Wallace noses ahead in primary race

The Associated Press

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Former Gov. George C. Wallace, battling hard for the black votes he once scorned, edged into a slight early lead Tuesday night in his Democratic primary runoff against Lt. Gov. George McMillan.

McMillan, an urbane, 38-year-old moderate who urged voters to reject "the politics of the past," had predicted an upset victory over Wallace but trailed as initial fragmentary boxes reported.

With 453 of 4,144 precincts, or 10.9 percent, reporting, Wallace had 49,757, or 53.4 percent, and McMillan had 43,384, or 46.6 percent.

Wallace, now 63 and wheelchair-bound for 10 years, already has been governor a record three times and, during the past two decades, made four runs for president while dominating the statehouse. But he wanted more, emerging after a four-year hiatus and saying he represents "the average man and woman, black and white."

Former Public Service Commissioner Jim Zeigler took the early lead Tuesday night in his Democratic primary runoff bid to unseat Supreme Court Justice Oscar Adams, who is seeking to become the first black elected to a statewide office in Alabama. Adams was appointed to the court to fill a vacancy in 1980.

With 424 of 4,144 precincts reporting, or 10.2 percent, Zeigler had 40,071 votes, or 53.1 percent, while Adams had 5,401, or 46.9 percent.

About 80 percent of the state's 2.1 million registered voters are white.

The Democratic gubernatorial nominee will face Republican nominee Emory Folmar and several minor-party candidates in the Nov. 2 general election.

Wallace, who proclaimed "segregation forever" in his 1963 inaugural and sent troops after black voting rights marchers two years later, competed with McMillan for black votes this time.

During the first primary, Wallace drew black votes in heavy numbers, leading in every predominantly black county. McMillan, however, carried most black urban precincts and, for the runoff, had the help of major black leaders such as Jackson and Mrs. King, the widow of Martin Luther King Jr.

They urged blacks to reject Wallace, depicting him as a former race-monger who inspired violence during the 1960s.

Wallace, however, countered with the endorsement of F.D. Nixon, an 82-year-old black man who is known as the patriarch of the civil rights movement in Montgomery. At almost every turn, Wallace said his chief goal was to find jobs "for black and white citizens of Alabama."

During the Sept. 7 primary, Wallace led with 42 percent of the vote, while McMillan drew 29 percent to gain the runoff spot.

McMillan characterized Wallace as a symbol of "the politics of the past" and said Wallace gave Alabama a "negative image."

Wallace accused McMillan of favoring abortion and the Equal Rights Amendment while opposing prayer in schools. McMillan said Wallace had distorted his beliefs, calling it the tactic of a "desperate politician."

Both promised drives for new industry in Alabama, which has suffered jobless rates of more than 14 percent to rank next to Michigan as the state with the worst unemployment rate in the nation.

As Wallace and McMillan closed out their campaigning before Tuesday's vote, the GOP nominee signaled that a tough race lay ahead for the Democratic winner. Folmar, the mayor of Montgomery, drew 1,000 people to a $125-a-plate dinner on Monday with former President Gerald Ford as guest speaker.

BONN, West Germany — The Free Democrat Party joined the political opposition Tuesday and decided to try to topple Chancellor Helmut Schmidt with a no-confidence vote in Parliament.

The liberal Free Democrats had been coalition partners of Schmidt's Social Democrats for 13 years until Sept. 17, when the four Free Democrat deputies pulled out of the government over a long-running economic feud.

Free Democrat deputies caucused Tuesday and 34 of the 53 voted to turn their backs on Schmidt. The chancellor's long-time conservative foes then reaffirmed unanimously that they too were ready to try to topple the Schmidt administration. The Parliament vote is planned for Friday.

The chancellor had called for new elections as the way to solve West Germany's political turmoil, and the party decisions Tuesday amounted to a rejection of that plan by most of the deputies in the Bundestag, or West Germany parliament.

The conservatives and liberals decided they prefer to try to oust Schmidt immediately and replace him with the man of their choice — Christian Democrat leader Helmut Kohl, 52.

UNITED NATIONS — Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met for three hours Tuesday, but a senior U.S. official said they did not resolve any of the problems between the two superpowers.

They scheduled another meeting for next Monday, however.

Gromyko raised the issue of the U.S.-Soviet arms control negotiations under way in Geneva, the official said, and the topic was discussed at length.

He said Shultz introduced a number of other subjects, including the Soviet role in Poland's imposition of martial law last December, the presence of more than 80,000 Soviet soldiers in Afghanistan helping that country's Marxist government battle Moslem insurgents, and the Soviet-backed Vietnamese army units in Cambodia.

Meetings between the U.S. secretary of state and Soviet foreign minister have become an annual event during the opening session of the U.N. General Assembly.

Shultz had met earlier with British Foreign Secretary Francis Pym. They discussed possible compromises on the divisive U.S.-imposed Soviet pipeline sanctions, but they are still far apart on the issue, a U.S. spokesman said.

Before the Shultz-Gromyko talks began, officials said the two men probably would discuss a U.S.-Soviet summit conference, but make no decision on holding one.

WASHINGTON — Presidential assassin John W. Hinckley Jr. recently wrote a letter asking a woman to help him get a pistol so he could kill actress Jodie Foster, an FBI source said Tuesday night.

The source, who asked not to be identified, said the letter to an unidentified woman in the Midwest was intercepted by psychiatrists at St. Elizabeth's, the District of Columbia mental hospital where Hinckley is confined.

The letter, which mentioned a .38-caliber pistol, was turned over to Roger Adelman, the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, according to the source. No one answered the phone at Adelman's home Tuesday night.

Hinckley was ordered confined indefinitely to St. Elizabeth's after a federal jury last June found him innocent by reason of insanity in the March 1981 shootings of President Reagan and three other men.

GREENSBORO — The World Council of Churches has given the Greensboro Justice Fund a $10,000 grant for legal aid to survivors of the 1979 slayings of five anti-Ku Klux Klan demonstrators.

The money is to help the justice fund "seek justice in racially stimulated slayings and to prevent miscarriages of justice," a council spokesman said.

The money, allocated from the council's Program to Combat Racism, was approved last July by an executive committee that meets annually in Geneva, Switzerland. The committee distributed $489,500 to 53 groups in 20 countries.

The Justice Fund, a non-profit organization, was formed to give legal help to widows and people injured in the Nov. 3, 1979, shooting deaths of the five Communist Workers Party members.

A Guilford County Superior Court jury acquitted six Ku Klux Klansmen and Nazis of state murder charges about a year after the slayings. A federal grand jury now is investigating the shootings.

In the story titled "Oct. 4 registration deadline for election," (DTH, Tuesday, Sept. 29), The Daily Tar Heel was given incorrect information about the hours for voter registration. The correct hours for voter registration on Thursday, Oct. 4 are from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., not from noon to 4 p.m. The DTH regrets the error.

In the outline for the story "Soho soda makes a splash in the Triangle," (DTH, Tuesday, Sept. 23), the two women in the picture were incorrectly identified. The woman on the left was Claudia Roberts and the woman on the right was Robin White. The DTH regrets the error.
