U.S. threatens to withhold funds from U.N.

The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Israel — The Foreign Ministry said Sunday that Israel is gratified by U.S. support in opposing Israeli expulsion from the U.N. General Assembly and technical conferences of the world body.

"Israel is very appreciative and very pleased with the American approach to the problem," a ministry spokesman told The Associated Press. Any formal Israeli statements on the subject would be made by Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir, currently in the United States, he said.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz said Saturday that Washington would withhold payments to the General Assembly and the International Telecommunications Conference in Nairobi if those groups voted to expel Israel.

In Nairobi, the balloting on the Algerian-sponsored resolution to expel Israel from the communications conference was scheduled for Monday. Chief U.S. delegate Michael Gardner said he has sent copies of Shultz's statement to the heads of all delegations.

A commentary from the Soviet news agency Tass claimed Washington was backing Israel in the U.N. dispute because Tel Aviv was working to impose America's "imperial designs" on the Middle East.

"Gross blackmail — that is how, and in no other way, one can qualify the latest demarche of the United States toward the United Nations," the Tass commentary said.

Arab nations have spearheaded the drive to oust Israel in response to the Israeli invasion of Lebanon on June 6 to rout Palestinian guerrillas and the massacre of Palestinians by Christian militiamen in two Beirut refugee camps Sept. 16-18.

Many Arabs blame Israel for the massacre because Israeli troops allowed the Christians to enter the Sabra and Chatila camps, ostensibly to rout Palestinian guerrillas.

Three weeks ago, the United States withdrew from the U.N.-affiliated International Atomic Energy Agency Conference following the conference's vote to deny Israel credentials in response to the massacre. Shultz said the United States is holding up payments to the IAEA pending an assessment of U.S. participation. State Department officials said the amount suspended is $8.5 million for this year.

In Jerusalem, a senior official said the U.S. support was mentioned by several ministers during a Cabinet meeting, but no further details were reported.

Israeli newspaper editorials welcomed the U.S. stand, but warned the government not to misinterpret Washington's gestures or take the support for granted.

The mass-circulation Maariv, noting what it called improving relations between Jerusalem and Washington, urged the government to soften its accusations against the American government "and return to the line of dialogue."

It was referring to charges raised here that the Reagan administration was trying to bring down Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government following the massacre of Palestinian refugees.

The independent Jerusalem Post said U.S. support not only protects Israeli interests but also helps "contain domestic lunacy" in the form of attacks on Washington by Israeli rightists.

If the Reagan administration were to withdraw funds from the U.N., it would be acting in accordance with resolutions passed this spring by the House and

George P. Shultz

Senate.

The resolutions, urging the United Nations to withhold funds from the United Nations if Israel is illegally expelled from the U.N. General Assembly, were prompted by the General Assembly's adoption Feb. 5 of language sharply attacking Israel and indicating its U.N. seat could be in jeopardy.

The United States contributes about 25 percent of the U.N. annual budget and currently owes it $149.4 million for the balance of 1982.

WARSAW, Poland — Riot police with automatic weapons patrolled the steel city of Nowa Huta on Sunday to prevent further street fighting. Underground leaders of the banned Solidarity union said workers in four cities will stay at home today in new protest action.

Black-bordered funeral notices for Bogdan Wlosik, 20, appeared in Nowa Huta, a Krakow suburb where street clashes erupted three nights running last week.

Official sources in Krakow said the funeral could raise new tensions, adding that a firm date probably would not be set until Monday, despite the privately printed notices. His death, officials said, remains under investigation.

Wlosik, who worked at the Lenin Steel Works in Nowa Huta, was the first person to die in street fighting since Parliament outlawed the Soviet bloc's only free labor union on Oct. 8. He was the 15th riot-related death since martial law was imposed Dec. 13.

Sources with contacts in the Solidarity underground said workers in Nowa Huta, Krakow, Gdansk and Warsaw planned to stay home today to protest the Solidarity ban and the government's new law restricting union activities.

President Reagan on Friday, but the administration made clear that no representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization would be welcome.

The delegation, headed by King Hassan of Morocco, is to meet with Reagan and other top U.S. officials to discuss the league's Middle East peace plan calling for creation of a Palestinian state in exchange for tacit recognition of Israel's right to exist.

Composition of the delegation as announced by the White House includes no one from the P.L.O. The United States has said it will neither recognize nor talk with the P.L.O. until it recognizes the right of Israel to exist and accepts the United Nations resolutions dealing with the issue.

San Salvador, El Salvador — Leftist guerrillas controlled five remote towns Sunday and took a break in their biggest and best-coordinated offensive in six months after a week of bloody fighting.

Despite the lull in battling the U.S.-backed government, the rebels' clandestine Radio Venceremos said army troops were advancing to the north and warned residents of small towns throughout northeastern Morazan province that heavy fighting would resume soon.

The government, which confirmed the calm, has closed the area to journalists and first-hand reports were unavailable.

The week's fighting was the guerrillas' heaviest push since their failed attempt to disrupt national elections last March. Most of the heavy fighting is now apparently centered in Morazan, where an estimated 4,000 troops are trying to dislodge guerrillas.

Clearwater, Fla. — Authorities pulled Lavalis mouthwash from the shelves of a store after four bottles were found laced with acid, the latest contamination of a consumer product since seven people died from Tylenol capsules containing cyanide.

Meanwhile, officials in Palm Beach County, Fla., were checking Visine A.C. eye drops for possible contamination following complaints from four women that their eyes burned after using the product.

Police in Clearwater said Sunday that whoever put acid in the four bottles of Lavalis found in an Albertsons store in Belleair Bluffs may have gotten the idea from the Chicago cyanide deaths.

PEKING — China's Communist leaders officially resumed ties with the pro-Soviet French Communist Party on Sunday and suggested they wanted the same improvement in party-to-party relations with Moscow.

Both developments were seen as China's latest attempts to reassert influence in the world communist movement and move toward better ties with the Soviet rival.

Diplomatic observers said they thought it was the first official indication that China may want to restore party ties with the Soviets.

Relations between parties of the two Communist giants have been poor since the early 1960s because of differences in ideology and leadership of the international communist movement.
