

Greek

CAROLINA

DU Fastbreaks on Cancer

"We do these things just because we enjoy helping others"

- Rick Lane, DU Vice-President and Fundraising Coordinator

Delta Upsilon is hosting its Second Annual Roundball Classic to benefit the American Cancer Society. Two years ago the tournament was a great success, allowing the fraternity to donate over $1000 to the American Cancer Society. This year's tournament is a 64-team single elimination tournament that will be held on March 24 and 31 in Woollen Gym, with the final four on April 2 in Carmichael Auditorium. This year's tournament is being sponsored by Delta Upsilon and Granville Towers.

Other area merchants have also made small donations to help run the tournament. These include Mr. Gatti's, Taylor's, Henderson Street Bar, Whistlestop, Molly Maguire's, He's Not Here, and the Rathskeller.

The Intramural Office has also been extremely helpful in working with the fraternity along with the many people involved with the use of Carmichael. Tentatively, there will be four Carolina Official's Association referees and four brothers from Delta Upsilon serving as referees.

"We hope this year's tournament will be better than the previous tournament in order that we may donate a significant contribution to the American Cancer Society," said Rick Lane, this year's coordinator.

First prize includes the team's name inscribed on a trophy displayed in Woollen Gym, a first place trophy, individual T-shirts, a keg of their favorite beverage from Taylor's, and a pizza party from Mr. Gatti's.

Second through fourth place teams receive a trophy and individual tournament T-shirts.

When asked why his fraternity accepted the challenge of hosting the event each year, Ricks reply was simply: "We do these things just because we enjoy helping others."

For further information, please contact Rick Lane at 968-8661. There is a $20 entry fee per team and all teams must consist of UNC students or faculty.

Black Greek Council News

BGC is sponsoring a spring Carnival to raise money for UNCF - Saturday 4-27 Ehringhaus Field

Kappa Alpha Psi received a national commendation for their efforts working with "Upward Bound" High schoolers as tutors/counselors

Phi Beta Sigma - raised $1000 for Sickle Cell funds

Stepshows coming soon? look for advertisements in library

Sororities Combine Charity Strength

by Linda Goforth

Each year the Panhellenic Council uses the combined strength of all the sororities on campus to develop service projects for causes such as the American Heart Association, the Animal Protection Society and the Baptist Daycare Center. These projects serve a variety of community needs and specialized organizations. For example, a recent sorority charity effort was conducted during the month of February, when balloons were sold on Franklin Street every Thursday and Friday to raise money for the American Heart Association.

Another project is Derby Week, presented each fall by Alpha Tau Chapter of Sigma Chi and the Panhellenic Council. Begun in 1945, this fundraiser is the largest charity drive on campus and has raised more than $50,000 over the past four years.

The beneficiary of last fall's Derby Week was the Ronald McDonald house of Chapel Hill, a place where families of children being treated for serious illnesses at North Carolina Memorial can stay.

Another service supported by the Panhellenic Council is the Orange County Women's Center, which presents workshops for women on topics ranging from stress management to financial planning. It also houses the Orange County Rape Crisis Center and acts as a referral service for abused women. Each sorority is a member of the center and provides help, such as telephone drive personnel.

Besides these Panhellenic Council coordinated activities, each sorority has one or more philanthropies or organizations for which they raise money and offer time and resources.

Individual sorority fundraising events may include a range of activities which not only raise money, but develop a sense of responsibility and civic duty among participating members.

Individual sorority charity efforts are:

Alpha Chi Omega: McDowell Fine Arts Colony, The National Easter Seal Society, The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Self-Help Toys

Alpha Delta Pi: Ronald McDonald House

Alpha Kappa Alpha: Ronald McDonald House, Urban Crisis Center

Chi Omega: Orange County Women's Center

Delta Delta Delta: Children's Cancer Fund

Delta Phi Epsilon: National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

Delta Sigma Theta: Blood Drives, community work

Kappa Alpha Theta: Institute of Logopedics, Wichita, KS

Kappa Delta: Children's Hospital in Richmond, VA

Kappa Kappa Gamma: Rose McGill Fund

Phi Mu: Project HOPE

Pi Beta Phi: The Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts, The Settlement School in Gatlinburg, TN

Sigma Sigma Sigma: Robbie Page Memorial Fund

Zeta Phi Beta: Foster Homes, Vocational Guidance Centers

Zeta Tau Alpha: The Association of Retarded Citizens

Photo by Nancy Good