

THE Daily Crossword by Gayle Dean

- ACROSS
 1 Saga
 5 Coin toss call
 10 Rainbows
 14 Miles of film
 15 Void
 16 Soccer great
 17 Eng. school
 18 Result of a fall from a sill?
 20 Lets
 22 Snail
 23 Article
 25 Possessive
 26 Stewardess?
 31 Mobile homes?
 35 Charge with gas
 36 Molding
 38 Crude metal
 39 Comp. pt.
 40 O.T. book
 42 Gun a motor
 43 Common abbr.
 44 Flower part
 45 Lively
 48 Last but not —
 50 Spring growth?
 52 "— the season..."
 54 Siouan
 55 Asians
 60 Adam's ale
 64 Bargain-priced voyage?
 66 Hack
 67 Prevaricated
 68 "— Grows in Brooklyn"
 69 "The Red"
 70 Whirlpool
 71 Sierra — 72 Evaluate

© 1986 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved

5/23/86

- DOWN
 1 At any time
 2 A Rose
 3 Press
 4 Southwestern saloon
 5 Left to horses
 6 Puzzle
 7 Tolstoi heroine
 8 Dandy apparel
 9 Laziness
 10 Put side by side
 11 Harvest
 12 History Muse
 13 Transmit
 19 Drop a line
 21 Printer's mark
 24 Oust
 26 Jury group
 27 "Festina —"
 28 Betel nut palm
 29 — Jean Baker (Marilyn Monroe)
 30 Self
 32 Water wheel
 33 Roman fountain
 34 Cut
 37 Put into law
 41 Skirt bottom
 44 Smart
 46 Food
 47 Playhouse
 49 Stable
 51 More optimistic

- 53 Fulton's propellant
 55 Eye amorously
 56 Foray
 57 Angered
 58 "Thin, Man" dog
 59 Pantry item
 61 Scarlett's home
 62 Way out
 63 Paddy growth
 65 Civil War figure

See Solution on page 10

Graduation

dean, the graduates' cheers rang out in excited relief. One group released balloons when their school's dean recognized them. Graduates of the various schools were recognized together by their

Alumni

from page 1

age them to come back to the University as often as they can and to continue to give financial support to the University."

Fordham said the gift came at a good time for the University. "It is in time to get geared up for the University's bicentennial celebration," he said. "The giver showed great sensitivity, judgment, wisdom and generosity in making this gift."

A variety of alumni programs such as pre and post football and basketball game activities will take place in the Alumni Center, said Bo Dunlap, assistant director of Alumni Affairs. Currently the alumni use other campus facilities such as the Carolina Inn, Toy Lounge and Morehead Planetarium. Although the Alumni Association will not discontinue using these facilities, it will be advantageous to have a central location for alumni activities, Dunlap said.

Players chosen

From Associated Press reports

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The Atlantic Coast Conference, which has six of its eight teams in the NCAA Tournament this season, placed seven players on the 18-man U.S. National Team for the World Basketball Championship in July.

Guards Jeff Lebo and Kenny Smith and forward Joe Wolf, all of North Carolina, North Carolina State forward-center Charles Shackelford, Duke guard Tommy Amaker, forward Tommy Hammonds of Georgia Tech, and guard Tyrone Bogues of Wake Forest, head the squad that will travel in Spain July 5-20.

The selections were announced Tuesday by the U.S. Amateur Basketball Association after a five-day trial of 42 players at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs.

The players will gather June 14 in Tucson, Ariz., under University of Arizona Coach Lute Olson and his assistants, Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Cremins, Cal-Santa Barbara Coach Jerry Pimm and Arizona assistant Scott Thompson.

The final will be set around June 20 for competition in the 24-team World Championship.

Second-team All-American Danny Manning of Kansas and Navy's 6-11 junior center David Robinson, a third-team All-American, also were selected during the tryouts.

Manning, 6-foot-11, who led Kansas to a 35-4 record and a berth in the Final Four before losing to NCAA runner-up Duke in the semifinals, paced the Jayhawks with an average of 16.9 points per game. Robinson, also 6-11, led the Midshipmen to a 30-5 record with a 22.7 average.

Navy, the Colonial Athletic Association champion, also was eliminated by Duke, 71-50 in the East Regional finals.

Other named were Rony Seikaly of Syracuse, Reggie Williams of Georgetown, David Butler of California, Sean Elliot and Steve Kerr of Arizona, Armon Gilliam of Nevada-Las Vegas, Derrick McKey of Alabama, Todd Mitchell of Purdue, and Brian Shaw of Cal-Santa Barbara.

department deans and were asked to stand because of the size of the graduating class. Students received their diplomas in the Student Union following the ceremonies.

The day's ceremonies also included the awarding of four honorary degrees by the faculty and the Board of Trustees in recognition for unusually outstanding and noteworthy achievements in the state. An honorary Doctor of Laws degree was awarded to Governor Martin. Two Doctor of Science degrees were awarded, one to Harriet L. Rheingold, a research psychologist at UNC, and another to Ivan E. Sutherland, a computer scientist. John K. Terres, a naturalist and editor of the "Encyclopedia of North American Birds," was awarded an honorary Doctor of Letters degree.

Fraud

from page 6

"It's just an offshoot of the old chinchilla scheme with rabbits," Stuart said.

Lloyd Levitt, the Maddux's attorney, said the rabbit ranch scheme began as a legitimate business that eventually got out of hand.

"It wasn't a fly-by-night operation," he said. "It just got very big, very quick and he couldn't control the operation."

Maddux acknowledged that fraud did occur, but told the judge his wife was an "innocent party" in the scheme.

But MacCoon said Maddux "has made consumer fraud his way of life" and that his wife was an active participant in the rabbit ranch scam.

The two were named in a 34-count federal indictment a year ago and were arrested in January in Columbia, Mo., at a motel where they were selling fur teddy bears and fur coats.

Is Not Life Too Short For Us To Bore Ourselves? —Nietzche

GRANVILLE TOWERS The Ultimate Living Experience In The Heart Of The Village

University Square
 Chapel Hill, N.C.

Accommodations for summer and/or fall
 still available

929-7143

