UNC IMers compete in Co-Rec Sports Day; Team Tennis

There was some bad news out of Charlotte last week. UNC IMers put on a great show, but it was not enough to capture Co-Rec Sports Day, as State took the crown over UNC-G, UNC-C, and Carolina. "We didn't win a lot of the events," said Rob Frye, assistant director of Intramurals, "but we did have some outstanding performances."

Carolina could only field teams for the racquetball, volleyball, billiards and tennis competitions. The UNC billiards team of Ann Bemus, Roger Strickland, Debbie Johnson and Gary Lavore took second. In volleyball, the team of John Grissom, Kevin Fairley, Tim Cooke, John Crawford, Caren Champion, Brenda Head and Eva Compton finished third.

Tennis players Leon Wellons, Julia Roe and Sylvia Sanchez placed third. In a tough racquetball field, Chris McNeill, Burton Matherly, Mark Stone and Susan Kirkman finished up in fourth place. The IM office extends its thanks to all who participated for UNC and is looking forward to the spring Big 4 Sports Day, where UNC IMers get a chance to take on State again, as well as Duke and Wake Forest.

Out on the Cobb-Joyner tennis courts, the Team Tennis competition came to an exciting end. According to Associate IM Director Marty Pomerantz, this year's play was as competitive as ever and many players turned in superb performances for their units. In the men's competitive division, the DW Crime Stoppers from Granville DW took the championship over Everett, 115 points to 105. The winning Crime Stoppers included: Doug Knox, Geoff Nance, David White, Jeff Sowers, Terry Brayboy, David Johnson and Jack Kester.

PDT Blue captured the fraternity crown from Chi Phi, 115 points to 100. Leading the frat champions were Thornton Withers, Rob Wilson, Osborne Ayscue, David Keesler, Chalk Broughton, Kelly Neal, Dee Cordell and Jeff Irvin. In the men's recreational division, Anaconda Once from Old East Dormitory played some tough tennis to win the title. John Lowe, Allen Taylor, Brad Herring and Ma'an Nasir comprised the winners from Old East.

The graduate/independent division came to a close finish, with the T.A. Stringers from the Physical Education department defeating the Pro Kids, 35 points to 30. The winning T.A.'s included: David Haynes, Don Waloman, David Smith, Dan Rosenberg, Bill Lown and Bill Paladino.

In the women's recreational division, the McStokers from McIver Residence Hall captured the championship from the McIver Match, 50 points to 40. The McStokers were led by Kim Ross, Andrea Schifeno, Jill Rutherford, Jenny Enright, Kay Hoover and Jackie Hillard. The Cobb Racquetters took advantage of the nearby courts to win the women's competitive division from the Spencer Stokers, 55 points to 40. One of four Cobb teams in the competition, the Racquetters included: Kim Doughton, Tricia Arthur, Cindy Bell and Lorie Croson. The IM office congratulates all the winners!!

IMportant Dates

Thursday, Nov. 11—TONIGHT from 7:00-9:00 p.m. in 304 Woollen is the second mandatory basketball officials' clinic. Contact Janis Matson in the IM office if you have any questions.

Friday, Nov. 12—Yes, it's finally here. Nugget Upsilon celebrates his birthday. Confused? Well, forget about Nugget and concentrate on the soccer playoff pairings, which will be posted in the IM office.

Saturday, Nov. 13—The Cavaliers from Virginia stop by Kenan for a little action on the football field. The only real action will be between the mascots.

Monday, Nov. 15—Grail Mural Basketball starts. Seedings will be posted on the boards outside the IM office. After some basketball, stop by the Carmichael fields for the start of the soccer playoffs.

Tuesday, Nov. 16—Stop everything! Take out your calendar and make a note of this: the IM Ski Trip Meeting will be held in 304 Woollen at 8:00 p.m. No matter how you spell it, this trip will be f-u-n.

Thursday, Nov. 18—The race for the turkeys—the Turkey Trot—will start at 4:00 p.m. You must arrive at least 15 minutes before the start of the race to register for this Carolina favorite. Turkeys will go to winners in the following categories: Man, woman, team of three men, team of three women and the fastest finisher over 40 years of age. An IM t-shirt will also go to the finisher whose costume best represents the Thanksgiving theme.

Friday, Nov. 19—Keep your eyes on the BEAT DOOK parade.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

This is your last chance to participate in a Lifetime Leisure Activities Program clinic. On Nov. 15 in 304 Woollen from 6:00-9:00 p.m., a clinic for beginners in backpacking and hiking will be held. The registration deadline is TODAY. Contact Rob Frye in the IM office for more details.

Creeping up on us is the IM Sports Trivia Bowl. The deadline for entry is Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 5:00 p.m. If you know anything about sports, gather up three of your friends and sign up. Only the first 16 teams that register will be eligible. Rob Frye has all the details, just give him a buzz or stop by the IM office in 203 Woollen.
