Linking the training camps, the aviation fields, the coast defenses and even the remotest points where the forces of the nation are gathered, with each other, and with the great bureaus at Washington, the nerve center of the military system and of the nation, is the Universal Bell Telephone System.

Immediately upon the declaration of war, the whole Bell System was placed unreservedly at the disposal of the Government. The government's telephone needs became at once of paramount importance, to which every private requirement was necessarily subordinated.

Since the war, the demand upon our service due to industrial and commercial activities, Lave been unprecedented, and are constantly increasing.

As our military establishment grows, the Government's need for telephone service will increase and must be met.

We ask you to co-operate with us by avoiding extravagant and wasteful use of the service, so that with the other resources of the country, our reserve may be conserved, and we may perform the full measure of service to the Government and to the Nation.

PERSHING SENDS MESSAGE OF HOPE

New York, Sept. 13.—Major General Pershing has sent a message to American soldiers through the New York Bible Society which was made public here. The message which will be inserted in the small khaki-covered Testaments given to the men, follows: "Aroused against a nation waging war in violation of the law, people are fighting in the cause of liberty.

"Hardships will be your tot, but trust in God will give you comfort. Temptation will befall you, but the teachings of our Saviour will give you strength. Let your valor as a soldier and your conduct as a man be an inspiration to your comrades and an honor to your country."

Do you want to laugh? Do you want two hours of clean, wholesome fun? Do you want to get rid of the cares and anxieties of life in an evening of enjoyable mirth? Then go and see "Twin Beds", the side-splitting comedy, when it comes to the Academy of Music, matinee and night, on next Saturday. If there is any misanthropic or cadaverous looking individual who does not leave it changed into a jolly, generous, healthy per son we want to see him. "Twin Beds" is said to be a sure cure for all the ills that flesh is heir to and to be as breezy and jolly an entertainment as has ever been seen here. "Twin Beds" ran for one solid year in New York, where it played to the largest gross receipts ever known in the history of the American theatre. Not content with that, it is now breaking all records in London, where the comedy has already reached its second year. "Twin Beds" will shortly be produced in Paris, Rome, Madrid, Petrograd, South America and South Africa. A. S. Stern and Company, under whose direction the tour is being given, will send a carefully selected company of fun makers for this engagement, prominent among whom are Josephine Saxton, Antoinette Rochte, Kathryn Mills, Marion Osgood, Hamilton Mott, Luis Alberni, Thomas H. Manning, Warren Hastings and The matince prices will be from 50 cents to $1. The night prices range from 50 cents to $1.50. Tickets will go on sale tomorrow morning at Elv-

The "Aviation Girls" presented their change of program yesterday at the Royal and were greeted at each performance with packed houses, and judging from the applause and laughter every one was more than pleased. "Turning the Tables" was the offering, and to say the least was "put over" in great shape. This deals with two families-living in the same house and being related to one another have their "ups" and "downs". Jack Russell and Miss Mae Kenna, playing the character roles, keep the fun going at full blast, while Ludlow Allen and Miss Hazel Coffman lend their share to help "keep the pot boiling." The musical numbers were new and up-todate, of those tuneful whistling kind, both by the chorus and the quartette. Mr. Deadrick again scored with his banjo and character songs. The costumes were bright and nifty and the chorus worked with that same "pep" and deserve special mention for their singing and dancing. As a whole, this show is good, even better than the bill that was put on for the first two days, and that is saying a lot.

This same bill will be repeated again today at matinee and night and Friday will bring another change by this splendid company.

WONDERFUL MISS MACLAREN. Many of our best authors have ound material for their works of ficion in the West. In the early days when the Western plains were thinly copulated, adventurous spirits found the subject of their search aplenty and some who entered the life of the plains found adventure without seeking it. In this expansive land, tragedies occurred which have never been brought to light and the sacrifices that some made for others might be placed on par with some that have gone down in history. "The Plow Girl', from the celebrated novel by Eleanor Gates, at the Grand Friday, will tell the story of these people and especially that of a girl who sacrificed everything in this life which meant happiness for her, for her sister whose mere existence was repulsive to her father who held the idea that women were meant only for slaves. Mary MacLaren has the role of Mary MacTavish, the daughter of the man who held this idea. Her younger sister Ruth was disliked by the father. A young army officer enters their lives and both girls fall in love with him. He loves the younger sister. The sacrifices which Mary, the older sister, make in order that he younger sister might have all the joys of which she was deprived and the human tragedy of it all form the basic plot for "The Plow Girl," one of the iramas which has been seen at the Grand theatre in many weeks. Miss MacLaren is that wonderful fifteen-year-old girl-the most beautiful in the movies-about whom sculptors, poets and painters are raving, and is a picture of rare beauty in this exquisite production.

THE GRAY GHOST. "The Gray Ghost," the master rogue whose activities were so brilliantly told in Arthur Somers Roche's story, "Loot," which attracted the special interest of millions of readers of The Saturday-Evening Post, will begin his screen existence for the Wilmnigton fans at the Bijou tomorrow, when the first episode of Universal's new serial will have its initial showing.

This is the first Saturday Evening Post serial ever visualized on the screen and, needless to remark, Universal is affording it a setting worthy of the interest its serial publication This is evidenced-by the case selected and the fact that Stuart Paton, who directed "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and "The Voice on the Wire," has been chosen to produce the film version of "Loot." The cast is a superior one, including Emory Johnson, Eddie Polo, Har-ry Carter and beautiful Priscilla Dean. Harry Carter, who is to portray the title role, has become famous as creator; of the unusual in criminal types. Surrounded as he is by a staff of international crooks, he is practically immune from police molestation. He governs his associates not by any occult power or hypnotic influence, but by his dominant personality. They blindly follow his bid-ding. Of fine address "The Gray Ghost" carries himself as a man of the world, leaving it to his minions to do the actual work of gathering the loot. He is the general, the strategist directing their efforts by word and sign. There is nothing of the other world about him-he is just flesh and blood-and works through means which are comprehensible to the spectator, yet while he is with them he is
