THE PRAGUE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

TREGER/WATTS DUO—

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1982

Charles Treger and Andre Watts, each a virtuoso solo performer in his own right, have been collaborating since 1978. Together they have used their interpretive and technical gifts to explore the great literature for violin and piano. They have been hailed as "a flawlessly balanced duo . . . together in spirit as much as ensemble."

Admission $9.50

Music From Marlboro

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1982

Each year distinguished musicians from the Marlboro Music Festival in Vermont are formed into the Music From Marlboro touring ensembles. Their trademark is recognized as "a virtual guarantee of musical excellence." This year a quintet of proficient chamber players will bring the distinctive Marlboro spirit to this area, performing seldom-heard works by Mozart, Beethoven and Dvorak.

Admission $6.50

The Prague Symphony Orchestra

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1982

The Prague Symphony Orchestra, founded in 1934, has completed more than forty successful international concert tours. Their excellent traditional repertoire is highlighted by exciting Bohemian masterpieces. Under the direction of Jiri Belohlavek, the 110-piece ensemble promises to be a dynamic addition to our concert series.

Admission $9.50

The Eastern Brass Quintet

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1983

Recognized as the finest brass ensemble in America today, the Eastern Brass Quintet serves up a musical banquet ranging from Renaissance to Contemporary delights. Their program includes works originally written for brass quintet plus specially arranged material created for other instruments. "In terms of finesse and musicality, they are second to none."

Admission $6.50

The Chieftains

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1983

The Chieftains are known the world over as the greatest exponents of traditional Irish music today. Since their inception 20 years ago, they have toured extensively, recorded 10 albums and won an Oscar for their score for the film Barry Lyndon. A diverse repertoire of jigs, reels and ballads plus the unique sound of Uilleann pipes, bodhrans, harps and flutes ensure a magical listening experience.

Admission $7.50
