

The Daily Tar Heel Classified Advertising

To our readers:

To accommodate the growth of 'Daily Tar Heel' classifieds, and in an effort to make such ads more readable and accessible to our readers, beginning today the Classified Advertising section will appear in this space. Also, for your convenience, the crossword and comic strips have been moved to this page. To celebrate the changes, which we believe will add to the paper's professionalism and ability to provide quality advertising, for the rest of this month all "For Sale" category ads are free to "private individuals" — that is, students, townspeople and other individuals not advertising on behalf of a business. For more details and an order blank, please look to the bottom of this page. We hope these changes meet with your approval, and, as always, we encourage comments and criticisms.
