

ALL EFFORTS TO SETTLE STRIKE HAVE FAILED

Street Railway Companies Decline Offer of The Commission

PARADE PLANNED FOR TOMORROW

May be Followed by Sympathetic Walk-out—Alleged Plot Discovered by Detectives

(By Associated Press.) New York, Sept. 13.—The Interborough Rapid Transit and the New York Railways Companies formally rejected today the public service commission's recommendation for a strike settlement.

The two companies, controlling the subway, "L" and "Green" car surface lines, declined to hold further conferences with Union representatives and announced their intention to continue operation of their lines on present basis.

Brooklyn detectives, it was disclosed today, are investigating reports of a plot to damage the property of the Interborough company. A cylindrical package, 4 inches by 3 inches in diameter, was found by a track-walker near Borough Hall subway station, in Brooklyn, last night. It contained, according to officials, dynamite of the powerful kind, generally used in undersea operations.

But few of the surface cars were operated today and passengers were forced to use the subway and "L" roads. Although traction officials claim more trains than normal are in operation there was congestion at the station. Platforms were crowded and many narrow escapes were experienced by passengers. There was little or no violence during the night, due especially to the fact that policemen were stationed on rooftops from where attacks were made on "L" trains.

Hugh Frayne, state organizer of the American Federation of Labor, announced today that between 12,000 and 20,000 will take part in the parade and demonstration tomorrow. Although he declined to discuss the proposed "sympathetic" strike, other Union leaders said plans were being made to call out all trades closely allied with the street car lines in the event the demonstration tomorrow and the efforts of the public service commission prove unavailing to settle the trouble.

Following the reply of the traction companies the strikers, through William B. Fitzgerald, general organizer of the street car employees' union, informed the committee that the strikers could not accede to the request of the commission to bring the strike to an immediate conclusion, in view of the stand taken by the traction companies. He accepted, in behalf of the union, the recommendation that the questions at issue be submitted to arbitration.

RUNNING LIKE A HOUSE AFLAME

That is Colonel Varner's Opinion of Wilson's Chances In The West

(Special To The Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 13.—Henry B. Varner, chairman of the state prison board, attended the meeting of that body yesterday and returned home in the afternoon.

Mr. Varner is just back from Lexington, Kentucky, where he attended a good roads convention. While out there Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for the presidency, came in the hotel at which Mr. Varner was stopping. The Lexington, North Carolina, newspaper man met the former judge.

"Fairbanks is super-heat in comparison," Mr. Varner said. "Why, when that doggone man came into that hotel, he didn't create as much excitement as I would have done had I turned up at good roads speaking at Fuquay Springs where probably ninety percent of the people would have been against me. Teddy, Taft or Wilson would have caused the hotel guests to tear down the house. But they didn't seem to pay a particle of attention to Hughes. I think if we can't beat him we might as well go out of business.

"Woodrow Wilson is running in the west like a house aflame. I don't believe they can beat him, not with Hughes. And understand that in saying this I don't pretend to be the original Wilson man. I am one man who never was for Wilson until after he was nominated. I was for Underwood. But Wilson is the greatest fellow in the country and he is going to make a clean sweep this year."

AGAIN FAILS TO OPEN THE SCHOOL

Old Trouble Breaks Out Again In Wake County Township

(Special to The Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 13.—County Superintendent D. F. Giles vainly strove to open Mount Vernon School yesterday morning, but when he closed his beautiful appeal to the manhood of the place, parents led away their children and precipitated the old trouble.

The school failed last year when J. R. Medlin's children, about the like-like looking to be found, it is said, came for registration. Mr. Medlin's children were pronounced pure-blooded by the superior court, by the supreme and by all the law that could be scraped up. They were therefore within their perfect rights. But the neighborhood swears by all the horns of the altar that they have an infinitesimal tinge of black blood in them and the community will not support the school.

Last year when Superintendent Giles placed his teachers out there the school broke into hostile camp and a subscription session was taught near that place which is three miles from Raleigh. Mr. Medlin thought he had overcome the prejudice which is not against him, and announced that forty or fifty would stick this year. They did show up today and Mr. Giles is against his immortal trouble.

The community has not persecuted the Medlins. It has simply refused to attend the school since the Medlin mixed-blood controversy arose. When it came up the board of education ruled against the Medlins. They appealed to the superior court and there the jury deciding the issues of fact pronounced the children of pure blood. The appeal went up and Chief Justice Clark writing the opinion relied upon the jury. Justice Walker dissented. This morning Professor Giles tried to appeal to the community by telling it that its citizenship, good and true, had decided the children all white. The patrons demurred to his flattery. They said the jury had been picked for a peculiar purpose.

Mr. Giles had commissioned Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hoke to teach the school and these are good people, relatives of the soldiers and jurists who bear that name, it is said. The teachers began as though they had never heard of trouble. They weren't troubling trouble until trouble troubled them. Which was uncommonly early.

GENERAL SARRAIL GREETED ITALIANS WHO LAND IN COSMOPOLITAN SALONICA

Yet here is a picture, which shows General Sarrail, at the right, the French commander in charge of all the Allied Armies in the Balkans, reviewing the Italians as they marched through the streets of Salonica just after landing. The Italians, it will be noticed, have also been supplied with the steel trench helmets. Every one of the Allied powers, with the exception of Rumania and Japan, now has soldiers on the Macedonian front.

PRESIDENT BACK TO LONG BRANCH

He Will Return if Condition of Sister Grows Worse

(By Associated Press.) New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—The naval yacht, Mayflower, with President Wilson aboard, steamed out of harbor at 6 o'clock this morning. The Mayflower will take the president to Sandy Hook, where an automobile will be waiting to take him to the Summer White House at Long Branch, N. J. He expects to arrive at Long Branch about 5 o'clock this afternoon. The President decided to leave New London last night, after physicians attending his sister, Mrs. Anne E. Howe, had advised him that she would have to be kept under the influence of opiates and would be unable to recognize him; that she might live for several days.

The President left directions to be informed of his sister's condition by wire. Should a sudden turn for the worse take place he plans to return. The President did not come ashore before leaving this morning. Joseph H. Wilson, of Baltimore, his brother, and Miss Margaret Wilson, his daughter, remain here, but joined the attending physicians in urging that the President leave. The President has an accumulation of business awaiting him at Shadow Lawn.

Mr. Wilson has practically paid no attention to his campaign for reelection, but unless he is summoned back here within the next few days he will hold several political conferences this week.

NOW IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

Wilmington Furniture Company Will Have Big Opening Tomorrow

There is no mercantile establishment so important to the commercial life of a city than its furniture stores, whether this store is of large or small proportions, for from here must be supplied those necessities of living so important to the average American, for the home must be in order, not necessarily elaborately or expensively furnished, but furnished in such a manner as to be inviting and comfortable.

Modern methods of furniture manufacturing and distributing has rendered it possible for the most humble to enjoy that mode of life which only the rich years ago could afford. There is no reason now why every home cannot be furnished at the very smallest expense.

In keeping with other cities, Wilmington is to be introduced tomorrow and Friday to an entirely new furniture store. The Wilmington Furniture Company, No. 208 North Front street and a good example of what a high-class furniture establishment conducted along progressive lines should be is to be found by those who attend the two opening days.

The Wilmington Furniture Company has conducted a store in the Garrell Building, on Princess street, for a number of years and the trade which it has incorporated from year to year extends for a radius of many miles in and around Wilmington.

The new location will afford much larger quarters for the displaying and handling of the immense stock of attractive and pleasing home furnishings, the stock now displayed being goods of the latest and modern ideas in the furniture line.

The stock comprises a complete house furnishing assortment and there is nothing in the furnishing of a home most humble or the most pretentious home that cannot be supplied from the well appointed store.

The public is cordially invited to attend the opening and view the new store with its entire new stock of goods, including bed room, dining room and parlor furniture in solid mahogany of period design, and notably among the display can be seen such patterns and finishes in Queen Anne, Jacobian and Adam dining room suits in quartered sawed oak. Bed room suites in Antique Ivory on solid mahogany, in Bird's Eye Maple and Circassian walnut and golden oak.

HUGHES PLEASED WITH HIS FIRST CAMPAIGN TOUR

Nominee In New York Conferring With Party Leaders Today.

STARTS SECOND TOUR SHORTLY

Declares People Are Interested and Cordial—As In Maine So In Rest of Country, He Says

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 13.—After a series of conferences with Republican and Progressive leaders upon his arrival here today from a presidential campaign trip, which took him into 25 States, Charles Evans Hughes planned to leave late this afternoon for his summer home at Bridgehampton, L. I., to remain until his departure Sunday night or Monday morning on his second speech-making tour.

Discussing the tour just ended the candidate said at headquarters here today:

"We had a most successful trip. Everywhere a great deal of interest has been shown and the cordiality of the people has been very marked. In this respect the situation in Maine is no different than in other States. I have every reason for confidence." Mr. Hughes reiterated his conviction that the present Republican campaign management will be effected without a change in the personnel.

BRITISH LINER WAS IN DISTRESS

Ordered Here On Account of Cargo Shifting Endangering Lives of Passengers

The British passenger and freight steamer Hayaro is now at quarantine station. According to Messrs Alexander Sprunt & Sons, who are Lloyd's agents, the vessel has been ordered to report to them as the cargo is shifting and the vessel is badly listed. Passengers will be put off here merely as a matter of precaution and the cargo of the vessel will again be stored in place.

Just where the vessel is from now and her destination is not known but it thought that she is from a port in the West Indies and is bound for New York.

Uncle Jim

for years had been wanting a home of his own; a place in which he could live and spend his declining years, surrounded by his little family and from the eternal "pesterings" of the rent collector. But for one reason and another he had been putting it off. He had been for months a constant daily reader of The Dispatch's Business Local ads, and one day he made the start towards the realization of his dream for he had found just the home he had been looking for advertised. The price, location and terms were right and he lost no time in closing the deal whereby he became owner of his home—everybody satisfied—wife, Uncle Jim and the seller. Perhaps there is an Uncle Jim looking for your announcement this very minute—who knows? If you have property for sale, rent of exchange, or wish to purchase or sell anything let The Dispatch's "Little Local Ads" do the work.
