DO YOUR SHOPPING AND SHIP EARLY.

More of "Our Boys" will be away from Home and Family this year at Christmas time than ever before in our history.

On account of the enormous volume of War Materials and supplies, in addition to the usual large movement of Holiday shipments, it will require from now on every available baggage, mail and express car that can be put into service.

To help the situation and to insure Christmas packages reaching their destination on time and thus avoid disappointment the Public is earnestly requested to ship their Christmas packages (whether by mail or express) at least ten (10) days or two weeks before Christmas.

This action will not only be appreciated by the Government, but by the Railroads, whose already heavy burdens they are trying to carry with present ease and dispatch.

THEATRE

"Aloha Oe," "Mauna Ka Ala," "Maid of Honolulu," "Mai Pon Osu," "Honolulu Tomboy," as well as many of your American favorite musical numbers will be sure to please the patrons of the Academy of Music next Monday night when Bell's Famous Hawaiians open their engagement. This is the only Hawaiian company on tour presenting a full evening's program, carrying a large company and their own special scenery which is said to be most elaborate and which carries one to the far away land of palms and "kanaka" and from the many inquiries coming in to the company will, no doubt, be greeted by a packed house. The prices will be 50 cents, 75 cents, and $1. First four rows $1.50. (War Tax Extra) Tickets will go on sale Saturday morning at Elvington's.

VERSATILE VIOLA DANA.

Viola Dana, the charming little Metro star, is called upon to play the violin in "The Girl Without a Soul," the five-act screen production written and directed by John H. Collins, to be seen at the Grand theatre on tomorrow. When B. A. Rolfe, who presents the production, discovered this he asked Miss Dana to visit a violin instructor and learn the correct use of the bow so that her work upon the screen would appear natural. Miss Dana smiled, and assented.

A few days later, Mr. Rolfe sitting in his "sanctum sanctorum" at the Metro studio, was delighted to hear the strains of the Berceuse from "Josephine," and hurried out to discover what musician had been engaged to assist Miss Dana. He found the little star herself, perched upon a table, playing, intent upon her music. To the big manager's surprise at her sudden facility on the violin, Miss Dana admitted that she began her study of that instrument at the age of five. As a child she often appeared at public recitals, giving difficult numbers. In the new Metro wonderplay the star appears as twin daughters, Unity and Priscilla Beaumont. It is Priscilla who is the violinist.

A BIG HIT, COMING.

The Grand Theatre is due to put over the biggest hit of its history next Monday and Tuesday in presenting as the third great Goldwyn production, the most famous beauty of the American stage, Maxine Elliott, in the great novel written by Irvin S. Cobb, "Fighting Odds," a powerful drama of a beautiful wife's devotion.

In presenting Maxine Elliott to Grand audiences, they are being offered a personality with an almost unparalleled record. On the screen Maxine Elliott has the beauty of youth—the beauty that carried her fame around the world. She acts with vigor and distinction and undisputed power.

As a screen actress, the fourteen daily newspapers of Greater New York without a single exception, say: "She is lovelier than ever before. She is still the glorious, popular and irresistible Maxine."

Knowing that the Grand will play to capacity crowds for this, the greatest Goldwyn production yet, not excepting "Polly of the Circus," the Grand management has decided to put this production on at the regular ten and fifteen cents admission price. If they can play this to capacity audiences at these prices, it will no doubt gain more friends for the theatre than any other single production ever shown, and if capacity audiences pay these prices, the result financially will enable the management to present some of the biggest attractions without increasing prices.

GERMANS REWRITE SOLDIERS MAIL

Alsace-Lorraine Families Receive Doctored Letters From the Front

(By Henry Wood, United Press Staff Correspondent)

With the French Armies, Nov. 1.—(By Mail).—Germany's domination of the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine has now become so uncertain that they are no longer allowed to receive letters from the male members of the families serving on the various German fronts. This curious state of affairs has just been discovered by the finding of orders establishing the new system of government letter transmission for the two provinces.

Germany's precautions are presumably dictated by fear that the soldiers in her armies from Alsace and Lorraine, might communicate to their families military or other useful information, and that this in turn might be communicated by the inhabitants of the two provinces to the French across the border.

All letters from German soldiers of Alsatian or Lorraine origin must now pass through a newly created office at Stuttgart. There government employees make extracts of the letters, and it is these extracts that the families of the soldiers in Alsace-Lorraine actually receive. The entire system is explained in the following "extract" that has just come into the hands of the French military authorities:

"Stuttgart, October 12, 1917. "As recent measures prohibit the sending into the occupied portions of Upper Alsace and Lorraine letters coming from soldiers in the field, I am communicating you below the analysis of a letter from your husband, Monsieur Alphonse A. . . . whose address we are holding here:

"I hope you are always in good health as I am, but recently I have only heard from you rarely, although I write you every two weeks.

"Is the harvest good at home this year? Here with us we have had nothing like it for the past 30 years. It will give us plenty to eat for a long time to come. Potatoes and fruits are both in most unusual quantities. I am eating enormous quantities of both, but naturally not to the point where it makes me sick as do others here who verily eat too much.

"I hope that in your prayers you will not forget me, as I do not forget you, so that when we meet again we can without fear look each other in the eyes to the depth of our souls.

"ALPHONSE . . . . ."
