The Glorious Fourth.

Folks talk about the balsam of the pines. The odor of the honeysuckle vines. And the perfume of the modest little violet in May; But these are not a joy To the patriotic boy Like the smell o' smoke, gun-powderous, on Independence Day.

Folks talk about the landscapes of Corot. The wonder-working Michael Angelo. And all the masterpieces that are reverently shown; But these do not excite Such a rapture of delight In the youthful celebrator as a "zazza" of his own.

Folks talk about the music of the band. The songs of Adelina Patti and The operatic chorus, or the anthem and the carol; But these are not as sweet To the urchin in the street As a 'giant shootin'-cracker' that's a-bangin' in a barrel."

Debt Paying to Good Standing.

No man can have a good standing in any capacity in his community if he fails to pay his debts. Whether he fails to pay through negligence or a desire to defraud it is all the same, his neighbors look at him as an unsafe proposition, and his chances for doing business with them are greatly lessened. Neither does it matter as to the size of the account he does not pay; in fact a man can quickly get an undesirable reputation for little accounts. Business men soon get to know those who are unsafe to pay, and the grant credit is given at all, it is on such terms as will be unprofitable to the buyer.—Durham Sun.

I gladly give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement, as they have proven of greater benefit to me than any other remedy I ever used. I suffered severely from a dull ache through the small of my back. Cotton Mill Curtailment.

A rumor is current that the Southern Soft Yarn Spinners association has formed a secret agreement to curtail very much in July and August, a money forfeit per spindle being attached for failure to abide by agreement.

Mr. Myrick, the new secretary, refuses to be interviewed on the subject. This association is one of the best organized of any in the textile world.

It is known that the mills are curtailing heavily, and it is possible that they will do so more heavily during July and August.

Secretary T. W. Crews of the Southern Hard Yarn Spinners association thinks the majority of the hard yarn mills in the south will increase their curtailment in July and August and that many of them will shut down for all or a greater part of the month. He says curtailment at present is heavy.

At a recent meeting of the hard yarn spinners of Gaston county, N. C., at Gastonia, a list of mills was shown representing 438,000 spindles, which had agreed to shut down during August if all the hard yarn mills will come in. The plan was, or is, to get the co-operation of 60 mills in upper South Carolina and lower North Carolina. It is reported that all but two have come in to the agreement.

The general opinion is that curtailment among southern mills, especially yarn mills, will be greater during July and August than at any time during the past two years.—Charlotte News.
