A SUPPLEMENT TO THE DAILY TAR HEEL

COVER: Just an illusion

DTH Editor Jim Zook and staff photographer Larry Childress escaped numerous social obligations Saturday night to spend the evening at The Power Company, a gay bar in Durham featuring female impersonators..... 6

Where there's smoke . . .

There should be fire. And, according to Alexandra Mann, the Smoking Phones, a local band headed for bigger and better, has its own fire. But, seriously, just what is a smoking phone?..... 3

Pedro sez . . .

This week's recipe column by Greg Moores features Mexican food. For those of you with weak stomachs, grab the Gas-X..... 4

Pories' pick

Kathleen Pories reviews "Kate Vaiden," the new novel by Reynolds Price, the author with two last names..... 4

Keeping the beat

WXYC disc jockeys continue their never-ending quest for MTV/Wham!-style music. Steve Balcom reviews three new releases from up-and-coming bands..... 5

All is not lost

The underage among us may not be allowed to down a cold one, but they can enjoy the music that goes along with it..... 5

Not the Hard Rock

It's the Hardback Cafe, a Chapel Hill restaurant with better food and fewer tourists than its more cosmo sound-alike. And they don't have those obnoxious T-shirts either..... 9

Steve Earle . . . or was that Earle Steve?

Jim "Mr. Big East" Surowiecki, our resident jack-of-all-trades, extends his already expansive horizons even further. His usual laconic self, Jim this week expounds upon Steve Earle, the singer with two first names..... 10

'sup?

Find out. All the area happenings are listed in Week's Fare..... 11
