Soviet-Chinese summit planned

From Associated Press reports

BEIJING — Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev will visit China May 15-18 for the first summit between the two countries since they split bitterly 30 years ago, China announced Monday.

The official Xinhua News Agency also issued a joint Chinese-Soviet statement on Cambodia containing points of agreement reached between Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze and his Chinese counterpart, Qian Qichen, in meetings last week.

Both support a Vietnamese troop pullout from Cambodia by September, with "strict international supervision," and an end to Chinese aid to Cambodia's anti-Vietnamese guerrillas.

They still differ over the composition of a transitional government in Cambodia from the current Vietnamese-installed Hun Sen regime to a popularly elected government. Xinhua said the two sides will continue to discuss their differences. However, China apparently considers the Cambodian problem close enough to resolution to go ahead with a Chinese-Soviet summit.

One of its conditions for a summit has been a Vietnamese withdrawal from Cambodia after a decade of occupation.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Sunday the summit would be held May 15-18. Xinhua did not say why the Chinese Foreign Ministry waited more than 24 hours after Shevardnadze ended his visit to announce the date.

Shevardnadze told a news conference in Beijing on Saturday that the two sides agreed the summit would be held in mid-May, and the Soviet Embassy privately said on Saturday the date was May 15.

However, in a blunt contradiction minutes after Shevardnadze's plane took off, Chinese Foreign Minister Tian Zengpei insisted no date was fixed and his government was still considering the matter.

Shevardnadze also was two hours late arriving in Beijing for his news conference from Shanghai, where he had met with senior Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping. In the absence of any official explanation, speculation arose that a hitch had developed in setting the summit date.

The summit will officially normalize relations that turned hostile in 1960 over differences in ideology and strategy.

Trade, cultural and other exchanges have increased sharply in the past few years, especially since Gorbachev became Soviet party head in 1985, but China has held back on normalizing political ties.

Vaccination

they might be pregnant will not receive the vaccine, nor will those who are suffering from other illnesses or who have weak immune systems, he said.

All of this information will be given to students as they enter Woollen at a medical advisory table, Reimer said.

Measles is a viral disease that affects the respiratory tract and has an incubation period of eight to 10 days, said Dr. Al Collier, head of the pediatric infectious disease division of North Carolina Memorial Hospital. Symptoms can appear between eight to 12 days following exposure to the virus, he said.

The first symptom of measles is fever, followed by red eyes, a runny nose and a cough. Between 24 and 48 hours after these symptoms a rash develops, first behind the ears and on the neck, but eventually spreading all over the body, Collier said.

Measles is not affected by antibiotics, and the only treatment for the disease is rest and attempts to relieve individual symptoms, Cowan said.

Measles is highly contagious and can be caught from sneezes or casual hand contact with a measles patient, Collier said.

"The vaccine is not 100 percent perfect," he said. "Even out of those vaccinated, there's about 5 percent who come down with the disease."

Before the first case of measles was

When the Undergrad was open for 24 hours last semester, an average of 80 people were there from 1 a.m. to 8 a.m., Martin said.

South African leader Botha may retire following stroke

From Associated Press reports

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Newspapers Sunday said President P.W. Botha, who stepped down as leader of the ruling party last week, may retire soon.

Botha, who suffered a stroke Jan. 18, resigned Thursday as head of the National Party and was replaced the same day by National Education Minister F.W. de Klerk, who is considered Botha's heir apparent as president.

Botha said he will stay on as president, but he has appointed Constitutional Development Minister Chris Heunis as acting president while he recuperates.

Doctors say the 73-year-old Botha is making a rapid recovery but will need at least another month before he can consider returning to work.

Botha was not present for the opening of Parliament in Cape Town on Friday and has not been participating in the government's day-to-day operations, officials have said.

The Sunday Times, the country's largest paper, said in a front-page story that Botha's decision to step down as party chief "is a prelude to complete withdrawal from public life."

Manson replies to teen's letter

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Mass murderer Charles Manson responded with a postcard to a ninth-grader's letter asking him what his future plans are and if he would commit murder if released on probation.

Manson, who has a parole hearing scheduled for Wednesday at California's San Quentin Prison, didn't answer Lario Alcorta's questions. But he did write a postcard that Alcorta said was hard to decipher.

On the front of the card, under Manson's name and prison number, was written "You want one to fix what many have done."

"All you wrote about was the judgment made by others and

Brazilian prisoners killed

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Eighteen prisoners died and eight others were injured after they were jammed into a tiny cell in a punitive action following an attempted jail break, authorities said Sunday.

Several of the 18 died of asphyxiation, while others were trampled to death by cellmates when more than 50 prisoners were packed into a 3-by-9 foot cell with no window or ventilation, Sao Paulo state prison system spokesman Guilherme Santana told The Associated Press.

One was shot to death, said Carlos Vasconcelos, who is in charge of the Parque Sao Lucas jail where the incident occurred.

The prisoners were forced into the cell after grabbing prison guard Teresa Dantas in an early morning attempted break from the jail, in a working-class neighborhood of Sao Paulo.

Bush competes with N.C. hoops

It's basketball season in Atlantic Coast Conference country, and that means President Bush may be benched by the game of the week: North Carolina vs. North Carolina State.

The president begins his State of the Union address at game time, and the conflict has some North Carolina television stations debating their courses of action. At least three stations have decided to run the game live from beginning to end.

WRAL-TV in Raleigh has decided to show the presidential address live and join the game in progress. President Bush's speech is scheduled to last 25 minutes.
