TEACHERS MEET IN RALEIGH

Thirty-Third Annual Session Opens The 29th of This Month.

Raleigh, Nov. 11.—The thirty-third annual session of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly will open November 29 and run through December 1 in Raleigh.

Three weeks from that date the city's commercial organizations and the offices of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction are working toward the biggest of all the assemblies and Raleigh last year broke all previous records in attendance.

The department of school boards makes ten organizations under the Assembly. There are nine other professional bodies and this latest for the discussion of the common problems of school administration promises to be one of the liveliest and most interesting of all the sections.

The State Superintendent is asking the school authorities in all parts of the State to allow such teachers as desire to attend the sessions in Raleigh, to come here without loss of salary for the time absent, for Friday, December 1. He joins the assembly in this request of the boards.

The 1916 Assembly is rich in speaking attractions. Governor Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, Governor Craik of North Carolina, and Governor-elect Bickett of North Carolina will make addresses.

The Russian Symphony Orchestra comes to Raleigh Tuesday, November 28, ahead of the assembly one day, but the Music Teachers' Association is expected to come a day earlier and to bring many other teachers who will hear this band of sixty-five pieces. The music that stirs the soldiers in the trenches will be played by this native Russian orchestra and this great offering of Meredith College will be opportunity of a life-

WEDDING IN NAVAL CIRCLES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—One of the smartest weddings the capital has seen thus far this season was that of Miss Beatrice Clover, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. Richardson Clover, and Major Thomas Holcomb, U. S. M. C., which took place this afternoon at St. John's Church.

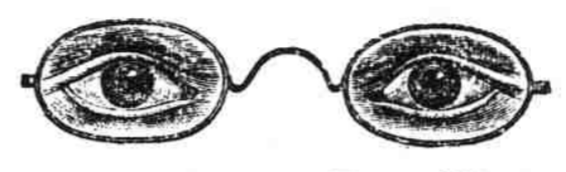

Miss Eudora Clover was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were: Miss Helen Draper of Boston, Miss Clover Todd and Miss Mildred Dennis of New York, and the Misses Ruth Wilson, Pauline Kindelberger, Carolyn Nash of Washington, Capt. Frederick C. McConnell, U. S. M. C., served as best man for Major Holcomb and all of the ushers were officers either of the Navy or the Marine Corps.

Time to hear one of the finest aggregations that ever played on this continent. The railroads and the hotel were big concessions to the assembly.
