Arabs will negotiate if Israel conceeds issues

The Associated Press

FEZ, Morocco - Arab leaders will negotiate a Middle East peace plan on the basis of President Reagan's initiative, but only if Israel recognizes the PLO and the settlement includes a Palestinian state incorporating east Jerusalem, officials said Wednesday.

Israel has rejected those conditions in the past.

The leaders were approaching a consensus on proposing an unprecedented offer of mutual recognition between Israel and the Arab states - including a sovereign Arab-ruled Palestine in the West Bank and

Gaza - according to the officials, who

Arab summit here on condition their names not be used.

Sources also said that Syrian leader Hafez Assad, in a two-hour speech, had asked Arab leaders to revoke the 1976 mandate which put Syrian troops in Lebanon to enforce a civil war ceasefire. Suspension of the mandate would permit Syria to withdraw from Lebanon - which Israel has set as a condition for withdrawing its own troops.

The leaders took a break from three days of intensive talks to attend a folklore festival near the summer palace of Morocco's King Hassan II at Ifrane, in the hills 20 miles south of Fez.

In a conciliatory speech to the summit Tuesday, Arafat said the Reagan plan - which is not officially on the agenda and an earlier Saudi Arabian plan, could form the basis for a negotiated settlement of the Middle East conflict.

Reagan proposed elections in the Israelioccupied West Bank of the Jordan River and Gaza Strip for an autonomous Palestinian "domestic authority" in association with Jordan, which ruled the West Bank from 1948-67. Reagan also called for a freeze on Jewish settlements in the occupied territory.

The sources said the Arab leaders offered to open talks for a general Middle East peace settlement on the basis of the Reagan plan under the following main

1. That the "domestic authority" be transformed into a sovereign, independent Palestinian state.

2. That this state should explicitly include east Jerusalem containing the al-Agsa mosque, the third-holiest shrine in the Islamic world. East Jerusalem has been annexed by Israel as part of the Jewish state's "eternal capital."

3. That the PLO be recognized by Israel as the "sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people" prior to any elections in the West Bank and Gaza.

Israel has said it will never give up Jerusalem or recognize an independent Palestinian state in the West Bank

Recession leads businesses to bankruptcy

By KELLY SIMMONS

The Chez Condoret in University Square is not open any longer. Like several thousands of people across the nation, owner Jacques Condoret has found operating a business to be too great a financial burden. More than 15,000 businessess nationwide have declared bankruptcy so far this year and this number does not begin to represent the number of businessmen like Condoret who have iust closed down.

Figures compiled by the Dun and Bradstreet Corp. in New York showed a failure of 696 businesses across the nation for the week ending Aug. 26, 1982. Rowena Wyant, vice president of business economics for the corporation, said this number was the highest recorded for any week since 1930. The total number of failures for the year thus far is 15,289, a dramatic increase over the 10,772 recorded by this time in 1981.

Reasons given for the alarmingly high number of failures were high interest rates and the overall recession. Steve Meehan, spokesman for the North Carolina Department of Commerce, said a combination of high interest rates and a downturn of purshasing by the consumer had hurt business in the United States the worst. Meehan said the drop in consumer buying had caused national production to drop to 70 percent capacity. If interest rates continue to drop as they have recently, however, Meehan said he expected the situation of the economy to improve.

Al Smith, an economist at the North Carolina National Bank's main office in Charlotte, said interest rates would have to fall considerably to make a difference in the economy. "The drop in rates so far hasn't been enough to help," he said.

The sharpest percentage of bankruptcy reports has been in the mountain states and the South Atlantic states where there are a lot of new businesses. "New businesses are very vulnerable to failure," Wyant said.

The economy has fallen apart for small businesses as well as larger ones, said William Dennis, director of research for the National Federation of Independent Businesses. The situation now is worse than that of the 1974-75 recession. Dennis cited high inflation problems as well as high interest rates as the problem for small Dennis said Dun and Bradstreet's composite of business failures was not accurate because they only recorded bankruptcies and did not include those businesses that closed down just before reaching bankruptcy conditions.
