

Baseball team streaks to 12-1 record

From staff reports

When you talk about teams on a roll, you must talk about North Carolina's baseball squad.

After going through a somewhat mediocre season in 1982, posting a 29-27 record, the Tar Heels were expected to improve this year with the nucleus of the starting lineup returning to action.

That the team has improved might be something of an understatement after the Tar Heels opened 1983 with a 12-1 mark and a nine-game winning streak.

That record marks the best start ever for the team, equalling a 12-1 mark set in 1972.

The Tar Heels' most recent victories came over Rider College in the first two of a three-game series this weekend.

Freshman second baseman Mike Jed-

ziniak belted a two-run home run Friday to lift UNC to a 6-1 triumph. Catcher B.J. Surhoff went three-for-four from the plate while Brad Powell was the winner on the mound, giving up six hits and striking out five batters.

The bats were in full swing Saturday as the Tar Heels cruised over Rider 13-1 behind Jedziniak's grand slam homer and Surhoff's perfect four-for-four day at the plate.

Jedziniak's grand slam keyed a second-inning six-run explosion which put the game away early. Surhoff contributed a home run, triple, double and single to complete the cycle.

Tom Reed was victorious on the mound, scattering five hits over nine innings while striking out seven batters.

The Tar Heels were scheduled to conclude their series with Rider on Sunday, with that game to be followed by George Mason in the climax of a doubleheader. Results of those games were not available.

UNC began its latest series of victories with easy wins during the early days of spring break.

The squad took UNC-Wilmington to the cleaners on March 3 and 4 with wins of 8-1 and 6-2.

In those contests, the Tar Heels swatted 26 hits, while limiting the Seahawks to half that total. Powell and Scott Bankhead accounted for the wins on the mound.

The team then opened a three-game series in Lakeland, Fla., with a 5-3 decision over Western Michigan on March 7.

SPORTS

26-game win streak comes to an end

Lacrosse team stunned in opener

By MIKE DESISTI
Sports Editor

BALTIMORE — They came down from the little school in the little town in Upstate New York. They came down from the rolling, waterside landscape of the Finger Lakes region, that other part of the Big Apple state. They came down into Maryland Saturday. And they came to play lacrosse.

The Hobart Statesmen handed two-time defending Division I national champion North Carolina its first loss in 27 games with a 12-9 upset win at Loyola College. The Tar Heels' 26-game winning streak was the third longest in NCAA history.

Geneva, population 16,793, sits at the bottom of the hill-banked basin of Seneca Lake.

College included, the entire town has fewer bodies than UNC.

And the Statesmen are hardly known for their big-time athletic program. Hobart is a Division III school, this despite its lacrosse team winning the NCAA's three years in a row. No athletic scholarships, no extensive television coverage, no nationwide following.

And against the Tar Heels, nothing to lose.

"They were playing the University of North Carolina, and for a Division III school, that's something," said UNC defender Randy Cox. "They came out ready to play and we didn't. I think we looked at Hobart as the Division III national champions, and not a team to be reckoned with."

Any reckoning the Tar Heels did came in the first 45 minutes of the game. Entering the fourth and final period of play, the teams were knotted at nine-all. But two goals by Hobart's Dennis O'Hara, one by Jim Grimaldi and the shutout goalkeeping of Statesman Larry Van Arsdale provided the margin of victory in the season's opening game for both Hobart and North Carolina.

The Tar Heels held a 7-6 advantage immediately following the half.

"We knew they were a good team," UNC goalkeeper Tom Sears said. "But they played better than I thought they were going to play. I think we'll start to take things more seriously. We won't go into a game so casual."

UNC outshot the Statesmen 43-33, but the rest of the statistics had Hobart on top.

Van Arsdale had 16 saves; Sears had 9. Hobart picked up 76 ground balls, UNC 20 fewer. A most telling figure had the Statesmen ahead in faceoffs, 19-6.

North Carolina coach Willie Scroggs had said before the game he wasn't sure how hard it would be to win a third consecutive national championship. "You don't sit down day one and say, 'It's going to be this hard,'" he said.

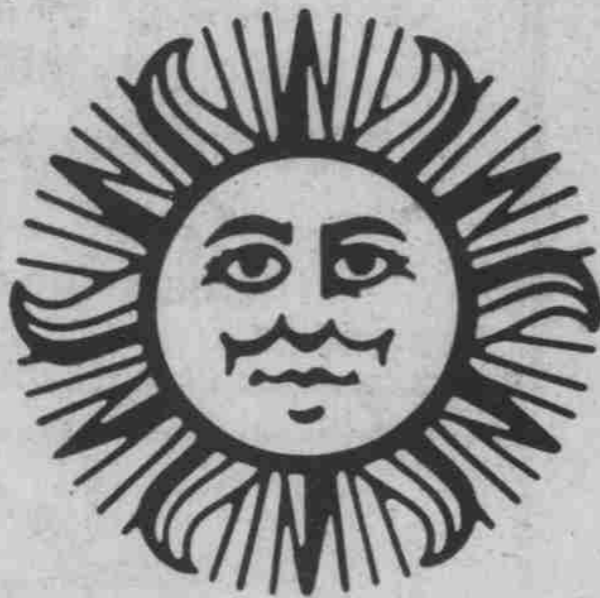

And not having lost in 26 games, you don't sit down and expect a loss.

Parsons School of Design

offers intermediate to advanced courses for college students this summer in New York City.

Five weeks: June 27 to July 29, 1983.

Drawing/Painting/Environmental Design/
Illustration/Communication Design/
Photography/Fashion Design/Fashion
Illustration/Clay, Fiber, Metal Design.

Each 4-credit course meets Monday through Thursday, from 9:00 am to 4:00 pm, and includes intensive studio workshops, field trips, visits from guest lecturers, portfolio and career advisement.

For additional information on the courses, housing and registration, please return the coupon or call 212-741-8975.

1983 College Summer Session
Brochure Request

Parsons School of Design
Office of Special Programs
66 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10011

Name _____
Address _____
City/State _____
Zip _____

21

SHARE THE COST OF LIVING

Give to the American Cancer Society.

BLOOM COUNTY

by Berke Breathed

Final Call for Coeds! PLAYBOY'S PHOTOGRAPHER IS NOW ON CAMPUS.

PLAYBOY photographer David Chan and his assistant Sherral Snow are now interviewing coeds for PLAYBOY's Girls of the Atlantic Coast Conference pictorial. To qualify, you must be a female student registered full- or part-time at an Atlantic Coast Conference college. Call now for more information and to schedule an interview.

Call David Chan at the Holiday Inn at Eastgate (Chapel Hill)

(919) 929-2171 March 14 & 15

Raleigh Hilton Inn (Raleigh)
(919) 828-0811 March 15, 16 & 17

Sheraton University Center (Durham)
(919) 383-8575 March 17, 18 & 19

PLAYBOY

© 1983, Playboy.

How to procrastinate tastefully.

Pour yourself a cup of Irish Mocha Mint. Chocolatey, with a hint of mint, it's a delicious way to postpone the inevitable. And it's just one of six inspired flavors from General Foods® International Coffees.

GENERAL FOODS® INTERNATIONAL COFFEES
AS MUCH A FEELING AS A FLAVOR

Available at: STUDENT STORES

© 1982 General Foods Corporation

