

THEATRE

To all who are looking forward to a musical treat extraordinary in the presentation here on next Wednesday at the Academy of the big Andrews Dippel production of "Gypsy Love" it will be keenly interesting news to know that Arthur Albro, the famous young Russian tenor who originated the stellar gypsy role of "Jozsi" in America will song the role here.

Albro is the wonderful young star who was largely responsible for the sensational success in America of "Gypsy Love." Outside of grand opera he probably is the greatest of all light operatic tenors in the United States. He is specially blessed with genius in addition to his wonderful voice having abilities that rank him as a great actor, talents for the violin that hail him a virtuoso, and good looks that are the desperation of young matinee audiences. Remarkably enough it was a combination of every one of every one of these requirements demanded by the role of "Jozsi" in "Gypsy Love," and the display of versatility it permitted undoubtedly did most to establish him as the great star he now is.

Albro is a native of Odessa, his father having been a tenor singer in the Imperial Opera at St. Petersburg, Moscow, and Odessa. Albro as a youngster developed a remarkably fine baritone voice but gave it little heed because of a youthful desire to become a great dentist. He was taking general studies in Milan when the rare qualities of his voice were first discovered by an impresario, and strangely enough it was at a time when his voice was changing. A Milan producer took him in charge and started him in operatic work with the result that within a few months he had developed the glorious, low tenor voice that he now has, and had won his spurs in grand opera.

When Albro appeared in America he was just in time, because all the United States was being searched for a youth of his unusual combination of abilities to create the "Gypsy Love" role. Prices will range from 50 cents to $2. Tickets will go on sale Monday at 9 a. m. at Elvington's.

BANNER NIGHT AT VICTORIA.

Tonight's the night a real live baby is to be given away at the Victoria theatre, and needless to say this popular playhouse will be packed to the doors, in order to see who is going to be the lucky "papa" or the lucky "mamma." For it is said this baby is no pig, dog or other animal, but is a real live baby of good parentage and eleven months old. The baby's parents were killed in a railway accident and although it is to be given away to the holder of the lucky number, whoever wins the baby must be a reliable party and promise to take proper care of the baby.

Richards the "Wizard" and company, will offer an entirely new program, commencing with today's matinee. The feature of the show will be "The Tub of Diogenes," besides a great many other amazing whirlwind sensations, and an abundance of clean, wholesome comedy, mystery and novelty. Richards has already proven himself to be the greatest magician and entertainer that has ever appeared in a local theatre, and has been playing to the largest crowds that have been inside of the Victoria Theatre this season. Those who have not already seen one of these wonderful performances should not miss this last opportunity, as tomorrow will be the last day of Richards' engagement in Wilmington this season.

NEW RULES ON SPIRITS IMPORTS.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1.—American importers of spirits from Great Britain have been notified by the Department of Agriculture that after today shipments offered for entry to this country will be refused admission unless accompanied by a certificate from British excise authorities that the goods meet the requirements of the English immature spirits (restriction) act of 1915. This act provides that no British or foreign spirits shall be delivered for home consumption unless they have been warehoused for a period of at least three years.

CHAPLIN THE BIG LAUGH TOMORROW.

Tomorrow all fat men and persons with weak hearts are officially warned to keep away from the Grand theatre, Charles Chaplin in "The Pawn Shop," the latest Mutual Chaplin special, is to be presented there tomorrow.

Three studio employees of Mutual are now in a hospital in Los Angeles as a result of watching the making of this picture. Their condition is critical and the hospital authorities fear that the patients will laugh themselves to death. Their peril is aggravated by the fact that they had hardly recovered from the "Count," the previous Chaplin comedy. If you don't believe this, the writer doesn't care.

"At any rate, "The Pawn Shop" is a riot. It is the regular Charlie Chaplin, wit hpants, shoes, coat, cane and moustache. As the title indicates, the setting of this newest picture finds itself beneath a three-ball sign with Charlie a sort of under-counter tender, bookkeeper, window washer and regaler of time to the fair Erna, daughter of the owner of the shop, whose kitchen opens into the store.

The tending of petty details of the business, such as shining up the three balls, or helping the beautiful Edna wash her dishes or roll her pie crusts, keeps the under-assistant a very busy man. He is everywhere at once, feet foremost, in typical Chaplin style, with a lot of the old familiar "business" and a lot that everyone will recognize as new. You don't want to miss the greatest Chaplin comedy yet—at the Grand tomorrow.
