Why your window shades show cracks and pinholes

It is a hidden weakness--this cause of cracks and pinholes--a certain great fault of the ordinary type of shade material. What it is--and how you can avoid it--is clearly revealed above.

Note, first, photograph No. 1--a sample of the ordinary shade material in unfinished state. Its surface has been lightly scraped with a knife. Here is exposed the great hidden weakness of the ordinary shade.

See what has happened! The scratching has loosened a quantity of chalk and clay filling, revealing the coarse muslin cloth beneath. Under the strains of daily usage, this "filling" falls out leaving a "mass" of cracks and pinholes.

Now, note photograph No. 2--a sample of BRENLIN UN-diers and sailors, while away to aid in securing employment when they returned and to see that all soldiers called to the colors are properly registered, so that they may vote during their absence; and to perform such other services as may be required.

This committee was organized in April, with Archdeacon Nease as chairman, and has a strong membership of business men. It was under the leadership of this committee that the War Relief Fund of the Red Cross was raised, in co-operation with the committees working for similar purposes.

The duties of this committee are almost identical with the Soldiers' and Sailors' Business Aid committees above outlined; and while it was first in the field and already has a fund for its work, it has agreed to work with the newer committee, so as to prevent confusion and to make the work more effective.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH RED CROSS.

A week big and rich for results was the past for the Wrightsville Beach Red Cross Unit, which is an auxiliary of the Wilmington Chapter. Twice during the week the members and a number of ladies who are visiting on the beach met at the chapel and labored industriously and skillfully. As a result the following work was turned out for the week:

- 42 dozen 4x4 gauze wipes.
- 5 dozen "T" bandages.
- 3 dozen abdominal binders.
- 2 dozen triangular bandages.
- 4 1-2 dozen 3-yd x 4 inch gauze rolls.
- 12 dozen 1-yd x 4 inch gauze rolls.
- 1 knitted muffler.

The unit will meet again on Tuesday and Friday of this week and all ladies interested in this noble work are asked to meet with the unit, so that the attendance may be large and more work done thereby.

The County Council of Defense, with Mr. McCormick as chairman, is the county unit of the National Council of Defense; and is charged with the important duty of starting or maintaining such agencies as may be necessary in the county to aid the nation in this crisis; but inasmuch as the agencies already organized seem adequate for our present needs, this committee feels that it can do its best service now by stimulating the coordination of the present activities; and it has been agreed that all the above agencies shall report through the Council of Defense; and that several problems shall be solved by conference and co-operation.

Each member of the Conservatory committee, County Council of Defense and Soldiers' and Sailors' Business Aid is authorized by a commission from is Excellency, T. W. Bickett, Governor of North Carolina.
