workshops. The president and board members are selected in the spring through open interviews and committee members are chosen in the fall. Committees include Film, Human Relations, Performing Arts, Publicity and Public Relations.

• Chimera: The UNC Fantasy and Science Fiction Club is a social organization that meets every two weeks to provide discussion, guest speakers and video showings for those who share an interest in science fiction. The group sponsors an annual convention held at the end of January called Chimera Con.

• The Clef Hangers is an a capella men's singing group that annually tours the East Coast twice and gives two or three concerts on campus. The group has 12 to 14 members and holds auditions periodically.

• Nihongo o Hanasu Kai provides students studying Japanese with a means of practicing the language with other students and native Japanese. The group meets every Thursday from noon to 2 p.m.

• North Carolina Student Legislature involves students in the legislative process of government through a mock general assembly. The individual school branches of the NCSL write and vote on bills, which are then presented to state political leaders. The NCSL holds an Annual Session in March, when all the delegates from the state present bills to the branches of different universities around the state. In March, UNC's delegation was the largest. It meets weekly and its office is located in the Student Union.

• The Radio, Television, and Motion Pictures Student Association allows RTVMP majors to meet others in the field, including students and faculty. The organization sponsors guest speakers and other activities.

• Rape and Assault Prevention Escort is a service that was established six years ago to guard the safety of women walking across campus at night. Women can call the service's operator, who then dispatches an escort to meet her. Escorts are selected by their dorm RAs.

• The Residence Hall Association, located in the Student Union, serves as a go-between for students and University Housing, voicing the concerns of dorm residents to University officials. RHA also helps to fund and plan all-campus events, such as Springfest, and makes policy decisions concerning students. The RHA president is elected in the spring, at the same time as the student body president, and other appointed positions are available.

• Sociedad Hispania Carolinesa

sponsors events designed to increase awareness of Hispanic life and culture. The organization's office is Dey Hall 014-A.

• Student Congress, the legislative branch of Student Government, decides how to divide student funds among University-recognized organizations and votes on other issues concerning the campus. Members are elected by their districts in the spring.

• Student Consumer Action Union, located in the Carolina Union, looks out for the student consumer. It publishes, among other things, the "Southern Part of
