in the November election. The chief justice finds plenty of precedent for voting, but the prospect for North Carolina isn't pleasing. The New York guardsmen were here today upon their, return and there is no doubt of their, right to the franchise. Judge Clark writes a letter to one of the city papers and discusses the subject with interest. "Three thousand two hundred voters in North Carolina will go to the Mexican border," Judge Clark said, "this week. While the result in the State will not be affected by their losing their votes, it is just to these men and a matter of some interest in close counties, as in Lincoln, for instance, whether they can vote or not.
