacher said the terrorists have not backed off their demands, and added, "It's possible they will carry out their threat."

Warsaw Radio said the Polish foreign Ministry delivered a message to Swiss Ambassador Roger Campiche asking Switzerland to grant visas to the "special group" and to allow its plane to land in Bern.

There was no indication the Swiss government would approve the request.

The embassy invaders, who call themselves members of the Polish Revolutionary Home Army, are holding eight junior diplomatic personnel and a Polish national who was visiting the embassy when it was seized, Hubacher said.

Their leader, who gave his name only as Col. Wysocki, has said that if the demands are not met, he and his "anti-communist paramilitary squad" will blow up the embassy with 55 pounds of dynamite.

At first, Hubacher said there were 14 hostages, but later reported there were only 12, including the three women who were freed. The Polish news agency said in Warsaw, however, that there still were 10 hostages in the embassy.

The official Polish news media have blamed "Solidarity extremists" for the embassy attack. But Wysocki, who has conducted several telephone interviews with journalists, denied any connection with the suspended Polish labor union.

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Lebanese army units took control of forward positions abandoned by leftist Moslem militiamen Tuesday one day after an Israeli threat to storm west Beirut and to remove the militiamen by force.

But the Israelis were still dug in near the airport and appeared to be on the way to a new confrontation with Syria over eight captured Israeli soldiers.

Israel demanded Syria return the eight, captured Saturday near Bhamdoun, 15 miles east of Beirut. But a communique issued in Damascus Tuesday by the joint Palestinian-Syrian Forces made no mention of return.

It said the eight were being held as prisoners of war and would be treated according to the Geneva Convention.

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service furloughed nearly one-fifth of its 88,000 employees Tuesday, including 291 North Carolina workers, as the Reagan administration and Congress sought ways out of their latest dispute over spending priorities.

Stop-gap assistance that would have temporarily averted the layoff of the 19,000 IRS workers was offered by key Democrats, but blocked — at least temporarily — by Republicans protesting President Reagan's veto of a $14.2-billion money bill.

Included in the bill, which Reagan rejected on grounds it exceeded the budget, was $260 million to help the IRS meet its payroll for the rest of September.

The furlough involved collection personnel in each of North Carolina's 21 offices and criminal investigation workers in seven offices of major cities.

ELIZABETH CITY — A Monroe contractor who agreed to participate in the state's probe of bid-rigging on local water projects received a 60-day active prison term Tuesday in Pasquotank County Superior Court.

Frank W. Carpenter also was fined $5,000 after he pleaded guilty before Superior Court Judge Donald Smith to charges stemming from rigged bids on Pasquotank County's $8.3-million water system.

An investigation by the state attorney general's office led to indictments last March against six companies and 10 of their officials.

The probe began at the request of county commissioners when an engineering firm estimated the system's bids, opened in May 1979, were $2 million higher than expected.

WASHINGTON — A North Carolina civil rights group asked a federal appeals court Tuesday to appoint a special prosecutor to investigate a 1979 clash between the Ku Klux Klan, American Nazis and the Communist Workers Party.

Members of the Greensboro Civil Rights Litigation Fund, representing the five people killed and 10 wounded in the shooting spree, charged that high federal officials supervised undercover agents involved in the clash.

Six Klansmen and Nazis were acquitted of murder charges in the deaths at the Nov. 3, 1979, "Death to the Klan" rally. The rally was sponsored by the CWP and held near a Greensboro housing project.
