Having now made a complete physical examination of the freshman lass Dr. R. B. Lawson reports that I is the best class physically he has ! examined for many years. The last year's clas was somewhat below the tandard. As a whole, this year's lass has fewer defects, physically, than any recent class, probably due the fact that the class has an averse age higher than those of recent ears, All men with deficiencies have t en assigned to special classes for remedying of these in the gymasium-in fact, the entire class of ver 200 will be required to take ome physical training. The gymnaim accommodates about half this umber at one time.

FOOTBALL FANS WATCHING FRESHMEN

Chapel Hill, Sept. 23.—Just what the varsity football team is going to do this season is not yet predicted by the students, but taken all in all there are a number of new men in college who have played high school football and who starred for the various teams in the preparatory school. Several of lest year's men are back and the admirers of the sport are expecting that some exceptionally good men will be gathered from this source. The freshmen team has already arranged several games to be played on the Hill and the students are anxiously waiting for the first of these.

Efforts Being Made to Stage Game Between Regulars and Alumni Players

West Raleigh, Sept. 23.—The second week of practice on the football field is turning out a bunch of good looking material and with some of the old players back in the line up the 1916 team promises to be an unusually fast one. So far only one scrimmage has been participated in the coach being content to let them punt, fall on the ball, and the like but it is thought that the scrimmaging will start in earnest in a

The illuminating apparatus consists of a three-mantic lamp in a third-order, double-flashing lens of 300,000 candlepower, and the range due to its elevation is 151-4 nautical miles. The metal superstructure of the tower, including the watch room, gallery and helical har secondorder lantern, was on exhibition at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco during 1913. The fog signal, which will be placed in commission at an early date, consists of a six-inch automatic compressed air siren, in duplicate, each with a trumpet with a two-way mouth. This machinery, including the necessary air tanks and piping, was also exhibited at San Francisco. The characteristic of the light is a double white flash every twenty seconds. That of the fog signal will be a double blast of four seconds each every minute.
