And then there's ...

TRouble with a CAPITAL T — Harold Hill, the famed con-man of the musical "The Music Man" arrived at Raleigh's Little Theatre last week and plans to stay a little while. This all-American musical includes familiar hits like "Sixty Six Trombones" and "Goodnight My Someone." Performance dates are Sept. 9, 13, 16-20 and 23-25. Tickets are $10-$17. The Theatre is at 101 Pogue St. in Raleigh. For more information, call 919-821-3111, noon to 5 p.m.

FRIENDS WHO BEAT — Drums, folks. Drum Friends of Percussion is an acoustic group who will be performing at the Cabaret in the Union this Saturday at 8 p.m. The band features various percussion instruments and horns, offering a mix of traditional tunes, original compositions, improvisations and rhythmic interplay. Call 962-1157 for more information.

MADONNA'S PAP SMEAR — You can get a sample for free Wednesday night in Slacker, the 1991 film by Richard Linklater. Slacker tells the myriad stories of the offbeat and oddball residents of Austin, Tx. In case you missed it at the Varsity last semester, it's playing at the Union Wednesday night at 6:30 and 9 p.m. Don't miss it again.
