13 meet records shattered

N.C. relay team sprints to No. 2 in nation

Alston Glenn, the second leg of N.C. State's 400-meter relay team, conceded the Wolfpack needs a little more work on its baton exchanges.

But it was hard to tell whether or not to believe Glenn, whether or not he was just being modest about the race State had just run in Friday's Carolina Relays. Glenn and Co. had just finished the relay in 39.40 seconds, the second-fastest collegiate time of 1983. It's frightening to think what they'll run with smoother exchanges. Anyone who blinked their eyes during the race probably missed half of it.

State's relay is made up of Glenn, Harvey McSwain and football players Perry Williams and Dee Dee Hoggard. They won it going away, with McSwain crossing the finish line close to a second ahead of St. Augustine's.

Maybe they do have to do a little work on exchanges, but it doesn't seem to worry them too much at all.

"We've got a good chance to win the nationals," McSwain said. "I've got a lot of confidence that we can run with the best in the nation."

Once their relay, which set a meet record, was over the State sprinters didn't stop. McSwain went on to win the 100-meter dash and Williams was third. In the 200, McSwain was first once again, followed by Glenn in second and Hoggard in third.

Aside from the Wolfpack's relay, meet records were set in four other men's events. With about three laps to go, North Carolina's Glenn Sparrow broke open the 5,000, passing Seton Hall's Ahmed Ismail and going on for an easy victory. Sparrow's time of 14:11.6 broke the old meet record by 8.5 seconds.

Other meet records were set by Charles Foster of the Philadelphia Pioneers (13.89 in the 110 hurdles), Ronnie Harris, running unattached (46.42 in the 400) and David McFadden of Virginia St. (51-10 $\frac{3}{4}$ ) in the triple jump.

Chris Mand didn't come close to breaking his own meet record in the pole vault, but he wasn't too upset about it. All that mattered to Mand was that he was competing at full strength again, for the first time since the 1982 outdoor season. He won the vault with a height of 16-0.

"It was great," Mand said. "Even though I didn't go very high, it was the first time I felt fast on the runway since I've been hurt (early last winter). It's nice to win again."

Another first place for UNC was taken by Curt Sheaffer, who had a throw of 208-6 in the javelin. Jack Morgan was second in the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:20.2 and North Carolina's distance medley relay team of Brett Plummer, Rob Harrell, Mike Kominsky and Jeff Hyman finished in 10:03.30 to place second.

Martha White of Virginia qualified for the NCAA Championships Friday. A member of the team which won the national cross country championship, White led the field to finish in a time of 16:29.09, 26 seconds ahead of teammate Mary Jean Wright.

"As far as our team is concerned, we were very competitive in all of our events," North Carolina coach Hubert West said.

The Tar Heels' throwing duo, junior Katy Lichota and freshman Shunta Robinson, dominated the field events. Robinson took first in the shot and set a new school record with a throw of 45-8, while Lichota took first in the discus with a throw of 138-0.

Both are smaller than the majority of their competitors, which could be a disadvantage. But a person's strength can be his downfall.

"They (Lichota and Robinson) know they're not that big and have to work harder," West said. "They're very quick. They've worked hard on weights and very hard on technique. We look at those two as being the master technicians in their events."

The transition to college has been smooth for Robinson. Although she never won the state meet in high school, finishing third in the 10th grade and second the following two years, she has stepped into her role as a college competitor with confidence and success. During the indoor season, she repeatedly broke the indoor school record, and Friday she broke the outdoor record. The success has not surprised her.

"I know what I can do," Robinson said. "I knew with a better coach that I would improve."

The women's 1,600-meter relay team composed of Kelley Houk, Yvette Morehead, Michelle Cashwell and Alisa Murray broke the school record, running 3:55.7 to finish sixth. "It's a good group to be working with," Murray said. "It takes all four of us to make it work. I've really been lucky to compete with a team like the one we have here."

UNC's distance medley relay team finished third at 12:04.5, paced by Murray, Morehead, Joan Nesbit and Holly Murray. Nesbit had competed earlier in the 1,500 and raced to fourth with a time of 4:34.05.

Eight women's meet records were broken including the shot put by Robinson. One of the most impressive performances was by Villanova's Patty Bradley, who broke her own record in the 400 hurdles with a time of 60.19.

Bradley and her teammates have helped make the Carolina Relays a quality meet that should continue to improve.

"We really like coming down here to run," Bradley said. "We're definitely coming back next year."

Georgia Tech edges Tar heel baseball team, 5-4

From staff reports

Greg Woodward and Chris Morgan combined to knock in four runs and freshman Keith Fleming pitched four innings of hitless relief to lead Georgia Tech to a 5-4 victory over North Carolina Sunday afternoon in Atlanta.

The Tar Heels jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first on a Jeff Hubbard single, a B.J. Surhoff triple and a Pete Kurniega single. Tech countered with a run of its own in the bottom of the first and then reached UNC starter Brad Powell for three more in the second frame on singles by Woodward and Morgan. After trading unearned runs in the fourth inning, Tech led until the top of the eighth, when Surhoff walked for the Tar Heels and later scored on a Yellow Jacket throwing error to make it 5-4.

Stu Rogers picked up the victory for Georgia Tech, which is now 21-2 in home games, while Brad Powell, 6-2, took the loss for UNC. North Carolina is now 30-6 and 6-2 in ACC play, and Georgia Tech is 24-9 and 6-7.

There will be plenty of action at Boshamer Stadium this week as the Tar Heels finish out their regular-season schedule. UNC-Wilmington will be in Chapel Hill for a 7 p.m. game tonight and a 3 p.m. start on Tuesday.

The Tar Heels host N.C. State in a 3 p.m. game Wednesday before travelling to East Carolina Thursday. They return to a full home schedule for the weekend against Campbell, Maryland and Virginia.

UNC freshman Bryan Sullivan shot a final round of 3-under-par 69 to claim fourth place honors along with five others including teammate Plyler.

"It was a real dogfight between N.C. State, Wake Forest and Carolina," Coach Devon Brouse said. "But when you put Clemson in with these three teams, you ought to see some good golf at the ACC."

North Carolina's men's tennis team defeated N.C. State 8-1 Thursday and Maryland 7-2 Saturday to pass the 20 win mark before downing William and Mary on Sunday to up the Tar Heels' season record to 21-6.

UNC dropped only the No. 1 doubles match, a 6-4, 7-6 defeat of Ron Erskine and Ken Ludwig by William and Mary's Greg Miller and Gordon Diamond on the way to an 8-1 team victory.

At No. 1 singles, Ludwig defeated Miller 1-6, 7-6, 6-2. Erskine downed Rodd Macklin 6-0, 6-2 at the second position. In the third slot, Josh Sarner won a 6-0, 7-6 match over Paul Meehan. John Grigg claimed the fourth spot for the Tar Heels with a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Gordon Diamond. No. 5 Ken Whitaker dropped Don Robbins 6-2, 6-2. Freshman Eddie Stewart defeated Mike Hurtubise 6-1, 7-5 at No. 6.

In doubles play, Grigg and Whitaker won 6-1, 6-1 over Miller and Diamond at No. 2 and Sarner and Robbie Bach defeated Meehan and Macklin 6-3, 6-4 at No. 3.

A big call it was, a big call in a big game, a big call in a big game which may have a big effect on the rest of the year for North Carolina. To Johns Hopkins, 5-1, it's not much more than an ego deflator. To the Tar Heels, 3-2, it may be the start of a second season.

"It wasn't necessarily a must win, but our backs were pretty much against the wall," North Carolina defenseman Randy Cox said. "It adds a lot of momentum to our team; we didn't have a whole lot of confidence and we played and beat the best team in the nation."

Ciccarone downplayed the contest with the usual not-the-end-of-the-world, just-another-game rhetoric that goes with the job. And he was right, at least in part. "It wasn't the end of the world. But will North Carolina-Johns Hopkins ever be just another game?"

This was a reunion of the 1981 and 1982 NCAA Division I championship tournament finalists — a get-together between a Baltimore school steeped in 100 years of lacrosse tradition with 36 national titles to its name, and the new kids on the block down south with the last two in their pockets. This was a spirited rivalry just four games in the making, yet already on par with the Oklahoma-Nebraska gridiron grudgers, Boston-Phillip in professional basketball. This was Johns Hopkins-North Carolina. This was war.

"We just want to play them again at the end of the year," Ciccarone said. "When it really counts."
