LOCAL TROOPS ARE TO ATTEND

W. L. I. To Be Present at the Inauguration of the Next President.

It was definitely decided by members of the Wilmington Light Infantry last night at their regular monthly business meeting to attend the inauguration of the newly-elected President in Washington on March 4th, which will make the third such event that the W. L. I. has taken part in.

A committee was appointed by President J. L. Galloway to make all preparations for the trip, such as Pullman car accommodations, railroad fare, etc. There are now nearly eighty members in the W. L. I. and as it was the unanimous decision of the company to take the trip it is very probable that the majority of the entire company will make the trip next year.

Rev. Wm. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, who for the past three years has been chaplain of the W. L. I., was present at the meeting last night and tendered his resignation to the members of the company in an excellent parting address.

Mr. Cox strongly urged that the members of the Light Infantry set aside a day each year when their chaplain could deliver them a special sermon. In his address Mr. Cox explained that he was severing his connection with the W. L. I. on account of his recent call to Richmond, Va.

WILL BE MUSTERED OUT OF SERVICE

Lieutenant Holmes and Recruiting Detail to Be Relieved of Duty.

Orders officially notifying Lieut. Edward H. Holmes, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, that he and his recruiting detail were to shortly be relieved from this duty, were received by the National Guard officer yesterday. The detail has been on duty in this city since President Wilson called out the National Guard troops in June.

Lieutenant Holmes, with Sergeant A. B. Rhodes, Corporal Nathan J. Silverman and Private Henry H. Waters, will shortly proceed to Fortress Monroe, Va., where they will be officially mustered out of Federal service. This does not mean that they will be given their discharge from the National Guard, as they still will be members of the W. L. I.

Recruiting was begun in Wilmington for the North Carolina brigade soon after that unit was mobilized at Camp Glenn and many Wilmington boys were sent to the various companies of the three regiments by the local recruiting party.

A $1,000 STREET CAR RIDE

An administration, carrying $1,000 belonging to an estate, boarded a crowded street car in the city of Savannah. When he alighted from the car the money was gone. (Tarver vs. Torrence, 7 S. E., 177). The jury concluded that the administrator was guilty of gross negligence.

Are you going to expose your funds to possible loss through careless handling—or will you place your estate for safe, intelligent management in the hands of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company? Personal property is secure in our modern fire and thief-proof vaults. Other property will receive the careful and expert attention of our organization of trained trust company specialists. HEALTH WORK AT FAIRS.

Visitor Sees Much Good to Result from Health Work at County Fairs.

"Health education seems to be about the biggest thing in North Carolina just now," said Mr. Gordon L. Perry, of New York City, recently. "I have visited a number of fairs in the State this fall and most every fair I have found one of the chief features of interest to be either an exhibit, lecture or motion picture show sent out by the State Board of Health for the sole purpose of instructing the people in the ways of right living and disease prevention.

"It is surprising," said he, "to see with what keen interest this kind of work is being received. The people themselves seem unusually hungry for just this assistance and accept it in grateful appreciation.

"As to the effect of this kind of work," continued Mr. Berry, "it is reasonable to believe that there will be in the near future something like a revolution as to the living conditions of the majority of the people. They are bound to see by these exhibits an object lesson how far they are missing the mark and what really is necessary to living a healthful life. Especially will there be a marked change in what people eat and how they eat it. If this and nothing else is accomplished as a result of these efforts, they have been worth all the time and expense it has taken to give them."

CORN SHOW DRAWS CROWDS

Parade Will Be the Feature of Today's Program. More Features.

A large number of people visited the Corn Show yesterday which opened at 10 o'clock. Although the parade for the first day of last year was broken, there was a large number of persons thronging the tabernacle during the day and night. The executive committee hoped that the total attendance for this year will greatly surpass that of last year.

Those visiting the tabernacle last night were greatly interested in the returns of the National Corn Show which were given out there. It will be on each evening's program.

DISPATCH FIRST WITH THE RETURNS

Best Service in The City Last Night on The Election News.

The Dispatch scored heavily with its election returns last night.

Several hundred persons, men and women, watched the returns as they flashed upon the large wall of the side of Shrier & Solomon's store front and Princess streets, from a stereopticon kindly furnished by Messrs. Howard and Cranford.

Mr. D. Montrose Bain, and skillfully operated by Mr. W. L. Cranford, who received their news of the election from The Dispatch's bulletin board by telephone from the office their information from 10 to 30 minutes ahead of those who depended on other sources for their news. This seemed to be appreciated, too, as many were the complimentary remarks made by the spectators upon the superior service furnished by this best is none too good for Dispatch readers and having this in mind management made very elaborate arrangements to provide the quickest most complete returns to be had. Special leased wire of the International News Service was supplemented by special Telegram bulletins, a special for the latter service also being used in The Dispatch office. The telegraph instruments were kept from early evening until after midnight.

The wall of Shrier & Solomon's store front and Princess street is especially adapted for stereopticon and with powerful lantern used, The Dispatch was able to give the returns in clear letters, so that they could easily read for some distance away. The stereopticon machine was located in the room formerly occupied by the Typewriter Company and across the hall in the room now occupied by this well known company. The Dispatch as they were brought into the office by special wire. They were hurriedly made ready for the stereopticon and in a few seconds the returns were being read on the screen.

They were as nearly complete as possible to get them and they were ahead of anything else in the city.

The telephones in The Dispatch office kept jingling constantly from early in the evening until after 12 o'clock. The callers were the comments when questioners were told that Hughes was the winner by a large majority. They were pleased, but the majority seemed disappointed at the outcome. However, not a great many appeared to be very much surprised.

Interest in the election was keenest in any previous election for many years and the people of the city had facilities for learning the news more speedily than heretofore, a fact which they seem to appreciate very much.

In addition to putting the news on the screen and giving it out over the telephone The Dispatch supplied information on the election to a number of other towns, principally among these being Jacksonville.
