Places of worship abound here, in South's 'Heaven'

By BILL ROSE Staff Writer

When people think of Carolina, they think of football, basketball and academics. But there's another side, to campus life that many students seek during their stay here — a place to worship.

There are religious organizations for people of almost every faith on campus. Although these campus organizations are not always as prominent as other clubs, they have become more popular during the past few years, said Richard Rhodes, staff worker for Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, an interdenominational student organization.

"UNC has become known for its spiritual interest ever since Billy Graham came here a couple of years ago," Rhodes said. Graham was in Chapel Hill for five days in 1982, speaking nightly in Carmichael Auditorium.

The Intervarsity chapter at UNC is the largest in the nation, with about 600 participants.

The "parachurch" groups are open to all interested students. "Our purpose is to provide an opportunity to explore the claims of Jesus Christ for those who don't know him." Rhodes said. "This is done in IV primarily through small group bible studies, large group meetings, retreats and other fun activities."

"They all have the same goals and purposes, but they differ in methodology," he said. "Because of this they attract different types of students."

Other groups are Campus Crusade for Christ, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Navigators, United Christian Fellowship and Campus Y.

Also, many local churches have campus ministries for interested students. "They have the same goals we do," Rhodes said "The main

HIGHGATE, Vt. (AP) - What's

beaten in a cement mixer and flipped with a helicopter? A 900-pound pan-

It was billed as breakfast for 20,000, a concoction of 500 pounds of mix and 100 gallons of milk cooked up to promote Franklin County as the maple center of the world.

The event Saturday was the main

"It's kind of a bizarre idea, but it's good to have something different," said Don McFeeters, organizer of the fair.

About 2,000 people witnessed the Jim Hilton, head of the recreation department in the northwest Vermont making of the pancake.

cake, of course.

difference is that they have a central building they can meet at. We meet primarily in dorms and apartments." Tim O'Connor of the Newman Center, a Catholic center in Chapel Hill, said the churches would help prepare students in all areas of life.

"We're here to provide a center and a space where students and others can learn to expand their faith and to prepare them for what's ahead in the world after college," he said.

Other church fellowships are the Baptist Student Union, Campus Christian Fellowship, Christian Science Church, Anglican Student Fellowship at Chapel of the Cross Episcopal Church, Lutheran Campus Ministry, Maranatha Christian Fellowship, Presbyterian Campus Ministry and the Wesley Foundation.

The Hillel Foundation serves the needs of Jewish students and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Student Association represents the Mormons. There are also officially recognized groups on campus for Buddhists, Hindus, Muslims and the Ba'hai faith.

O'Connor said students were more open to religious ideas today. "The Christian dimension is very evident today," he said. "We're beginning to see maturity in faith in recent years.

"Some things in life must change but it's essential that others remain the same," he said. "One of the most important of these is faith.

"(Students) are asking more meaningful questions and less intellectual questions. In other words, they're asking more heart questions than head questions.

"In the past three or four years there has been a tremendous interest in the person of Jesus Christ. Many people have friends that have changed since they met Christ, and they see the positive results of these changes.

world record. Hilton has also laid claim to the world's largest snowman and the

was fed to anyone with an appetite, poured into a 2,400-pound pan atop a one-ton charcoal fire. When the cake shut and a crane and helicopter teamed harness while the helicopter hovered above, holding a cable attached to a

Hilton said. "It's the cooking-- no one pin that kept the pan from pivoting. "The main thing is not the flipping,"

The crane lifted the pan into a special

His latest shot at the record books

The ingredients were folded together in a steamed-cleaned cement mixer and biggest ice cream sundae.

about 200 people.

up for the flip.

Students can choose from 260 organizations

By AMY BRANEN Staff Writer

With more than 260 officially recognized University organizations to choose from, almost anyone on campus should be able to find one to suit their needs. "The university is fortunate to have a large and wide variety of extracurricular activities to fit just about anyone on campus," Fredric Schroeder, director of the department of student life said, "If there is not one existing that fits your interest just find another person that shares your interest and we'll be glad to help get one started."

Extracurricular activities are a valuable part of University life, said Schroeder.

"Involvement in these organizations can be a very important and educational experience which also provides leadership opportunities," he said.

Organizations which are recognized by the university are open to all university students.

The university offers a large intramural sports program with teams representing sororities, fraternities, and residence halls. Information about the program may be obtained at the intramural sports office in 203 Woolen Gym.

The Student Government also has many positions for interested students. It is divided into three branches; the executive branch consists of the student body president and his committees; the judicial branch oversees the Undergraduate Court and the attorney general's staff; and the legislative branch, the Campus Governing Council, consists of representatives elected by students. Student Government offices are located in Suite C of the Student Union. Students can also take part in helping to organize cultural events and recreational activities on the Union Activities Board.

There are also several campus publications. The Daily Tar Heel, the campus daily newspaper, requires a" writing test. The Phoenix is a weekly paper, the Cellar Door and The Carol-

19" Color TV's

from $19.95

per month

ina Quarterly are literary publications, and the Yackety Yack is the University's yearbook.

There is a wide variety of religious organizations on campus ranging from the Catholic and Baptist campus ministries, to the Buddhist Studies Association or the Campus Pagan Fellowship of the Antichrist and Other Holy Gods. There are also many ethnic groups. Interested students should contact Teme Reice at the International Center in the student union.

In addition to these organizations, the campus also has the Campus Y which offers several programs such as freshman camp, Walk for Humanity, a Big Buddy program, and tutoring.

Welcome to the "Soda Fountain" — come in and visit with Jessie, Willie Mae, Margaret and other famous friends.-They've been serving UNC students our famous homemade lemonade, orangeade, old fashioned milkshakes and good food for a total of 60 years.

159 E. Franklin St. Below Purdy's Next to Amber Alley

Limit 1 coupon per customer Good thru 9/1/84

Good for 1 free orangeade or lemonade at Chapel Hill's oldest drugstore -A Carolina Tradition since 1923 likes to eat an uncooked pancake worse town of St. Albans, masterminded the mammoth meal he said would set a Free legal advice on a bun attraction at the county's Field Days had risen half an inch, the lid was bolted

Giant pancake feeds 200

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern Californians who hunger for justice sometimes go to the dogs.

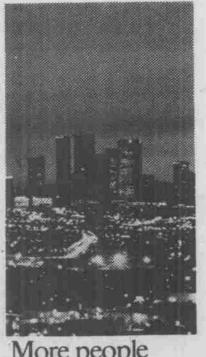

Patrons of the Law Dogs hot dog stand can go to the back of the eatery on Wednesday nights and get free legal advice with their chili and onions from lawyer/owner Kim Pearman.

"It's a way of getting people into the legal system. I tell them where to go and what to do," said Pearman, a real estate lawyer who owns six of the stands, but holds forth only in his first restaurant, on the Van Nuys district in Los Angeles.

Pearman, 45, insists dishing out free legal advice isn't a gimmick. He feels it will help the image of his profession. "It all started out as a community service," he said. "A lot of people don't want to put out $150 to have a couple of questions answered."

Among them have been students who want to get out of paying back government loans, inventors who have new ideas to protect and business people who want to know how to file a bankruptcy claim.

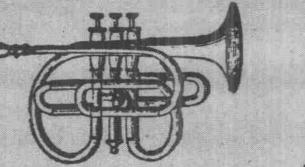

More people have survived cancer than now live in the City of Los Angeles.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY"

Pearman claims Law Dogs is now worth $350,000 after an initial $25,000 investment. He has also experienced some personal inflation — a 15-pound weight gain from eating his own wares.

And the menu reflects the ambiance. There's the Judge Dog chili with mustard and onions, the Jury Dog mustard and onions only, the Police Dog relish and the Plaintiff Dog plain.

Look for the grey & white awning, across from McDonald's, on W. Franklin St., Chapel Hill. 933-2222 UNC WIND

AUTUMN SEMESTER 34 "Old Time" Campus Concert

Outdoors Fall Tour - Historical New Bern and Points East Hill Hall Concert Wind Music of the "Romantics" 19th & 20th Century

SYMPHONY

James H. Arrowood, Conductor Announces

AUDITIONS — This weekend, Thursday thru Monday VACANCIES IN ALL

Further Details in Room 204 Hill Hall For Information Call: 962-2276/929-3408

BAND SECTIONS

Ye Olde Waffle Shop

Announces

Early Bird Hours

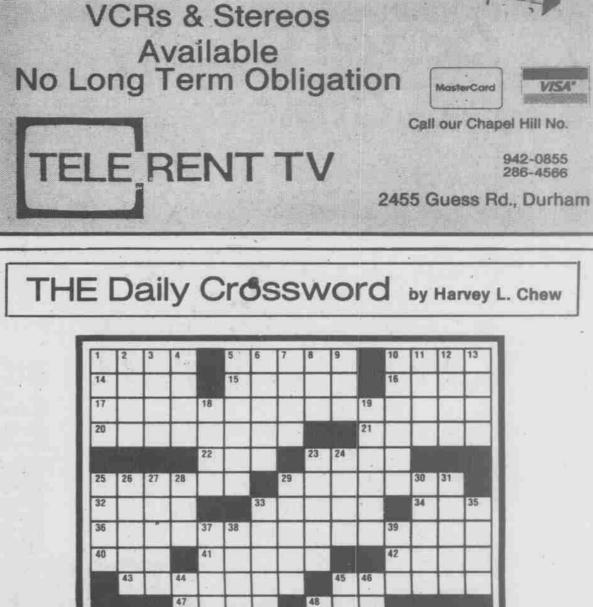

Mon.-Sat. 6:00 am — 4:00 pm Sun. 8:00 am — 4:00 pm

We've been serving our delicious breakfast and great sandwich line for 12 years. Come in and try our:

Eggs Benedict Blueberry Hotcakes

Big Bird Omelet Turkey Club Sandwich

and Big Jim's Hashbrowns Take Out Orders 929-9192

Lowest Rental

Prices In Town!

© 1984 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved

ACROSS

Graceful horse

5 Factotum

10 Spouted pitcher

14 Carty or Petrocelli

15 Roof overhangs 16 Beery or

Webster 17 Bosley, Cavett and Belafonte 20 Jacks are found on these

Francisco

23 Brubeck or Kingman

29 Women 32 Eye part

25 Consecrate

34 Pigskin snapper: abbr. 36 Carouser 40 Have 33 Advocate: suff.

3 Pinnacle 4 Presage 5 Remove nails 41 Egg-shaped

42 Actor Andrews 43 Pulpit talks 45 Bay State

47 Jug handles

48 Charles or Bolger

49 Red as --52 FDR chat site 21 Prayer endings 57 See 5 A

22 Diego or 60 Lily genus 61 Nimble

62 Connery or O'Casey 63 Rip apart 64 Drunkard

from paws 6 "The old bucket" 7 Gardner et al. 8 Deighton

DOWN

Carney

2 Tumult

1 Buchwald and

9 Hallucinogen 10 Tooth layer 11 Had on 12 Merit

13 Actor Williams 18 - facto 19 Cigar

23 Remove frost 24 Oriental nanny 25 Author Victor 26 Admits frankly 27 Sierra -

52 TV comic Wilson 53 Backtalk 54 Brainstorm

30 Acclamation

35 Actor O'Neal

ingredient

38 Actor Novello

44 Smelled very

46 - and terminer

48 Moon feature

50 Cotton bundle

49 Partly open

51 Col. course castle"

37 Salad

39 Aves.

bad

45 Trade

31 Office worker

33 "- house is his

55 Acheson or Rusk 56 Anglo-Saxon serf 58 Obese

29 Worries 65 Rational 59 Gone by Solution to today's crossword on page 4

28 Boy

by Berke Breathed BLOOM COUNTY BARRICADE