

Student Judicial System Activity

Spring semester 1987

Pleas/Verdicts: G = Guilty; NG = Not Guilty; DS = Definite Suspension; IS = Indefinite Suspension; DP = Definite Probation; IP = Indefinite Probation; C = Censure; VBR = Violation of Basic Rights; IE = Insufficient Evidence; SS = Severity of Sanction

Charge	Plea/ Appeal	Verdict	Sanction
Falsified research data, samples, documents, and time sheets and submitted them with the intent to deceive the Maternal Child Health division of the School of Public Health during the spring 1987	G	G	DS through the spring semester 1987; Restitution
Appealed to University hearings Board	SS		Sustained
Appealed to Chancellor	SS		Sustained
Attempted to damage personal property on institutional premises in the form of a vending machine belonging to Triangle Coin Caterers on March 3, 1987	NG	G	Censure
Falsified and forged University documents in the form of work-study time sheets and submitted them with intent to deceive to the Financial Aid Office during the spring semester 1987	G	G	DP through the fall semester 1987; restitution

Freshman

from page 40

Graduate students get first priority for permits, followed by seniors, juniors and sophomores.

The University does make exceptions in certain cases, however. If a freshman feels he has a compelling reason to have a car on campus, he can apply for a waiver at the traffic office.

Kuralt

from page 35

engraved before it could be printed. 6,000 copies rolled off the presses each day to serve the Tar Heel student body.

"The staff wasn't very large," he remembered. "There were only about six or seven people putting out the paper."

And most of those faithful few went on to have successful careers in journalism. Rolfe Neill, the 1954 managing editor, is now the publisher of the Charlotte Observer. One 1954 associate editor, Ed Yoder, is now a syndicated columnist for the Washington Post; the other, Louis Kraar, is an editor of Fortune magazine.

Kuralt said he vividly remembered the afternoon of the desegregation ruling. The story came over the Associated Press wire just as he was planning the next day's paper.

"I remember thinking, 'now I don't have to worry about what to put on the front page,'" he said.

The Daily Tar Heel editorial staff applauded the landmark decision in the next day's editorial. "We welcomed the decision and said it was just and the ultimate decision was how you felt about it — and the Daily Tar Heel felt good," Kuralt said.

At that time, Kuralt said, there were only two black students at UNC, and they were segregated from the student body.

"Though things did not change immediately, we knew they wouldn't," Kuralt said.

Kuralt said the "Try to Remember" pilot will focus on the effects of the decision on American life. He said the episode may be aired during the fall season.

Eating out

from page 18

a sort-of pizza of unknown nationality. They also serve wonderful desserts at good prices. Although hidden away down a small staircase, Tripodi's is usually busy.

Pizza anyone?

Well, when you're in the mood, Italian Pizzeria on West Franklin has the best. It's run by stern, dangerous-looking Italians, or maybe Sicilians, who mutter unintelligibly while they make your pie.

If you have Mom or Dad's credit card, or a fat wallet, dress up and go to La Residence, a private home on Rosemary Street converted into a French restaurant. Very expensive. Gives you shivers just walking by the place.

A lot of fine eateries have been left off this list, but that can't be helped. Remember, don't study so hard that you end up eating all your meals on campus and thus forget to treat your palate properly.

Holy Mess

from page 33

Seymour agreed with Wortman that the poor and the elderly are being harmed by televangelism. "I think it is clear that the major damage done by the televangelists is that they are exploiting vulnerable people who give money in good faith who don't have the money to give," Seymour said. "This is a way of robbing the poor."

Evans said that he does not see local churches benefiting from the controversy. "A church that teaches tithing will not be threatened at all," he said.

Wortman said that people who have seen that corruption can exist in televangelism will give their money to local or community churches where there is more credibility. "The difficult thing for us now is to discern who has credibility," he said.

Abrahamson said, "A distinction needs to be made between legitimate televangelists, such as Billy Graham, and the 'empire builders.' Billy Graham's first intent is preaching, not fundraising like Oral Roberts, Falwell and the Bakkers. Graham's ministry will be affected, but not devastated, because some people do not see the distinction between legitimate televangelists and others."

Wartmon said, "The issue at stake here is character. It is not just Jim Bakker, it is Gary Hart, it is Ted Kennedy, it is all of those people who have the public's trust."

THE Daily Crossword by Martha J. De Witt

ACROSS
1 Priam's son
6 Sentry's word
10 Euclid's forte
14 On the qui vive
15 Lamb
16 Inter —
17 Stake
18 Stargazer's craft
20 Hawaiian garland
21 Plane beginning
23 Hiawatha's craft
24 Damp
26 Seesaws
28 Gyps
30 Dike and Eunomia
31 Ravelings
32 Trekking
36 Skill
37 Hazes
38 Saint's first name
39 Pictures
42 Rathbone
44 Boosted
45 Cape
46 Dear
49 Misstep
50 Similar
51 Transported with delight
52 Tier
55 Motion picture
58 Invest with some quality: var.
60 Ger. river
61 Tart
62 Files high
63 Cincinnati team
64 Whips
65 Rendezvous
DOWN
1 Tripper

© 1987 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved

08/24/87

- |                         |                            |                              |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|------------------------------|
| 2 Wings                 | 26 Track figures           | 43 Response: abbr.           |
| 3 Organizes intc groups | 27 Blunders                | 45 Homo sapiens              |
| 4 Cholera               | 28 Dressed                 | 46 Tartan                    |
| 5 Magellan and Malacca  | 29 Take on                 | 47 Leave out                 |
| 6 Core                  | 30 Watered                 | 48 Ceiled                    |
| 7 Too                   | 32 Agreed                  | 49 Eng. city                 |
| 8 Came down             | 33 Today                   | 51 Rotate                    |
| 9 Do road work          | 34 Malevolent              | 53 Possessive pronoun        |
| 10 Sea cow              | 35 Mrs. Roy Rogers         | 54 Occident                  |
| 11 Solo                 | 37 Emcee's item            | 56 Tabby                     |
| 12 Sunda island         | 40 Necklaces               | 57 Edible tuber              |
| 13 Helen or Gabby       | 41 Cleaves                 | 59 "Neither rain — snow ..." |
| 19 Liner's milieu       | 42 Protestant denomination |                              |
| 22 Mountain curve       |                            |                              |
| 25 Cereal grain         |                            |                              |

See solution, page 19

YOUR CENTER FOR...

DANCE CONCERTS!

All concerts start at 9:30 p.m. Beer/Wine available with I.D.

$1 OFF any dance concert including:

- Aug. 28  Awareness  reggae
 Aug. 29  Swamp Cats  Hokum
 Sept. 5  Tornado  rock
 Sept. 26  The Rhythm Method  rock

Awareness Art

Ensemble

The ArtsCenter Carrboro • 942-2041
 Sound System provided by Music Loft, 300 E. Main St., Carrboro

We're Fighting For Your Life.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

Kroger Plaza Chapel Hill

- Special Rates for Students
- Birth Control Information & supplies at reduced cost
- V.D. & Pregnancy Testing
- All information confidential

call for an appointment

942-7762732-6161

Subscribe to the Tar Heel 962-0245

WERE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association

