Ticket distribution policies changing

By SCOTT FOWLER
Assistant Sports Editor

Ticket distribution policies are one of the more important things in many North Carolina student's life, ranking right in there with frat parties and cutting classes. Clip this article and save it to tell you how to get one of the more cherished commodities on the UNC campus — great seats for football and basketball games.

The policy will remain basically the same for football and basketball games this year, but there have been a few changes all students should be aware of.

Individual tickets for football games will be distributed randomly at the Ticket Office beginning at 8:30 a.m. the Wednesday prior to each home game. The first distribution will be Wednesday, Sept. 11 for the LSU game.

Students may pick up a ticket with their valid student ID, registration card and athletic pass (all three of these are required) and may sit in groups of one to six. Students also have the option of bringing up to five other student ID's, registration cards and athletic passes and being able to pick up six tickets for football. No student may pick up more than six tickets.

For block seating during football games, groups of 20 to 100 may send a representative to sign up for block seats between 8:30 a.m. and noon each Monday before a home game. When representatives sign up for a bloc, they must also turn in all athletic passes to the ticket office at Carmichael. The blocs will be randomly drawn and the results posted at 3:00 p.m. Monday in Carmichael Auditorium and the Student Union.

Representatives may check to see if their block was successful, and if they don't receive block seating, all athletic passes will be returned to the representative. On Tuesday, successful representatives may pick up athletic passes and tickets between 8:30 and 3:30 p.m. in Carmichael.

Student guest tickets are available on a season basis for $42 and on an individual game basis for $14 per game. A student is limited to one season guest ticket or one individual game guest ticket for one or all of the games. Guest tickets may be purchased at the Ticket Office beginning Friday from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. and must be purchased in advance of ticket distributions.

The basketball ticket policy is still a bit unsettled due to the possible opening of the new Student Activities Center. Tickets will still be distributed on weekends only, but the seating will be totally random, with no distinction between permanent and bleacher seats. No guest tickets are available for the regular season games in Carmichael. Guest tickets will be available beginning Oct. 14 for the Blue-White games and the exhibition game with the Greek National team.

If and when the Student Activities Center opens, ticket distribution will be held in that building on the same dates below, the chief difference being the increased number of tickets for students.

Tar Heels lose true friend in Woods

The University of North Carolina lost a good friend over the summer.

Ray E. "Monty" Woods, Assistant Sports Information Director at the school, died after a long illness May 21. He was buried in his hometown of Cedar Grove, West Virginia.

Monty was just 26 when he left us, but those of us whose lives he touched will remember him for a long time.

He was a hard worker, a devoted man and a good friend.

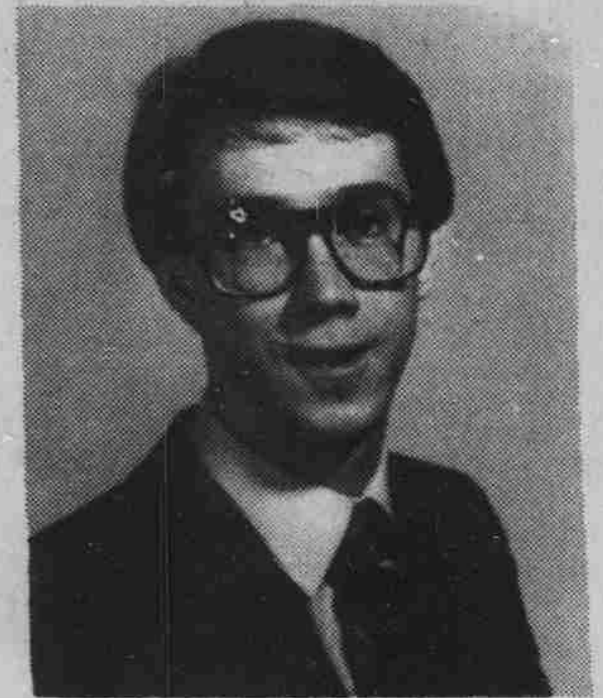

Other ACC sports information people used to kid Monty about how comprehensive the baseball statistics he compiled were. "Hey, Monty, you mean you don't even have their won-loss record on Thursdays when it was raining?" they would facetiously ask. But they understood what he put into his work, and they respected him for it.

That devotion Monty had for his job showed. The UNC baseball yearbooks he came out with were a class act, and he won national awards from CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America) for publications he had produced while at Ohio University.

He was a great person to work with: always willing to help out, to lend a hand, to go that extra distance to make sure you had the information you needed when you left his office.

But the most outstanding individual characteristic of Monty Woods was that he was just a real nice guy. He genuinely cared about the people around him. There was a low-key charm and wit to him that made everyone who knew him feel like they had a sincere, honest friend.

Golfers prepare for fall season

By TOM MORRIS
Staff Writer

There was very little summer vacation for the UNC women's golf team.

Instead of living it up at the beach, the team members honed their skills by playing in amateur tournaments that will give them added experience heading into the fall season, according to head coach Dot Gunnells.

Three players qualified for the U.S. Women's Amateur. Seniors Kandi Kessler and Kelly Beck, along with incoming freshman Donna Andrews, represent the most golfers ever to qualify for the U.S. Women's Amateur from the UNC women's team, Gunnells said.

last year, and with the experience gained over the summer and the addition of three talented freshmen, they hope to improve on last year's high finish, Gunnells said. The Tar Heels must replace Page Marsh, but Gunnells said she was looking for good seasons out of seniors Kessler and Beck.

"They are definitely going to be the leaders of this team," Gunnells said of Kessler and Beck, who both played in the top five last year.

One other senior returns from last year's team, Leigh Hunnicutt. "She has worked hard. I hope she will break into the top five," Gunnells said.

In addition to qualifying for the U.S. Women's Amateur this summer, Kessler and Beck also did well in other tournaments. Kessler advanced to the quarterfinals of the Southern Amateur and the Women's Western Amateur. Beck reached the semifinals of the Women's Southern Amateur.

"She lost on the 17th hole to her teammate, Page Marsh," Gunnells said. Beck also placed third in the North Carolina Women's Amateur.

Two juniors, Angela Wells and Kathleen Grady, return from last year's squad. "Angela made the top five last year several times. I think she will help us this year," Gunnells said.

Gunnells said the three incoming freshmen, Katie Peterson, Sonna Andrews and Suzy McGuire, are some of the most experienced freshmen she has ever had, due to their play on the summer amateur circuit.

"Peterson just won the AJGA (American Junior Golf Association) Tournament of Champions," Gunnells added. "She won the AJGA Hudson and she also led her high school team to the Florida state championship."

"Donna Andrews won the Virginia Women's Stroke Play Championship, The Virginia Women's Match Play Championship and she got to the finals of the Trans-National."

McGuire is the New York State Junior Champion and qualified for the championship flight of the Broadmoor Tournament, she added.

Gunnells enters the season with optimism. "I am excited," she said. "I feel like we will have a good year. All three of our freshmen have a lot of experience."

The women's golf schedule was not available at press time.
