What can I sell? At each buy-back period we are able to buy only those texts the teaching staff has indicated will be used again the following semester with the limitation of the number of texts we need in our supply.

How much can I get? With this commitment we are able to offer 50% of retail price on all books that publishers classify as text and 33 1/3% of retail price on all books classified as trade.

What about books no longer used? A buyer will offer you the current wholesale price on all books that have a value. This price is determined by the law of supply and demand, and if the book has been in circulation for a long time or is not being used by many other schools, this price will probably be less. Many students feel their books are worth more to them for their personal library than the amount the bookstore buyer can offer for them. This you must decide for yourself.

Dear Santa,
I know you're checking your list so I thought I'd better write to let you know that I was nice all year (for the most part, but even when I was naughty, I was good).
So, I would like for you to bring me a Corolla blue convertible BMW 325 with a cellular phone and a CD player with an Alpine sound system, first-class passage on the QE2's annual 'round-the-world cruise (with the return by Concord), a big condo on the beach at Acapulco or Biarritz, an all-in-one stereo and video center with a 54" color stereo TV, VCR, CD player, Bose speakers... the "E.T." video, Nintendo, ...
Actually, Santa, in the true spirit of the holidays, I'd like to give something in addition to receiving something. Something special that I can have and enjoy myself and share it with my special friend too. It always seems that whenever we want to do something together, it's too expensive. But, Santa, there's a real special deal here which allows students to share the Carolina Union's '88-'89 Performing Arts Series with our friends... the TWO-FOR-ONE season subscription ticket! For the cost of one of these tickets ($51.00), my friend and I can see the Hubbard Street Dance Company on Jan. 20th, the Budapest Symphony Orchestra with guest pianist Leonard Pennario on Feb. 13th, the Broadway hit, "My One and Only," on Feb. 27th, and the Tokyo String Quartet on March 5th. That price also includes "For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When the Rainbow is Empty" on Jan. 31st.
Santa, do you realize how much we can save? I can use the TWO-FOR-ONE on single tickets too! But HURRY! The box office is open 'til December 21st to fill these gift orders, and all you have to do is call 962-1449 and charge your VISA or MasterCard. Write that save you a lot of time? And there's no better way to show the holiday spirit with my special friend all through the new year than a great '89!
