Omnibus

This Week:

- 6 Cover Story: Mariakakis Restaurant & Bakery
If you're craving a good homemade meal with a different twist, Anne-Renee Rice suggests that you go to Mariakakis, a restaurant that specializes in Greek dishes made with unusual ingredients.
- 8 Prime-time top 10
Winston Lloyd takes a look back at TV in the '80s and gives his personal favorite shows from the decade, saving his number one choice for next week's Omnibus. (Do you remember 'Laverne and Shirley,' 'T.J. Hooker' and 'CHiPs?')
- 8 Spring into exams
Bryan Burns suggests plenty of ways to avoid studying during these last pressure-packed weeks . . . Frisbees, football, picnics and tree-planting. (Tree-planting?)
- 9 Generations ahead
NBC has broken the soap opera mold with its new show "Generations" by placing a black family in the spotlight. Billy Stockard discusses the show's realistic treatment of black and white relations in a Chicago community.
- 12 Center your attention on the arts
Carrboro's ArtsCenter is buzzing with unique musical events for the end of the semester. Guinevere Ross previews the coming attractions, among them jazz, zydeco, blues and 'bagpipe jazz-funk fusion' musicians.
