14 Days. 34 Events. A Lifetime Of Burning Memories.

Road To The Olympics
 With the arrival of U.S. Olympic Festival-87 this summer, North Carolina will witness the largest and one of the greatest single events in her history. U.S. Olympic Festival-87 will be held in Raleigh, Durham, Chapel Hill, Cary and Greensboro, with yachting at Henderson Point on Kerr Lake.

U.S. Olympic Festival-87 will feature:

- 3,000 of America's top amateur athletes
- 34 Olympic and Pan American sports
- 300,000 spectators
- 1,200 media representatives from around the world
- 7,000 volunteers needed
- 110 hours of national television coverage on ESPN
- $9 million economic impact on North Carolina

Congress on Sports Medicine & Science
 The U.S. Olympic Festival-87 Congress on Sports Medicine and Science July 10-15 will be the first of its kind in the United States. The conference, made possible by a grant from Burroughs Wellcome Co., is being co-hosted by the U.S. Olympic Committee, North Carolina Amateur Sports, Duke University and the University of North Carolina.

Authorities from around the world will discuss sports medicine issues, trends and techniques for coaches, trainers and physicians. The conference will feature speakers from the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, East Germany, Canada, Greece, Sweden and South Korea.

Public Transportation
 Public transportation during U.S. Olympic Festival-87 will be facilitated by the recent completion of Interstate 40 from Research Triangle Park to Highway 150-51 in Chapel Hill. The eight-mile stretch was scheduled for completion by the N.C. Department of Transportation one full year ahead of schedule.

One of the unique features of the USOF-87 transportation plan is a low-ban radio traffic report, available within three miles of several venues on 1610 AM. NCAS will also provide some park & rides from outlying areas to competition venues, and shuttle service around the college campuses. Parking attendants will be on hand at all USOF-87 venues.
