Our Italian Shipment.
Monday we start on packages for our Italian shipment and hope to have all hands out to get the work going. We shall begin to make pneumonia jackets for this shipment and probably roll some bandages, so come along and get back to our old work.

The Collection.
We took in $142. Of this about $5 came from Winter Park and $5.33 from the high school. The block messengers did not show up as well as usual. We wish they would all be as diligent as possible. Cloth goes up all the time and is double what it was. We need all the money we can get.

The Telephone.
The telephone is number 760-J. It is paid for privately and no patriotic pennies go into this expense.
Needs.
We ask for kid gloves for leather caps for aviators, for woolen scraps of all kinds and colors, for old woolen blankets and undershirts.

CAPTURED AN ALLIGATOR.

Left at North Ninth Street Residence By His Captor.
An alligator, found and taken by Charles Carroll, colored, between Market and Princess streets on Ninth, has been left at No. 5 North Ninth street, and anyone wishing to take a look at the saurian will be given the privilege if they call at the address mentioned. The reptile was about a foot in length and of a nasty disposition, according to Carroll.

Women nurses employed by the Federal government in the military hospitals during the Civil War were paid $12 a month and given their food.

"BAB'S DIARY"

Those who saw Marguerite Clark in her famous Paramount picture, "Miss George Washington," will be reminded of it by "Bab's Diary," the charming story by Mary Roberts Rinehart of Bab, the "Sub-Dob," in the clever manner in which Miss Clark has portrayed the role of Bab, who, like "Miss George Washington," makes the discovery that we weave a "tangled web" indeed when first we practice to deceive. "Bab" is a fascinating girl with a vivid imagination and much surplus energy—which makes it hard for her family, but adds to the charm of a diary whose every page abounds in adventure and the real kind of farce. "Bab's Diary" will appear on next Friday and Saturday at the Grand.

"BLUE JEANS."
"Blue Jeans," the seven-reel Metro production in which Viola Dana stars, is a regular country life story replete with all the characters familiar to the farm and to the small suburban village. It carries with it the atmosphere of David Harum with the quaint Hoosier speech immortalized in the titles. The picture brings out the tones of the entire keyboard of human nature from the ridiculous to the sublime.

"Blue Jeans" gives the charming little star, Viola Dana, the greatest opportunity of her career. June, the heroine, proceeds from the care-free joy of a child to the tragic events of mature womanhood. June is a waif. Perry Bascom, a young politician, falls in love with her and they are secretly married. Then Sue Eudaly, an adventuress, comes and claims that she is his wife, and June is unable to prove the statement a lie. Sue joins forces with Ben Boone, Perry's political rival, and when fair means fail they try foul ones, and attempt to kill Perry. How plucky little June saves him from the jaws of death, and how the shadow is lifted from her good name, are dramatic moments in this powerful production.
