UNC's Dino Megaloudis battles a Georgia Southern player for the ball in Wednesday's Tar Heel win

Volleyball whips UVa.

From staff reports

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — Coach Peggy Bradley-Doppes' UNC volleyball team continued its early-season surge Tuesday night with a straight-game victory over Atlantic Coast Conference rival Virginia.

The Tar Heels prevailed 15-4, 15-11, 15-10, to push their record to 5-0 on the young season.

Leading the UNC statistical parade were Sharon German, who had 14 kills, Lisa Joffis (nine digs) and Liz Berg (three aces).

Calling all sports folks

Hey, DTH sports staffers, and you know who you are.

We will have a mandatory, get-to-know-one-another meeting this afternoon at 4:15 in the sports office. Final beat assignments will be made then, so if you don't want to end up covering intramural tiddlywinks this semester you'd best show up.

Dress, as always, is casual.

Missimo scores hat trick, leads soccer to easy win

By BRENDAN MATHEWS
Staff Writer

Behind three goals from sophomore forward Derek Missimo, the UNC men's soccer team ended its slide Wednesday with a 6-0 win over Georgia Southern. The victory ups the Tar Heels' record to 2-3, a disappointment for a team picked to contend for the national title.

The way North Carolina played in the first half made it easy to understand why the Tar Heels are in such dire straits. They suffered from control problems throughout, missing passes and hurrying their shots on goal.

North Carolina bounced the ball off the left post, the crossbar, and fired above the net from in close before its luck finally changed. At 24:20, Donald Cogsville blazed one across the turf from 30 yards out, past the diving Nathan Carey.

That would prove to be all UNC would need to win, and for the rest of the first half all the Tar Heels would get. Cogsville took on and beat three Georgia Southern defenders at 30:11, but kicked wide to the left on a tight angle.

UNC had a few near misses late in the half. A Dino Megaloudis corner kick at 34:30 set off a scramble in front of the Eagles' goal that yielded three shots at the net but no points for the Tar Heels.

Georgia Southern never threatened to score, and rarely even brought the ball into North Carolina territory. The half ended with the Tar Heels outshooting the Eagles 17-1.

Noticeably absent from the attack was Missimo, who scored 13 goals as a freshman but had racked up only one assist in his first four games. But all of that changed in the second half as Missimo raged through the Georgia Southern defense for three goals and two assists.

"When you're a forward you feel the pressure to score," UNC coach Anson Dorrance said. "That's been on Derek's mind. Today has to be a real confidence builder for him."

The team's performance in the second half had to be a confidence builder for all of the Tar Heels. UNC came out strong immediately, playing like the team that made it to last year's Final Four. At the front of the assault was Missimo, who weaved through diving Georgia Southern defenders like they were fallen logs.

Missimo struck quickly, barely breaking stride as he fired into the corner from in close at 50:45. The Tar Heels stepped up the pace, and at 58:32 Missimo took the assist from midfielder Chad Ashton on a ricochet into net.

Forward Jim Gourlay increased the margin, lobbing the assist from Missimo over outstretched Georgia Southern goalie Kevin Chambers. Minutes later Donald Cogsville gave a lesson in textbook soccer, faking the returned Nathan Carey out of his Mitres and rolling the ball to make it 5-0.

With time running out, Missimo topped off the day with his second career hat trick. At 80:17 he recovered his own blocked shot and fired dead center for the unassisted goal.

The combination of a relentless Tar Heel attack and the oppressive heat on Fetzter Field wilted the Georgia Southern offense as well as the defense. The Eagles finished the game with only three shots and one corner kick, compared to 33 shots and 12 corners for UNC. In the game's closing minutes, the Eagles play fell apart as their attitude shifted from "we can still win this one" to "let's just try not to get shut out."

Afterward, Dorrance was pleased with the win, but hoping that it had been number three or four for the season, rather than number two. "We were hoping to get out with a win, and it's a good one, especially by the margin of victory," he said. "It stops the slide. The win pulls us up out of the slump and gets us going."

Cold Feet?

Don't get cold feet about a pelvic exam. Do what I did, call Planned Parenthood. At Planned Parenthood, my nurse practitioner took lots of time to explain the exam to me. She answered all my questions and really treated me as a person. I wanted to talk about birth control so one of the counselors discussed all the methods all the methods available. With her help I was able to make the decision that was right for me. You don't have to get cold feet about your health. Just call Planned Parenthood. Call for an appointment.
