Elaborate preparations are being made by the congregation of St. Mary's pro-cathedral for the celebration of the silver jubilee of the Very Rev. C. Dennen, who has been pastor of the local church for 26 years.

Bishop Leo Haid, of Belmont, N. C., together with about 35 priests from this State and from Baltimore and Philadelphia, will be present at the ceremonies.

Although a public reception will be held on Wednesday evening, the day of the jubilee, the jubilarian service will be included in a solemn mass which will be held in the cathedral, the magnificent house of worship on Fifth and Ann streets.

One of the features of the visit of Bishop Haid to this city will be the dedication of St. Ann's church at Castle Haynes colony, about nine miles from the city.

CAMPAIGN CLOSED LAST NIGHT WITH SPEECH BY TRAVIS

Chairman of State Corporation Commission Made Stirring Appeal to Voters.

RECITED RECORDS OF BOTH PARTIES

Told in Concrete Figures the Good That Had Been Accomplished Under Democratic Rule.

The Democratic State and National campaign came to a close in Wilmington last night when Hon. E. L. Travis, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, addressed an unusually large audience in the County Court House.

Mr. Travis spoke on both State and National issues and showed clearly why the voters of this section should vote the straight Democratic ticket Tuesday.

Speaking first of State issues Mr. Travis, in a clear and concise manner, recounted the constructive acts that have been passed by the Democratic party since its reestablishment as the leading State party in 1900.

Figures do not lie and the speaker told in concrete figures and facts just what the Democrats had done since the State government had passed into their hands from the Republicans.

While discussing bonds, Mr. Travis stated that at the present time North Carolina has railroad stock and other property enough, if a balance were struck, to put her on the asset side of the ledger by a safe $9,000,000.

Education, too, came in for its share of discussion and Mr. Travis stated that since 1900, on coming into power, the Democrats had erected a schoolhouse for every day since then.

National issues were taken up second by the speaker, who praised the constructive administration of the President and reviewed each of the big acts that had been passed, putting special emphasis on the Federal Reserve Act, the Shipping Bill, the Farm Loan Bank and the Adamson Bill.

Commenting on the stand taken by the President, as compared to what the Republicans might do should they succeed in getting office, Mr. Travis said that at present the Nation was enjoying the greatest prosperity that it had ever known and was at peace with the world, while the Republican nominee for the Presidency had stated repeatedly that should he be elected he would pursue a much more stringent method of dealing with foreign powers than had been pursued by Mr. Wilson.

FEDERAL COURT WILL CONVENE FOR TWO-WEEKS

Warren Damage Suit Will be Most Important Case to Come Up For Trial.

CRIMINAL DOCKET EXCEPTIONALLY LIGHT.

J. O. Carr, Esq., Will Make His First Appearance in Wilmington As District Attorney.

Federal Court will convene here Wednesday for two-weeks for the trial of criminal and civil cases, but according to Mr. S. P. Collier, clerk of the United States Court, few important cases are to come before Judge H. G. Connor, who is to preside.

Of the cases arranged on the court calendar the case of E. J. Warren against the Waccamaw Lumber Company on the civil side of the docket in which the plaintiff is suing the defendant company for $10,000 damages, is probably the most interesting.

Warren is a cripple, having lost part of both legs while in the employ of the said defendant company some time ago. He alleges that the accident was due to carelessness on the part of the employees of the company.
