The Associated Press

NASHVILLE — The nation's Democratic governors chastised President Reagan Tuesday for the huge federal deficit. Reagan acknowledged that it was a problem and said, "I pledge that I will continue to work to bring down deficits."

The deficit dominated the final day of the National Governors' Association meeting, with the Republican governors passing a resolution on the matter as well as their Democratic counterparts.

"The American people have a right to know now, not after the November election" how Reagan would cut the flow of red ink, said the Democratic resolution.

In a telephone call from his California ranch, Reagan told the final session of the NGA meeting that he realized the deficit is a problem.

Regarding the deficit, I understand your concern about high interest rates and how they effect the states' own economic recovery," Reagan said in a brief address. "I'm pleased to report that we now estimate the deficit to be well below that which was projected last February."

personals

KEITH—So you want to be abused? Right here in print for the world to see? O.K. we'll have people call you and abuse you. To abuse Keith call 967-9671. (He loves it!)

MAX, DARLING: After frolicking my way about Europe all summer, I've finally arrived in Salzburg, but I'm over the place. It seems my betrothed, Georg, has fallen in love with some little nun! How dare he be unfaithful to me! So, this Baroness is a free woman again. Watch out all you hot European men. I'm on the prowl again. Auf wiedersehen, darling, Elsa.

Yo, Biz/Ad/Prod Staff! Thanks, Anne, Paula, Tammy, Terry, Trish, Brenda and Stacy for everything! It's been real and it's been fun, but it hasn't been real fun. Kudos to all! — Ben & Lynn Yo, Binky! You are undoubtedly the most valuable ferret on the staff. Beware of the waxer!

Yo, Entire Photo Staff! Y'all have been terrific — all of you, not just Jamie! Sorry about the Vanessa shots — maybe in the fall (if not, how about a nice construction site double truck?)

Yo, Persinger! Some people just aren't worth abusing, but you definitely are. Thanks for all the help — so what if no one read THE story! May the road to Va. always be paved with anchovies.

Yo, Jodi! Thanks for everything this summer! Good luck in the real world — maybe there won't be anything so awful as Tuesday nights, who knows? — Ben & Lynn.

Yo, Lynn! The biggest and best thanks go to you — our most valuable and hard-working, all-around ziggly bebop of the backshop. You are hereby, by the power invested in me by the Gods of Copy, declared "Excluded from all Get a Grip looks and/or comments." Life sux and then you typeset, so walk with light and pass with care, okay? When we look back on this crazy summer, let us not remember the bad times, but, rather, totally obliterate the entire experience from our consciousness — except for cheese dip, p.g. stories, zoo cups, unofficial drinking contests, staff abuse, Tuesday nights, park patrols, luncheons, more staff abuse and The Big Three. Long live innuendoski! Love, BENJY

Yo, Allenski! The second biggest and best thanks go to you — for simply being YOU! (No, thank you...) The Big Three would have been the Big Two without you. (That's LD Style, in case you didn't know...I mean, some people might think they would turn into a Squeeze veggie masher or something...) Just having a crazy, unpredictable guy like you around has been simply AWESOME! By the way, what's the difference between jazz and a bowling ball? None. They're both dead. And who's gonna do ya in England? H & H Chicks? Oh, really? May you always have real cheese, an unwarped you-know-what, more information and fair weeks. Stay happy! —Your fellow gatekeepers

To the Gatekeepers, the area's ONLY live editing team — Ms. Parton never had LD style and Mr. Holmes could never be BEN. (Then again, who could?) Best of luck next year when every day is Tuesday night. You're both the greatest. This summer has been a good deal worse than a bad joke, and then again, the best ever. All innuendos aside, I love you two — take care of each other for me and write often. Send all mail to Eugene, Oregon. Yan Yang Kipperbang, That Crazy A&F editor

To the C's Ps: I wonder what the editors at the Tar Heel will think when they paste this up. Thanks for being much more than just one half of the summer. Remember, things always work out for the best — I promise. They may surprise you yet. Hang in there. Love Always, Your Secret Admirer

Hello, Eugene, Ore.? Is anyone out there? No, secret admirer, it's thank you, for listening to my assorted neuroses, for the flowers, for all those heds and cuts, and for the hugs. And, of course, for the Rezillos — remember, I said anything. Maybe you can collect on that when I hit Bristol in December... Anyway, it's not LD Style to get mushy in the personals, so I'll wrap it up now. All my loveski, the C's Ps.

To my favorite penguin, Benaki: It's been just crazy sharing everything from innuendo to cheese dip to couches with you this summer. Just crazy. But seriously, I couldn't have had a better person to spend a summer in hell with than you, even with the get-a-grip looks and the other assorted abuses I had to endure. You're a crazy guy, Ben. Just crazy. Sorry for all the times that I did the abusing, but you've at least gotta admit I've got a pretty good slap. I just don't know what overcame me — I must have been crazy. Just crazy. All in all, you might say it's been no letdown for Trekkies. Loveski and kissies, your devoted M.E. Just crazy.

Patti, I'm going to miss you. Your friendship means more to me than you know...And good-bye to UNC, keep up the wonderful tradition. Thanks for the best college years anyone could hope for...Love and God Bless, Jodi
