

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS HAVE RIGHT OF WAY

Governor Bickett Calls on People to Make Monthly Investments

(Special to The Dispatch).—Winston-Salem, March 20.—That war savings stamps must have right of way is the message contained in Governor Bickett's recent proclamation calling on every person in the State to devote all the time and all the energy he can spare from his daily business to the War Savings Stamp Campaign from now until the sixth day of April, when the campaign for the sale of the Third Liberty Loan bond begins.

Not that war savings stamps be given right of way only, but that all local and district officials and committees connected with this campaign redouble their efforts during this time and go forward with untiring zeal, is a further request of Governor Bickett. He says: "These two weeks are the critical period of the campaign. If everybody will pull together to secure every pledge to make a monthly investment in these stamps from now until the end of the year, we will be able to carry this movement 'over the top.' The work of these two weeks will determine its success or failure."

Governor Bickett believes the War Savings Campaign will mean more to the people of the State than merely lending the government their money—that the best of it will be the habits of thrift and saving inculcated in the lives of the people. He says:

"The value of this War Savings Campaign to the government in the winning of the war and to the people in training them to lay aside a working capital for use after the war cannot be over-estimated. I earnestly hope that all war workers will, between now and the sixth day of April, lay aside the particular work in which they are engaged and unite in giving a grand impetus to the War Savings Campaign. For three weeks let the stamps and certificates have the right of way."

NEW YORK LETTER

(By O. O. McIntyre)

Special Correspondent The Dispatch. New York, March 19.—Any hold which the junk business may have had on Julius Blumberg, of Harlem, has been lessened materially when he was robbed this week for the fifth time in two months. Persons whom he mistook for customers dropped in during the afternoon and, as usual, tapped him upon the head and removed all trinkets and currency from his person.

The last time was $20 and a gold pin, and, as Mr. Blumberg explained to the ever-patient police, it is the last $20 or gold pin with which he ever will be found. The first time the police saw of Blumberg was on January 1, when he dropped into a police station to say that he had been in business just eight hours and had been robbed only once.

He was congratulated and left a package of language for the police to think over at their leisure. Fully ten days elapsed before he was back, wearing the rim of a derby hat after

THIS VILE MALADY SPREADS THROUGHOUT ENTIRE SYSTEM

Starting in the Nose or Throat it Quickly Moves on to the Stomach, and by Impairing or Destroying the Usefulness of That Organ it Soon Undermines the Health of its Victim.

There is nothing to which the human body is subject that is more far-reaching in its effect than catarrh, or that can make life more miserable for its victim. That is the way L. M. Mills, well known proprietor of a barber shop at 851 Tryon St., Raleigh, regards catarrh, and this is his account of his experience with it:

"For the last three or four years I have suffered with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels, which made life one of misery for me. I could not smell or taste anything and I experienced all of the torments of indigestion. I read of the remarkable cures being made by Peplac and am certainly glad that I gave it a trial, for the first dose put me in fine shape. Instead of waking up in the morning feeling miserable all over, I now whistle. My head is clear; the dull, heavy headaches are gone, I have a good appetite and enjoy my meals. I would not take anything for the good that Peplac has done me."

Peplac is valuable in the treatment of catarrh because it cleans out the alimentary tract, restores the stomach to working order and tones up the entire system, and when this is done all traces of catarrh quickly disappear.

Peplac is sold and recommended at R. R. Bellamy drug store, and by all leading drug stores in Wilmington and vicinity.—Adv.

OH! FOR RELIEF FROM FLAMING SKIN DISEASES

Terrifying Itching Causes Continuous Torture

Do you sometimes feel like you will scream if you do not get relief from the tormenting and terrifying itching and irritating burning that makes you feel like your very skin is ablaze?

Possibly your disorder has not reached the torturing stage as yet, but there are thousands of victims of skin diseases that know too well the well nigh unendurable pain that comes from eruptions, irritations, pimples, boils, ulcers, eczema, psoriasis, carbuncles and the numerous other forms of torment that attack the delicate tissues of the skin.

The only proper method of treatment for any disease, is a remedy that will reach its source, that will remove its cause, and not simply palliate its symptoms. Every form of skin ailment comes from a colony of millions upon millions of tiny disease germs that infest the blood. Naturally, then, these germs must be eradicated from the blood before a cure can be expected.

the manner of a necklace. He explained that persons unknown to him had stepped in and bought two axes, with which they petted him once upon the forehead, removing all valuables conveyed by him at that time.

Since then the police have kept a close watch upon the Blumberg

You know well enough that you cannot reach the blood by applying lotions, ointments, salves, washes and other local applications to the surface of the skin. So when you use such treatment for your tormenting skin diseases, the most you can expect is a temporary discontinuance of the pain, which promptly returns, and keeps you constantly applying the local remedies, making no progress whatever toward permanently ridding yourself of the disease.

Why longer continue such makeshift treatment? Go to your druggstore today and get a bottle of S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier, and begin a treatment that will prove satisfactory, as it has to thousands of others who were afflicted just as you have been. S. S. S. has been used for more than fifty years, so that you are not experimenting when you take it. It will promptly cleanse the blood of every impurity, and rout out entirely every trace of disease germs.

Don't continue to suffer, but begin taking S. S. S. today, and write our head physician, who will give you full instructions about your own case. Address Medical Director, 404 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

junk shop, with the result that he has only been robbed three times in six weeks. But even with this obvious improvement in the tempo of the robberies Mr. Blumberg expressed himself as dissatisfied in a voice which rattled windows in Newark. He explained that his business address from this time on will be at almost any point in America other than Harlem. It got so that every time a customer walked or staggered into his shop he began looking for a soft place to fall. He found it interfered with his salesmanship.

The kids are playing marbles in New York and the river's soft with haze, and in the cafe window is displayed the bock beer sign, and the season seems much pleasanter than spring in other days, for we're yet to hear a hurdy-gurdy wheeze "Die Wacht Am Rhein." The grind organ man with his monkey has gone to the munition factory, too.

At the premier of "Le Coq d'Or," at the Metropolitan, the Bolshevik was represented. They came over from the East Side. Most of them wore smocks. Something new for the Metropolitan. A contrast from ropes of pearls and low cut gowns. Oscar Hammerstein was there, too. He wore his high hat. It was the first time he had been in the Metropolitan since his break with the directors. Jack Pickford was there, too. Wore a new kind of dinner coat. Trimmed in brown velvet. Clara Tice, the artist, was also there. She sketched Caruso, and he sketched her. A man in a box gave each $500 for the drawings. They gave the checks to a war charity. New stuff. These quick and short sentences. Dictated the notes to a stenographer. She wrote it out. How do you like it? Neither do I.

The dinner to Bill Snyder, retiring keeper of the Central Park zoo, this week will be one of the biggest affairs ever given in New York. Bill has been on the job 30 years. He has been clawed by wild owls, bitten by Bengalese tigers, hurled high in the air by elephants, sat upon by a polar bear, his ear pierced by a snapping turtle and tramped upon by a bison. Yet he lives. Children love him and so do grown-ups. The biggest men in the city will sit at the banquet board. Among them are Nathan Straus, Henry L. Doherty, Arthur Williams, Paul Jones, Don Seitz, Mayor Hylan, W. R. Hearst, Governor Whitman and many others.

The dinner was the suggestion of the New York correspondent of a string of papers. No one else had thought of it. The correspondent suggested it to Snyder. He agreed on one condition and that was that no ladies were to be present. Who was the correspondent? (Business of blushing.)

MENINGITIS SITUATION

Weekly Reports Show Little Change in a Month

Columbia, S. C., March 20.—According to the statement of the health officials the meningitis situation in the State seems practically the same as that of a month ago. Approximately the same number of cases are reported from the State each week, as is shown by the weekly bulletins sent by Dr. J. Adams Hayne, to Surgeon General Blue, U. S. A. The spread of the disease in the city seems abated, as only two cases have been reported the past week, the last being that of John Daniels, Jr., in the rear of 1232 Blossom street, on March 14.

The State at large has for some time past reported on an average of a little over a dozen cases each week, and last week's report showed that 15 cases had developed in the State, in addition to four cases of a suspicious nature. The may of the State whereon the cases are recorded by pins, by the secretary of the State board of health, is very thickly dotted and show very little difference between the status now and when the disease first began in the State.

Money for Lexington

Lexington, S. C., March 20.—Supervisor C. E. Corley and County Commissioners W. E. Lorick and S. Rufus Smith have been in Lexington paying the various claims held against the county. This is the first time the county has paid off since July 1, 1917, and a considerable amount of claims had accumulated. Recently the county board received bids for a loan of $50,000 to be made to the county and the loan was awarded the Bank of Swanesa at a rate of 4 1/2 per cent, the lowest rate of interest at which the county has ever borrowed money. A large part of this money will be used for remodeling the court house work on which has already begun and which it is hoped will be finished in the course of a few months.

Rate Hearing Today

Columbia, S. C., March 20.—The South Carolina railroad commission has ordered a hearing for today upon petition of citizens of Aiken for a readjustment of the 85-cent zone created by the Augusta-Aiken Electric Railway company, following the raising of the fare from Augusta to Aiken to 40 cents. There is a great deal of interest in the matter in Aiken and the Horse Creek valley, through which the line of the railway runs.

Machinists Protest

Charleston, March 20.—Acting on a semi-official report that the first-class machinists of the Norfolk yard are to receive 72 1/2 cents an hour in the new wage scale planned for the navy yard employees, a meeting of the local yard machinists was held Sunday and several members sent to Washington as delegates to enter an official protest. The action of the local machinists is based on "advance information" that the Charleston men are to get 65 cents while the Norfolk yard men are to get 72 1/2 cents an hour for the same work.

On Chester's Board

Columbia, S. C., March 20.—Governor Manning has appointed B. T. Byers, a member of the board of assessors for Chester township, Chester county, vice S. C. Coker, declined.

Greenville Man Promoted

Columbia, S. C., March 20.—News has been received in Columbia of the promotion at Camp Zachary Taylor of Col. T. Q. Donaldson to the rank of brigadier general. Brigadier General Donaldson is a native of this State, having been born in Greenville, and is the ranking officer from South Carolina in the new National Army. He was in the inspector general's department when the promotion was granted last week.

In pastiming with the Cincinnati Reds this season Lee Magee will be one of the very few big leaguers playing in their own home town.

The Wall street district, according to an estimate made by the Federal Revenue Collector William Wards, will alone contribute $1 billion in taxes.

STATE RESTS IN THE PITTS' TRIAL

Morganton, N. C., March 20.—The State late yesterday completed its case in the trial of Aaron and Garfield Hennessee charged with killing Dr. L. M. Mills at Glen Alpine, Feb. 17, 1917, and the defense introduced a number of witnesses before Judge J. M. Gorman court. A number of witnesses will be introduced today.

The State introduced a dozen or more witnesses, some of whom testified that the defendants were at the Glen Alpine station, each with a pistol when the train arrived from Morganton, which Dr. Hennessee had just stepped when shot dead. The defense presented one witness who testified that a man with two pistols got off the same train behind Dr. Hennessee.

Fred Fulton is now cleaning up the heavyweights like Ty Cobb cleans up the bases. A short time back the Minnesota Giant seemed the "jinx" good with bouts that ended with a foul blow or had other endings equally unsatisfactory.

The FOWLER CULTIVATOR Makes More Bread for The Nation

Directions for Operating Fig. 1
In this form the Fowler is used after plowing and harrowing to prepare a seed bed. All the fine soil slips between the upper and lower blades, forming a seed bed which is a perfect mulch. All clods, trash or stones, unable to pass through the narrow space between the upper and lower blades, slide along to the ends of the blades and are left in the middles between the rows. In doing this the upper blades move just above the surface of the ground and act like tinders. No other cultivator will remove from the seed bed all clods, stones and trash and leave a perfectly level surface consisting only of fine pulverized soil, in which to plant the seed. The Fowler is also used in this form, when run deep, to throw up a raised seed bed, completing the bed at one trip through.

Directions for Operating Fig. 3
When plants become too large for cultivating astride the row a short Blade is attached on the right to throw the fine mulch prepared by previous cultivations to the roots of the growing plant. In this case the Plow Foot is replaced and the long Blade on the left destroys all weeds and further pulverizes the soil between the rows. Note that the upper Blades are taken off for this work. As all trash and clods have been removed from the proximity of the plants by the previous cultivations astride the row nothing is now left within reach of the short Blade but a fine dust mulch which is thrown to the roots. The clods and trash previously thrown to the middles now slip over the Blade without leaving their place in the center between the rows.

Directions for Operating Fig. 4
For late cultivation, to keep down the final growth of weeds and vines and to break the hard crust forming after rains, only the long lower Blades are used. These Blades move parallel to and above the roots of the crop, which toward maturity come close to the surface. The Cultivator Blades do not injure these roots although completely destroying all grass, weeds and vines. Other cultivators run across the crop roots and deep enough to destroy many of them, making late cultivation with such tools impossible. When crop roots are damaged the energy of the plant is devoted to restoring such roots before further developing either stalk or fruit. It is late cultivation which gives that final complete maturity to the crop so necessary to a maximum yield.
