

SOCIETY

SONG OF THE SOCKS.

With fingers skilled and swift, Eyes full of Love's own light, The women are sitting in every town Knitting far into the night.

Knit-Knit-Knit—
One foot the cradle rocks, Eyes must be heavy and fingers stiff Daddy MUST have his socks.

Knit-Knit-Knit—
The maiden sits alone, Her thoughts afar in the fields of France,
But of moments she wastes not one,
As she bends over her tender task She weaves One golden hair, It may be a charm for her soldier lad,
When her love gift he may wear.

Knit-Knit-Knit—
Widowed mother at home, Her only son, the hope of her age,
To fight for the right has gone,
A tear drops on her work,
A prayer is breathed on high, God grant it be heard when the shrapnel screams,
And danger her boy draws nigh.

Knit-Knit-Knit—
Her brother's a boy in blue; What loyal sailors have always done She knows that he will do:
So in dark midnight hours She knits while others sleep;
And his comrades and he, on the wild North Sea,
Our shores in safety keep.

Knit-Knit-Knit—
An army of women too, Who have none of their own to give to fight, But whose hearts are staunch and true,
They are eager to help the cause,
That in hour of victory fair;
That joyous hour of the boy's return;
The triumph they may share.

O men with sisters dear;
O men with mothers and wives; We'll work for you till our fingers fall,
You're giving for us your lives;
And perhaps when the victory's won,
'Twill be said on that great glad day, "Twas the women who won the fight for us"

For while we knit we pray,

FOURTH HEATLESS MONDAY OBSERVED

New York, Feb. 12.—While the fourth heatless Monday in New York generally was entered as strictly as its predecessors, the fuel administrators granted exemption to the entire cloak and suit industry, thus permitting 90,000 workers, mostly women and children, to continue work.

Close watch for violations of the order was maintained by police and volunteers, barber shops and saloons, which were the chief offenders last week, coming in for special scrutiny.

With the gradual breaking up of the ice blockade in the harbor, movement of anthracite coal from tidewater has shown considerable improvement in the last 24 hours, the administrators reported. About 25,000 tons were received yesterday and with the employment of additional labor today, administrators were hopeful of doubling the amount before night.

UKRANIA TO GET PART OF GALICIA

London, Feb. 11.—Information which is apparently authoritative, has been received in Stockholm, according to the Times' correspondent there, that the peace terms agreed to by the Powers with Ukraine provide for granting to Ukraine a considerable part of Eastern Galicia whether in resorption or immediate possession is not clear. The Rada also is to receive immediately a large loan to be secured by mineral lands for the development of which full facilities are to be granted to the Central Powers.

Discuss Economic Questions.
Amsterdam, Feb. 12.—The Berlin twenty-second century B. C., led diers on foot and 200,000 mounted.

Wash That Itch Away

There is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used the simple wash D. D. D. and did not feel immediately that wonderfully cool sensation that comes when the eczema is taken away. This soothing wash penetrates the pores, gives instant relief from the most distressing skin diseases.

Some Cannot See Nor Can They Hear
The Light of Reason Cannot Penetrate the Minds of This Class

Great men never hold their opinions so rigidly fixed that they cannot be changed; their minds are always open and subject to influence by truth and reason. People who will not let the light of reason enter their minds are generally biased in their views and are guided by prejudice.

It is a habit among men, in their self exalted wisdom, to charge the gentler sex with being one sided in their views and guided by prejudice.
This is not true, for there are many women who can listen to evidence, for and against, and arrive at a correct conclusion just as well as any man.

Mrs. L. A. Doggett, wife of a well known contractor and painter, living at 515 W. Morgan St., Raleigh, is a woman who laid aside a preconceived opinion and told here what she gained by doing so:

"I was a sufferer from stomach trouble for nearly a year. My appetite was good, but if I gratified it I was sure to be miserable with all of the ills arising from indigestion, swelling from excess gas and, sometimes, intense pain. I slept very poorly, was extremely nervous and could hardly bear for anyone to walk across the floor. I began the day more tired than when I went to bed and I worried over my house work until it was done.

"I continued to grow worse and my husband, who had heard of the good results of Peplac here in Raleigh, persuaded me to try a bottle. I never had any faith in advertised medicines, but I set aside my prejudice and am glad that I did, for the third or fourth day the disagreeable symptoms began to disappear. Now, at the beginning of my second bottle, I eat any and every thing, with no fear of the after effects. I sleep soundly, wake up completely refreshed and my work is done before I realize it. I gladly speak up for Peplac and feel that it is my duty to put others on the right track."

Mrs. Doggett entertained a prejudice against advertised medicines as, perhaps, others have done, but she was broad minded enough to listen to reason and truth. She knew that there must be merit in a remedy that was doing such marvellous work as Peplac was accomplishing right in her home city, and Peplac proved that it would do as much for her as it had for others.

This great restorative and systemic tonic is being sold at the R. R. Bellamy drug store and by all leading

WITH THE RECORDER Little of Interest to Monday's Session Of Court

There was little of interest to come before Recorder George Harris at the Monday morning session of his court, all defendants with one exception being either ladies or gentlemen of color. None of those up were charged with offenses of a heinous nature although one girl was in court with a broken nose, having stopped a brick with that part of her face, according to her testimony. The defendant in this action was identified and pointed out by her attorney through the aid of a pair of "amber" ear rings.

George Johnson, charged with violation of the prohibition law scored a victory over the solicitor, the State being unable to prove his guilt and he was discharged. The case charging Francis Rhody with assault and battery, was continued until Tuesday.
Similar action was taken in the case charging Lucille Garrison, white with a like offense Juanita Weeks, the girl with the broken nose, was arranged on a charge of vagrancy but her case was continued until Tuesday.

Case against James Brown, charged with violating the prohibition law, was continued until Tuesday. Same battery was continued until Tuesday.
Richard Brown with vagrancy.

Lena Shepard and Gusta Brown were up on a charge of assault. Nolpros was taken as to Shepard and action against Brown continued until Tuesday. Polly Wright was adjudged not guilty of an assault and case charging Annie King with like offense was continued until Tuesday.

nate of soda will restore the color to turquoises.

Don't Be Bald

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous on Thin Spots.

If your hair is falling out don't wait another day but get from your druggist a package of Parisian sage, the really efficient hair invigorator. Don't say—"It's the same old story—I have heard it before," but try a bottle without risking a penny.

Parisian sage is guaranteed to grow hair, to stop falling hair, cure dandruff and scalp itch, or money refunded. It's a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs. There is nothing better.

Parisian sage is in great demand by discriminating women because it is delicately perfumed, not sticky or greasy, and makes the hair soft, lustrous, and seem twice as heavy and attractive.

If you want to save your hair and beautify it by all means use Parisian sage—you will not be disappointed. R.
R. Bellamy will supply you and guarantee money refunded if not satisfied.

is increasing every day and if it were not for the terrible conflict across the waters, we

The FOWLER CULTIVATOR Makes More Bread for The Nation

Directions for Operating Fig. 1
In this form the Fowler is used after plowing and harrowing to prepare a seed bed. All the fine soil slips between the upper and lower blades, forming a seed bed which is a perfect mulch. All clods, trash or stones, unable to pass through the narrow space between the upper and lower blades, slide along to the ends of the blades and are left in the middles between the rows. In doing this the upper blades move just above the surface of the ground and act like fenders. No other cultivator will remove from the seed bed all clods, stones and trash and leave a perfectly level surface consisting only of fine pulverized soil, in which to plant the seed. The Power is also used in this form, when run deep, to throw up a raised seed bed, completing the bed at one trip through.

Directions for Operating Fig. 2
With the Plow Foot in the center removed the Fowler is used for early cultivation astride the row; barring off and cultivating both sides of the row at one trip through. By the action of the upper Blades only fine pulverized soil is left on either side of the growing plant. All grass and weeds are cut off and left on the surface to die. The Fowler leaves a perfectly level surface behind it, entirely free from little furrows which would cause washing during heavy rains. In a dry season the fine dust mulch made by this Cultivator conserves the moisture and plant food and yet offers an ideal surface for receiving even the slightest rainfall.
This work astride the row can be done with one horse by hitching to the side clevis.

Directions for Operating Fig. 3 When plants become too large for cultivating astride the row a short Blade is attached on the right to throw the fine mulch prepared by previous cultivations aside the row nothing is now left within reach of the long Blade on the left between the rows. Note that the upper Blades are taken off for this work. As all trash and clods have been removed from the proximity of the plants by the previous cultiva-tions astride the row nothing is now left within reach of the short Blade but a fine dust mulch which is thrown to the roots. The clods and trash previously thrown to the middles now slip over the Blade without leaving their place in the center between the rows.

For late cultivation, to keep down the final growth of weeds and vines and to break the hard crust forming after rains, only the long lower Blades are used.
These Blades move parallel to and above the roots of the crop, which toward maturity come close to the surface. The Cultivator Blades do not injure these roots although completely destroying all grass, weeds and vines. Other cultivators run across the crop roots and deep enough to destroy many of them, making late cultivation with such tools impossible. When crop roots are damaged the energy of the plant is devoted to restoring such roots before further developing either stalk or fruit. It is late cultivation which gives that final complete maturity to the crop so necessary to a maximum yield.

A Strong Guaranty With Each Fowler—It Will Do More Work and Better Than Any Other

Unless otherwise specified the Fowler is shipped with 32-inch Blades which, by means of the expanding lever, can be made to cut various widths of from 20 to 40 inches.
The extra Short Blade shown in Fig. 3 is also shipped with every Cultivator. Longer or shorter Blades covering any width from 15 inches to 45 inches will be furnished if preferred.

Price $12.00
