A must-see movie that should be opening at a theatre near you over break is Touchstone Pictures' "New York Stories." It's made up of three separate tales from Woody Allen, Francis Ford Coppola and Martin Scorsese. What more could you possibly ask for in a movie?

The multi-Oscar-nominated "Mississippi Burning," leaves Chapel Hill tonight after a 2½ month run. Also bidding bon voyage is Joe Dante's "The 'Burbs," starring Oscar-nominated Tom Hanks, after a two-week run. Both films remain at other area theatres.

As last week, Oscar-nominated movies are highlighted, and, as always, especially wonderful films are asterisked.

Chapel Hill Public Library

Tuesday, March 14, 2:30; Wednesday, March 15, 7:00.

Public Enemy When this Jimmy Cagney film was released in 1931, Variety called it the "roughest, most powerful and best gangster picture to date. So strong as to be repulsive in some aspects, with a revolting climax. No strong names in the cast but a lot of merit." The cast of unknowns also includes Jean Harlow. This terrific prohibition-era gangster film also includes the most effective uses of grapefruit in Hollywood history.

Tuesday, March 21, 2:30; Wednesday, March 22, 7:00.

The Man in The White Suit

This classic British comedy from the great Ealing studios stars Alec Guinness as a clothes designer who invents a fabric that never wears and threatens to steal business from the large manufacturers. Extremely funny throughout with an excellent cast, including Joan Greenwood and Cecil Parker, two Ealing favorites.
