

INTEREST IN CORN SHOW IS GROWING DAILY

Experience Gained in Last Year's Work is Proving Invaluable at Present.

FINANCE COMMITTEE VERY BUSY OF LATE

Many Subscriptions Secured and People Are Taking Kindly to The Underwriting Plan.

General interest in the Wilmington Corn Show, November 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th, is increasing daily and the active committees in charge of the preliminary work are busily engaged in making all necessary arrangements for the many attractions for this year, which will make the show of unusual importance and significance, particularly in the excellence of its agricultural exhibits, to the nine counties that are taking such a great interest in its welfare.

The experience gained by those who worked to make the show a success last year, has been most valuable in promoting the interest of the proposition this season to make it a larger and better fair. The committees that have been most active recently have been those in charge of finance and advertising. Other committees are getting in line for their work and will be in a position to announce some of the different features being arranged for the show in the next few days.

The Finance Committee of the Corn Show has been actively engaged this week in securing subscriptions to the underwriting plan. The committee has been exceedingly fortunate in its work, for the people are giving the proposition liberal support. The committee reported yesterday that 91 pledges had been secured, aggregating $1,720. The willingness with which the business public is signing up for the support of the Corn Show is an evidence of the value and benefit the community derives from this annual show. The full value of the Corn Show was not appreciated until last year and its splendid success attested the full measure of co-operative effort for community betterment. Not more than half of the business public has been seen in regard to this proposition and the work of the committee will be continued through this week. The success so far has measured up to the expectations and practically assures the show this year.

The many attractive features being arranged for the Corn Show will make a gala week for a fact this year. It is really the most significant event of the season for Wilmington, and there is more general interest this year than ever before, as evidenced from the fact that the Corn Show Executive Committee has received a letter from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, stating that there will be a good delegation from that city to attend the fair here. "We realize the good work that is being done along agricultural lines through your Corn Show each year," is one sentence that appears in the communication from the city of the upper Cape Fear, which is welded to the interest of Wilmington in more than one way. Reports from the counties interested in the fair are very encouraging and the prospects for a large attendance of outsiders are increasing daily with the approach of the fair.

The advertising campaign to attract interest for the Corn Show has been on in earnest for the past two weeks and over 11,000 pieces of literature have already been distributed over the large territory. This includes the prize list books and general literature calling attention to the different features arranged for this season. In addition to the direct work of the Corn Show Advertising Committee the railroads are co-operating to the fullest and will see that the people are acquainted with the extraordinary reduction in rates which more than takes in the actual territory of the show. Every county paper in the nine counties will contain a quarter-page advertisement and a write-up of the Corn Show in their regular editions this week. Every picture show in the territory, as well as Goldsboro, Fayetteville, etc., are running attractive slides, calling particular attention to the fact that the show will be bigger and better this year and that it is being conducted in the interest of their county and section as well as the immediate territory adjacent to Wilmington. Literature was mailed out last week to every postoffice in the nine counties and many other means for general distribution are being employed. The show this year will be far more extensively advertised than ever before and as this work was given a much better start this year there seems to be no question now about an unusually large attendance.

The promoters of the Corn Show have been particularly fortunate in the selection of the dates of the fair this year; one week earlier than last. As one of the enthusiastic boosters of the fair remarked yesterday, "John Robinson's Ten Big Shows will bring the crowd to Wilmington the day be-

HON. CAMERON MORRISON COMING

Mecklenburg Gentleman Will Speak at Court House Tuesday Evening.

The Hon. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, will be the attraction at the County Court House Tuesday evening, October 17, coming here in the interest of Democracy, and it is hoped that a large crowd will turn out to hear what he has to say regarding the political issues of the day. Mr. Morrison is an able preacher of New Hanover's religion and he may be able to convince a few that are on the fence that it is for the best interest of all concerned to vote the Democratic ticket. At any rate what the Charlotte gentleman will have to say will be interesting and well worth listening to.

Mr. Morrison will be introduced by Mr. Thomas W. Davis and it is possible that one or two local Democrats may speak for a few minutes. However, the evening will be given over to Mr. Morrison and those who turn out will hardly regret it. Mr. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, was the attraction the other night and only a small crowd heard Mr. Bailey speak which was regrettable because he delivered a talk that has seldom been equalled in this neck of the woods. The public was told of Mr. Bailey's coming just as it is being told of Mr. Morrison's coming and with election time drawing nearer it is hoped that a good crowd will assemble Tuesday night to hear the Mecklenburg gentleman.

ENGINEERS WILL ARRIVE WEDNESDAY

Authoritative Letters Says Wilmington and Charlotte Co. Will Parade Here.

It is learned from good authority that Company A, Wilmington Engineer Troops, with Company B, of Charlotte, now at Camp Glenn, will entrain Wednesday morning for Texas to join the North Carolina brigade now doing patrol duty on the Mexican border. Word to this effect was received in the city yesterday by the parents of one of the members of Company A, who is in close touch with the official affairs of the company.

It was stated in the letter that it has been definitely decided to have the companies come through Wilmington and remain here long enough to permit a parade through the principle streets in order to let the home folks see the wonderful improvement that has been made in the company of young men who left the city several weeks ago, and many who prior to that time had never had a gun in their hands.

In Company A there are about 70 men and about the same number in the Charlotte organization. The whole will be in command of Capt. George W. Gillette, of this city, who is the commanding officer of the Wilmington company and senior officer of the two units. It was mainly through his efforts that permission was secured whereby the companies could stop here for a review. Although the Charlotte company has only had guns for a few days, they did not lack drilling as practically every day has been spent in hard drilling and when they did receive their rifles a short while ago they were in excellent shape.

Not only have the members of the two companies received heavy woolen uniforms for the winter, but they have also been supplied with army overcoats and sweaters and they are now ready for field work in the severest weather. The boys are in high spirits and are particularly anxious to join the other Tar Heel troops, which have been on the border for some time.

While no announcement has been made to that effect, it is highly probable that when the soldier boys arrive here Wednesday afternoon they will be tendered some sort of a reception by their friends. Such has been mentioned by well known citizens and plans probably will be made to entertain them while they are here. According to the present plans the two companies will entrain at Camp Glenn early Wednesday morning and will reach Wilmington about 2 o'clock. With them will be practically all equipment that is usually carried by Engineer troops in the field, full equipment having been issued to them some time ago. When Company A returns from the border it will retain all its equipment in its armory here.

Before the opening of the Corn Show just in time for them to catch a glimpse of the preparation and will make them enthusiastic to see the exhibits at the opening Tuesday morning." Another Corn Show visitor remarked with less enthusiasm that the general election comes on Tuesday and will carry back home to vote the people that come here to see the circus.

This week will be unusually eventful and for many reasons is helpful to the Corn Show and will be a means of bringing people to Wilmington to see the fair.

WILMINGTON IS IN SECOND POSITION ON ROLL OF HONOR

Winston-Salem Contributes Almost Half As Much As The Entire State.

MANY COMMITTEES NOT YET HEARD FROM

State Has Already Contributed Over $25,000 in Behalf of Woodrow Wilson's Candidacy.

Twenty-five thousand five hundred and fifteen dollars and seventy-five cents had been paid to Mr. Hugh MacRae, of this city, treasurer of the State Democratic Executive Committee, on the night of October 12th, by loyal Democrats to be used in behalf of Woodrow Wilson's re-election. Mr. MacRae has dispatched this money to National headquarters and the contributors are to receive receipts for their contributions to the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund.

There are a number of committees that have not yet reported and these are designated by such a mark as this: * The committee that have reported are credited with the amount turned in up until October 13th.

In several instances no counties have reported. This is true of Henderson, Hertford, Brunswick, Jackson, Hoke, Dare and others, but these counties, or many of them, will give toward advertising Mr. Wilson's campaign and when they have "cashed in" the fund will have grown to princely proportions.

Forsyth county tops the list of honor, Winston-Salem having contributed over $11,000 or almost half of the amount given by the entire State. Wilmington occupies second place, having given over $3,000, while Wake and Guilford have contributed slightly above the $1,000 mark.

The following figures represent the money that has passed through Mr. MacRae's hands up until October 13th and which were issued for publication this morning. Anyone interested in politics generally and Democracy in particular can get a pleasant hour out of the figures which represent the activities of rich and poor, layman and professional, the State over—all working with one end in view: the return of Woodrow Wilson to the White House.

STRONG PROTEST AGAINST LOCATION

Residents of Second and Chestnut Do Not Want Corn Show There.

Vigorous protest has been entered by the residents in the neighborhood of Second and Chestnut streets against the selection of that place for the location of the Corn Show to be held early next month and to this effect Mayor P. Q. Moore yesterday received a petition for council to act upon at their regular meeting Wednesday morning.

Twenty-six names are appended to the petition which included many persons living in the immediate neighborhood of the streets on which permission has been granted by the Corn Show Executive Committee to place the large tents. Council gave the committee permission to place the tents on Chestnut street, from about two hundred feet East from the post-office to mid-way the block between Second and Third streets. Also as far down Second street toward Grace, as necessary.

It is stated in the petition that the Corn Show will attract large crowds that will exercise little regard for property and further than this many residents of that section are opposed to the erection of the large tents near their homes. Other reasons were also stated. The petition is addressed to City Council.

Although no member of the Corn

Show Executive Committee has been spoken to in regard to the petition, it is expected that the committee will be present at the meeting of the City Council and present argument to show why the location should not be changed.

Money Tempted—The police are on the lookout for a young colored girl by the name of Lucy, who is thought to have stolen $11 from the home of Mrs. P. T. Dicksey, No. 109 Castle street, yesterday afternoon. The girl, who had been employed at the home of Mrs. H. H. McKeithan, No. 496 Grace street, went to Mrs. Dicksey's on an errand and it is thought that she appropriated it then. She has not been to work since.
