Breught The Boys Back.

Chief of Police M. L. Hux, of Weldon, was here between trains Tuesday morning, having brought three run-a-way boys, Masters Frank Whitley, Max Riddick and Jimmie Lawrence, back to their parents. The boys planned to run-a-way and go to far-away Texas, and very likely they expected to become cow poys of the West. Boarding the 7:28 train Monday night they made the trip to Weldon, but when they stepped from the car the big, fat policeman, dressed in a blue uniform, took the boys in charge, cared for them during the night and brought them safely home the next morning. But for the fact that the anxious families missed the boys in time to phone to Weldon and have them taken in charge, it is likely they would have boarded some t rough train and gone farther a presty tough time.

The boys are wiser by their experience and will doubtless be slow to attempt to run-a-way again soon
