"The Producer of Animal House considered using the UNC campus for some of its filming but people were worried about whether or not it would present an appropriate image of the town, he said.

Some discretion has to be used when deciding how a film will reflect on a community. "In most cases, the location and the University would not be recognizable and thus the image would not be associated with Chapel Hill," he said.

Kindem said though movie companies do not usually hire non-union people, films in the past created employment for some students.

"One of our students started out helping coordinate the actors in Brainstorm and in the middle of shooting, the coordinator was fired. The student stepped in and filled in the vacancy," Kindem said.

NOTICE TO ALL STUDENTS ENROLLED AT THE UNIVERSITY AT CHAPEL HILL

In The Revised North Carolina State Plan for the Further Elimination of Racial Duality in the Public Post-Secondary Education Systems, the following language appears (at Page 152) relating to "Student Organizations":

"It is the policy of The University that all student organizations sanctioned by the constituent institutions shall be open to membership without respect to race. It is the duty of the chancellor and his subordinates on each campus to require that every institutionally sanctioned student organization file with the institution a statement of the organization's non-discriminatory policy. The chancellor or his subordinates, in cooperation with student government, shall take appropriate remedial action, after investigation, where charges of racial discrimination by such organizations are found to be correct."

Further, in the rules and regulations issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the implementation of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the following language appears [Section 86.31(b)]:

"(f) In providing any aid, benefit, or service to a student, a recipient (institution of higher learning) shall not, on the basis of sex: ... (7) Aid or perpetuate discrimination against any person by providing significant assistance to any agency, organization, or person which discriminates on the basis of sex in providing any aid, benefit or service to students or employees."

As of 8 October 1982 the student organizations listed below have been officially recognized by the University Administration for the year ending 15 September 1983. Recognition is not granted unless the organization files with the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs a statement of its non-discriminatory policy. Any currently enrolled student may examine the statement of non-discriminatory policy of any recognized student organization by applying at the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.

Any currently enrolled student who applied for membership in any recognized student organization, was denied membership, and believes the denial was based in whole or in part on his or her race or sex, should notify the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.
