

Market Review and Marine and Weather News

LOCAL MARKETS.

Table of local market prices for various goods including Country Produce, Eggs, Butter, etc.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Weather forecast for September 12, including temperature and precipitation for various cities.

COTTON.

(By Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 12.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 9 to 12 points on covering...

STOCKS.

(By Associated Press.) New York, (Wall Street,) Sept. 12.—The market opened today with numerous gains at 1 to 3 points and several new records...

REPORT MADE BY BOYS' WORK SECY.

Organization Has Been Exceedingly Successful—Its Growth Startling.

The report of Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, the City Boys' Work Secretary, for the year ending September 1 has been made and shows that a number of boys have taken active interest in the organization...

This organization stable and efficient during the coming year. Various groups of boys have been reached through extension clubs...

Hen Raises Quail. Bedford, Ind., Sept. 12.—A son of Eliza Smith, when working in a wheat field, found a quail's nest containing thirteen eggs...

SUNRISE and SUNSET.

Table showing sunrise and sunset times for Wednesday.

THREE STATES ARE TODAY IN MIDST

(Continued from page one.) bent, opposed for his term by S. Guyton McLendon, Atlanta. Prison Commissioner (one to be elected): R. E. Davison, Woodville...

LIVERPOOL COTTON.

Table showing Liverpool cotton market data for Oct. Nov., Jan.-Feb., and March-April.

WILMINGTON NAVAL STORES.

Table showing receipts for Wilmington Naval Stores.

SAVANNAH NAVAL STORES.

Table showing receipts for Savannah Naval Stores.

CHICAGO.

Table showing market prices for various commodities in Chicago.

DIED.

Died at Dublin, Ga., Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock, William Pritchett, oldest son of Jas. H. and Elizabeth Pritchett. Age 62 years. Interment at Dublin, Ga.

ASKING FOR THE NAVAL STATION

Fayetteville Delegation Calls on Sec. Daniels—To See Board Tomorrow.

(By George H. Manning.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The delegation from Fayetteville that came to Washington to present to the naval board the claims of Fayetteville for the location of the $50,000,000 government armor plate plant...

The committee has prepared a voluminous brief for presentation to the naval board, which meets tomorrow. The brief will be supplemented by verbal argument for as long a time as the committee will grant.

PLAGUE TAKES BOUND UP IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 12.—An increase in the infantile paralysis epidemic was shown in Department of Health bulletins covering the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock a. m. today. There are 38 new cases, as compared with 22 in yesterday's report...

STEAMER WILMINGTON.

The ship I marry must be able to support me in regal fashion. You're not looking for a man, you're looking for a boob.—Exchange.

WINTER SCHEDULE

Effective Tuesday, Sept. 5th, 1916. Leave Wilmington 9:30 A. M. Leave Southport 2:30 P. M. Touching Carolina Beach Pier going and coming.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE

Having qualified as Executrix of the Last Will and Testament of William L. Harlow, deceased, I hereby give notice to all persons having claims against said Testator to present the same to me on or before the 22nd day of August 1917...

ADMINISTRATRIX NOTICE

Having qualified as administratrix of the estate of Ed. Barnes or Edwin Barnes, Jr., deceased, I hereby give notice to all persons having claims against said estate to present them to me on or before the 1st day of August, 1917...

Do You Believe In Fairies?

Large advertisement for the movie 'The Fairy' featuring multiple photographs of the film's cast and scenes, along with promotional text.

Do you believe in fairies? Do you believe that you are guiding your own destiny through life or do you think that there are invisible little creatures who bend you to their wills as they flit mysteriously through the air? Those were some of the questions which an interviewer asked of dainty little Marguerite Clark as the smallest elf of screenland sat in the Famous Players studio waiting for her next scene in the Paramount Picture "The Fairy Eileen."

But why the reference to fairies? Because Miss Clark is appearing in this production in the role of a little Irish lassie who profoundly believes in fairies. She knows that they exist because she can see them—even though her lover cannot. And she knows that it is the fairies who are guiding her to her true love.

But does Miss Clark really believe in such things in this matter-of-fact day of ours? The little star's eyes open at a wide and her tiny head is cocked at a very thoughtful angle for an instant and then she replies: "Why—of course I do! What is all this mysterious substance which we so wisely call electricity? Do we really know what it is? Do you know that even such great experts as Steinmetz and Edison frankly confess that they do not actually know what electricity is, despite the fact that they have chained it and forced it to do their bidding and made it the slave of mankind?"

But how do we know but what these wizards of our time are only crafty men who have discovered—not a lot of tremendous formulas—but the secret key to fairyland, and that they are simply forcing the fairies to obey them, like the conjurers of old? And when the secret is finally disclosed, are we not going to find that all the thousands of miles of wire were merely strung to deceive us and that the thing which we have called Electricity is in reality the Queen of the Fairies who has been enslaved by these wizards?"

The interviewer gasped—until he detected a mischievous twinkle in Miss Clark's eye as she skipped lightly over to the setting at a sign from J. Searle Dawley, her remarkably clever director. Then he decided that somebody had been making game of his credulity.

Do you believe in fairies? Do you believe that you are guiding your own destiny through life or do you think that there are invisible little creatures who bend you to their wills as they flit mysteriously through the air? Those were some of the questions which an interviewer asked of dainty little Marguerite Clark as the smallest elf of screenland sat in the Famous Players studio waiting for her next scene in the Paramount Picture "The Fairy Eileen."

Do you believe in fairies? Do you believe that you are guiding your own destiny through life or do you think that there are invisible little creatures who bend you to their wills as they flit mysteriously through the air? Those were some of the questions which an interviewer asked of dainty little Marguerite Clark as the smallest elf of screenland sat in the Famous Players studio waiting for her next scene in the Paramount Picture "The Fairy Eileen."

Do you believe in fairies? Do you believe that you are guiding your own destiny through life or do you think that there are invisible little creatures who bend you to their wills as they flit mysteriously through the air? Those were some of the questions which an interviewer asked of dainty little Marguerite Clark as the smallest elf of screenland sat in the Famous Players studio waiting for her next scene in the Paramount Picture "The Fairy Eileen."