COLORED PEOPLE OF DUPLIN HOLD MEETING

(Special to The Dispatch.) Warsaw, June 5.—A meeting of the Food Conservation League of the colored people of Duplin county was held at their school building Saturday. Representatives from different townships present, gave good reports of the agricultural work being done in their respective sections, these reports showing clearly that the negroes are aroused to the necessity of producing and conserving all the food products possible.

There are some excellent leaders among the colored people of the county, who spoke sensibly and practically to their members who were present. Among these leaders, who spoke, and who are, as one of their number expressed it, "sign-boards pointing the others the way to go," were J. A. Bennett, principal of Faison Industrial Institute; T. T. Ringer, colored supervisor of the county, and Joe Johnson, colored farm demonstrator of the county. They expressed unwavering loyalty to the nation and to the white people. Mrs. M. H. Wooten, who, with her efficient husband, is a general favorite with the negroes then addressed them on "Doing Our Bit in War Times."

Are You Tied Up Indoors?

If so, your whole system naturally gets tied up too. A lazy liver and constipated bowels are bad things, dangerous things. Exercise as much as you can—but keep your liver and bowels up to the mark all the time. Take one pill regularly—until you are sure you are all right again.

HEAVY LOSSES BY THE ITALIANS

(By Associated Press.) Vienna, June 4 (Via London, June 5).—The losses of the Italians in their attack on the Isonzo front are placed at 180,000 in today's official announcement. Increasing activity near Jamiano on the front above Trieste, is reported. The statement follows: "East of Gorizia the enemy on Saturday repeatedly attempted to reconquer lost trenches. All attacks were in vain. Our captures were increased to 11 officers, 600 men and 9 machine guns."

BUT TWO ACTUAL CAMP SITES YET SELECTED.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, June 5.—Sites for two of the three cantonments in the Southeastern Department, in which will be trained the men of the selective draft army, have been chosen. They are at Atlanta and Columbia. Of the 12 camps to be located in this department, nine will be for the National Guard, as all of the guard of the country will be trained in either the Southeastern or Southern departments, except that two camps will be located on the Pacific coast. While sections for the National Guard camps in the Southeastern Department have not yet been approved, it is assumed that General Wood plans to recommend for camp sites previously announced by him as having been selected. The War Department, however, would make no announcement.

WIRELESS OUTFIT BY THE GERMANS

For Securing Secret Information From This Country Established.

(By Associated Press.) New York, June 5.—The police announced today they had positive information that "the head of the German wireless system" came to this country, made plans regarding wireless outfits and other details through which information was to be conveyed to Berlin, and then departed probably for Mexico.

HURRAHS WERE LUSTY Mayor Moore Presented Flag to Coast Line Today.

The hundreds of employes in the general offices of the Atlantic Coast Line attended a flag presentation and raising at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon on the yard of the company. The flag was presented by Mayor Parker Quince Moore and accepted for the employes by Mr. H. B. Foy. Following the presentation the flag was raised to the tip of the pole that had been erected and the hurrah for Old Glory, as she unfurled proudly on the early afternoon breeze, showed the feeling that lives in the heart of every American for the flag that has yet to taste of defeat or go down in the mire before an enemy.

A WORD TO PARENTS.

If America is to win in the war against Germany every man, woman and child must do their "bit." Even the smallest little tots in the home can do their "bit" for America and the world's liberty in this crisis. As a matter of fact, some mothers have already enlisted their children and are using them to good advantage. To give a concrete case, I know of a home in which there are three small children, ages ranging from 3 to 7 years. These little tots were given several bushels of green peas to shell while their mother was busy making preparations to can the peas for the winter months ahead. The children finished their job in short order and were looking to the mother for more work.

PATRIOTISM HIGH AT RE-UNION OF THE OLD SOLDIERS

The younger generation enrolling for service in the war against Germany. The veterans of the Confederacy gave President Wilson a tremendous ovation here today when he welcomed them to the national capital at the opening meeting of the 27th annual reunion. As the President, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, ascended the platform, the old soldiers waved their hats and the hall resounded with the famous "rebel yell" of the Sixties. Many of the veterans who crowded closely around the platform shook hands with the President before he began to speak. The great hall was packed to the doors and thousands stood on the streets outside. President Wilson told the warriors from Dixie that the country was glad to remember the heroic things done on both sides in the War Between the States, and that there were many things which makes one proud to have sprung from that stock.

IMMENSE CROWD AT MEETING AND IN STREET—POLICE KEPT BUSY.

(Special to The Dispatch.) New York, June 5.—Police were required last night to hold back a crowd of several thousand men and women who tried to gain entrance to an already crowded hall in the Bronx, where an anti-registration mass meeting was held. Clubs were wielded freely by the officers and several arrests were made. When the crowd had been forced back several hundred young men climbed a high fence opposite the hall and hooted the police and cheered Emma Goldman and Benj. Reitman, leaders in arranging the meeting.

GREAT DISORDER BY ANTI-DRAFTERS

Immense Crowd at Meeting and in Street—Police Kept Busy.

(Special to The Dispatch.) New York, June 5.—Police were required last night to hold back a crowd of several thousand men and women who tried to gain entrance to an already crowded hall in the Bronx, where an anti-registration mass meeting was held. Clubs were wielded freely by the officers and several arrests were made. When the crowd had been forced back several hundred young men climbed a high fence opposite the hall and hooted the police and cheered Emma Goldman and Benj. Reitman, leaders in arranging the meeting.

THE MEETING WAS ARRANGED BY THE NO-CONSCRIPTION LEAGUE.

The meeting was arranged by the No-Conscription League. The charge upon the police was made when the doors were locked by order of fire department representatives. Lines began to form two hours before the time set for the meeting and twenty minutes after the doors were opened the building was crowded. Those who had failed to gain entrance were packed in solid phalanxes for a distance of four blocks back from the hall. The authorities expected trouble, and were prepared to meet it. Nearly 300 patrolmen and detectives were stationed at vantage points around the building. Police automobiles equipped with search lights and each carrying two patrolmen armed with rifles patrolled the streets in the neighborhood. Many agents of the Department of Justice and the secret service mingled with the crowds, while companies of Home Defense League worked with the regular police. Three regular army soldiers were stationed at each of the doors leading into the hall.

YOU WERE IN THOSE DAYS WHEN YOU GATHERED TOGETHER TO FIGHT.

You were in those days when you gathered together to fight, are now registering their names as evidence of this great idea, that in a democracy the duty to serve and the privilege to serve falls upon all alike? There is something very fine, my fellow-citizens, in the spirit of the volunteer, but deeper than the volunteer spirit is the spirit of obligation. There is not a man of us who must not hold himself ready to be summoned to the duty of supporting the great government under which we live. No really thoughtful and patriotic man is jealous of that obligation. No man who really understands the privilege and the dignity of being an American citizen quarrels for a moment with the idea that the Congress of the United States has the right to call upon whom it will to serve the nation. These solemn lines of young men going today all over the Union to the places of registration ought to be a signal to the world. To those who dare flout the dignity and honor and rights of the United States that all her manhood will flock to that standard under which we all delight to serve, and that he who challenges the rights and principles of the United States challenges the united strength and devotion of a nation. "There are not many things that one desires about war, my fellow-citizens, but you have come through war, you know how you have been chastened by it, and there comes a time when it is good for a nation to know that it must sacrifice, if need be, everything that it has to vindicate the principles which it professes. We have prospered with a sort of heedless and irresponsible prosperity. Now we are going to lay all our wealth, if necessary, and spend all our blood, if need be, to show that we were not accumulating that wealth selfishly, but were accumulating it for the service of mankind. Men all over the world have thought of the United States as a trading, money-getting people, whereas we, who have lived at home, know the ideals with which the hearts of this people have thrilled; we know the sober convictions which have lain at the basis of our life all the time, and we know the power and devotion which can be spent in heroic deeds for the service of those ideals that we have treasured. We have been allowed to become strong in the providence of God that our strength might be used to prove, not our selfishness, but our greatness, and if there is any ground for thankfulness in a day like this, I am thankful for the privilege of self-sacrifice, which is the only privilege that lends dignity to the human spirit. "And so it seems to me that we may regard this as a very happy day, because a day of reunion, a day of

SIGNS POINTING TO BIG OFFENSIVE ON BRITISH FRONT

Wyschaete marks the head of a sharp salient held by the Germans south of Ypres. This salient is roughly 3 miles deep and averages about the same extent in width. Its great importance is the fact that it is the only high land between the British and Lille. Once in the possession of the British their guns would command the broad plain between the plateau and Lille, a distance of about ten miles. In the field of politics, where events are moving rapidly, the opening of the Austrian Parliament has caused something akin to consternation in the German press, and the Pan-German organs especially are filled with gloomy predictions based on the fact that the German party is in a very marked minority in the Austrian Chamber of Deputies, while the fall of Count Tisza in Hungary has given renewed confidence to the Czech and other anti-German elements. In Russia, the situation remains confused by conflicting and sensational reports. Two events, however, have given fresh heart to well-wishers of the infant republic. The first is the nearing arrival in Petrograd of the American Commission, and second is the appointment of General Brusiloff as commander-in-chief of Russia's army. General Brusiloff enjoys the reputation of being not only a brilliant field commander, but a strong and self-reliant man. The Prussian junkers are still putting forward extravagant programs of annexations and indemnities. They have apparently abandoned the idea of a separate peace with Russia and are discussing the dismemberment of that country. Their boasts have been met with the passage by the French Chamber of Deputies, by an overwhelming majority, of a resolution declaring that peace can only be based on the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France and the evacuation and restoration of the regions invaded by Germany.

FRENCH AIRCRAFT GET IN GOOD WORK

Drop Bombs on Several German Bases—Acts of Retaliation Against Germans

(By Associated Press.) Paris, June 5.—The positions captured by the Germans northwest of Froidmont farm on the Aisne front were retaken yesterday by the French, the War Office announces. Violent artillery fighting occurred in the Champagne. In reprisal for bombardments by the enemy of the undefended village of Bar-le-Duc May 29 and 30 seven of our airplanes on Sunday night flew over the city of Treves (Rhenish Prussia), and threw down 1,000 kilograms of projectiles. On the same night, our squadrons rained projectiles on the enemy aviation grounds at Morange, Habsheim, Treceat and Sissonne. They dropped 16,500 kilograms (36,300 pounds) of bombs on the barracks which were damaged severely. Other squadrons bombarded the railway station at Luttes, in the Ardennes; the munitions depot at Warmeriville, north of Rheims; and railway stations and military establishments in the region of Laon. As a part of the operations carried out last night there should be mentioned bombardment of the airdrome at Colmar, the railway station at Thionville, where a fire was observed and the railway station at Bunsur-Meuse, where three explosions occurred. Yesterday our pilots brought down six German airplanes and compelled others to land in a damaged condition within the German lines. It is confirmed that two other German machines have been brought down, one on May 25, the other on June 3.
