Sandinista government 'deplores' downing

MANGUA, Nicaragua — The leftist Sandinista government acknowledged that its troops shot down a U.S. Army helicopter and said it "deplores the incident." The Pentagon said the United States made an official protest, blaming Nicaragua for the death of the pilot.

Nicaragua's statement, issued late Wednesday, said the troops shot at a military helicopter that was inside Nicaraguan territory, but the statement carefully avoided any admission that the Nicaraguans had killed the American.

Officials in Washington and at the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, said the pilot, Chief Warrant Officer II Jeffry C. Schwab of Joliet, Ill., was killed by "hostile fire" from Nicaragua after his helicopter made a forced landing Wednesday about 200 yards from the border - inside Honduras.

Government sources in Washington, who spoke on condition they not be named, said the helicopter was "blown off course" by a windstorm that pushed it near the Nicaraguan border.

President Reagan's spokesman Larry t to made on Cohwah Sneakes .1... as "reckless and unprovoked" Thursday. Key presidential aides met to draft the U.S. response, which sources said could include possible military retaliation.

The official Cuban news agency, Prensa Latina, said the death of the helicopter pilot "could be the pretext yearned for by the Reagan administration to increase its aggressions against Nicaragua."

The Nicaraguan statement expressed hope the incident will "not be used as an excuse to worsen the already critical situation in Central America."

"The Nicaraguan government hopes this incident, a direct result of the U.S. military presence in the area, will be the last in which the blood of North American soldiers is spilled in Central America," the statement added.

Nicaragua also expressed condolences to the family of the dead pilot.

It again criticized the Reagan administration for its support of Nicaraguan rebels based in Honduras, but avoided the anti-American rhetoric that has been usual since the leftists took power in 1979.

The killing of Schwab was the first such shooting episode since joint U.S.-Honduran military maneuvers began in August as a warning to the Sandinistas against supporting leftist rebels in Central America. The attack occurred in an area near which heavy fighting between CIAbacked rebels and Sandinista troops has occurred.

Reagan called Schwab's death "a great tragedy."

Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger said in a CBS television news interview, "The indefensible thing is that the pilot was killed after he got out of the helicopter (and was) simply walking around."

In Tegucigalpa, the government said Thursday it was preparing a "stiff" note of formal protest to Nicaragua.

Pentagon spokesman Michael Burch said Undersecretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger called in the Nicaraguan ambassador to Washington on Wednesday night to protest the death.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Chris Arcos in Tegucigalpa said the body of Schwab, who had served in the 101st Aviation Group 229th Aviation Battalion at Ft. Campbell, Ky., was being flown home.

BEIRUT, Lebanon - Druse gunners shelled Beirut's port and the Christian sector Thursday, and U.S. Middle East envoy Donald Rumsfeld began talks with Syrian leaders in Damascus on how to ease tensions in Lebanon.

Syrian-backed Druse leader Walid Jumblatt, meanwhile, issued new conditions for approving a plan to separate Lebanon's warring militias.

Government-run Beirut radio said six people were injured as shells fired from Druse-controlled mountains fell on Ashrafieh, the downtown area of Christian east Beirut.

In Damascus, Rumsfeld met with Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel-Halim Khaddam, but there was no immediate word on details of the talks. The former U.S. defense secretary also is expected to meet with Syrian President Hafez Assad, who is recuperating from a heart ailment.

WASHINGTON - Secretary of State George P. Shultz, who leaves this weekend for a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, said Thursday that the Reagan administration is "prepared for a thaw" in relations if Moscow reciprocates.

"We are prepared for a thaw, but whether there is one will reflect what the desires of the Soviet Union are," Shultz said in an interview conducted with reporters in Europe via satellite. "It takes two to thaw."

Shultz did not rule out a summit meeting between President Reagan and Soviet leader Yuri Andropov some time this year, but said there must be assurances a summit would produce results. "We want one that will accomplish something."

Reagan's deputy press secretary, Larry Speakes, said Cabinet members, other present and former government officials and members of Congress were invited to the White House for an address on U.S.-Soviet relations that P agan will deliver at 10 a.m. EST Monday.

WINSTON-SALEM — A federal ppeals court panel Thursday temporarily delayed a judge's ruling excluding the news media and public from jury selection in the civil rights trial of nine Ku Klux Klansmen and Eight North Carolina newspapers had appealed Judge Thomas Flannery's decision to close the courtroom to the 4th Circuit Court of Apeals in Richmond, Va., arguing that the move was an unconstitutional infringement on press freedom.

The appeals panel, led by Judge J. Dickson Phillips Jr., stayed Flannery's order and set a hearing on the issue for 10 a.m. Monday in U.S. District Court in Charlotte. The federal government must file a response to the newspapers' appeal by 9 a.m. Monday.

Joining Phillips in the ruling were Judges Robert Chapman and John Butzner Jr.

Flannery denied a motion to hold jury selection in the Klan-Nazi trial in open court after a hearing Wednesday. The newspapers had filed a brief Tuesday saying allowing the public and press in the courtroom would not interfere with a fair trial.

RALEIGH — Attorney General Rufus Edmisten Thursday filed suit against the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to block a construction permit for the proposed pipeline from Lake Gaston to Virginia Beach, Va.

Gov. Jim Hunt had said earlier that the state would file suit if the Corps issued a permit for the 85-mile pipeline without a full environmental impact statement. The Corps has said there was no evidence the pipeline would endanger the environment and has refused to conduct a full environmental study.

The suit filed Thursday charges that the Corps has made an unreasonable determination that the pipeline will have no significant impact on the environment.

Kissinger links military aid to El Salvador peace

The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY - Henry Kissinger said Thursday that more military aid to El Salvador was consistent with Latin efforts toward a peaceful solution in Central America. His commission, which recommended the aid, contended that it would push leftists into diplomatic concessions.

The former U.S. secretary of state spoke via a satellite television hookup from Brussels, Belgium, to journalists in five Latin American cities who questioned him about U.S. policies.

The Kissinger commission gave President Reagan a report Wednesday recommending "significantly increased military aid as soon as possible" to El Salvador.

Asked by a Mexico City reporter to respond to charges that the report contradicts proposals by the Contadora group, Kissinger said: "The proposals we have made for a diplomatic solution... are consistent with the 21 principles of the Contadora Group, and in the report we specifically endorse the 21 principles of the Contadora Group."

The Contadora Group, composed of Mexico, Panama, Venezuela and Columbia, favors a reduction in arms and foreign military aid in Central America. The Kissinger commission report contends that military efforts will pressure leftists toward diplomatic concessions.

The hookup to Mexico City; San Jose, Costa Rica; Caracas, Venezuela; Rio de Janeiro, and Buenos Aires was sponsored by the United States Information Agency. It was the first of its kind in Latin America.

Kissinger told the Latin American journalists, "In our view, if the urgent economic, social and political reform measures are not taken, the internal situation in the countries can only worsen. Therefore, the security problems can only get more complicated.

"But at the same time I want to stress one of the basic things of our report that we have to commit ourselves as a na-

Baloyra

The report differed notably from the Reagan administration's policies only the area of human rights. The 12-member, ideologically diverse commission urged that Congress attach requirements for progress in human rights to aid bills for Central American governments.

"That's nice for symbolic purposes," Baloyra said. "The means by which those aims are going to come about are naive."

Right-wing death squads are actually increasing the strength of leftist guerrillas, he said. "For every person you kill, you create two or three enemies. I bet there are more people in the guerrillas for revenge or because murder was perpetrated against their relatives than for eological reasons "

From page 1 The governments of both El Salvador and the United States are aware of the identities of death squad killers, but El Salvador is unable to act because so many powerful officials are tied to these groups, he said. "You have to get rid of them (the killers). Giving more money is an accessory to murder. You have to round them up somehow and put them at the disposal of the tribunals. You have to neutralize a group of people who are minimally pro-American. You do it either through the CIA or the U.S. military forces." The U.S. should assist in the training of a civilian with the strength to arrest army officers involved in the death squads and should provide security for magistrates trying these men,
